powerful and fertile imagination to rekindle an ancient Akan myth and deliberately sets it ablaze Woven into the historic frame of the founding of the Baoule people by Queen Abraha Pokou in 18th Century Cote d Ivoire Tadjou explores not only the most intimate of relationships that between mother and child but also the Trans Atlantic Slave Trade Ultimately Tadjou invites us to reflect on the bloody ethnic wars that engulfed West Africa at the end of the 20th century Translation in French and Francophone Literature and Film James T. Day, 2009 This volume collects papers presented at the annual French Literature Conference sponsored by the Department of Languages Literatures and Cultures of the University of South Carolina Far from My Father Véronique Tadjou, 2014-04-07 To attain some sort of universal value V ronique Tadjou has said a piece of work has to go deep into the particular in order to reveal our shared humanity In Far from My Father the latest novel from this internationally acclaimed author a woman returns to the C te d Ivoire after her father s death She confronts not only unresolved family issues that she had left behind but also questions about her own identity that arise amidst the tensions between traditional and modern worlds The drama that unfolds tells us much about the evolving role of women the legacy of polygamy and the economic challenges of daily life in Abidjan On a more autobiographical level the author depicts a daughter s efforts to come to terms with what she knew and did not know about her father Set against the backdrop of civil strife that has wracked the C te d Ivoire since the turn of the century this story shows Tadjou s remarkable ability to inhabit a character s inner world and emotional landscape while creating a narrative of great historic and cultural dimensions CARAF Books Caribbean and African Literature Translated from the French Autofiction Antonia

Wimbush, 2021 This book examines themes of exile mobility and identity in contemporary autofictional narratives written in French by women writers from across the francophone world It reads exile in light of both gender and literary genre arguing that autofiction gives women the space to reconfigure their exile on their own terms Thresholds: A 'Complete' Table of the Borrowings in Yambo Ouologuem's Le Devoir de violence, and Why They Matter Christopher L. Miller, 2024-06-19 Recent research has revealed that the borrowings in Yambo Ouologuem s epochal novel Le Devoir de violence Bound to Violence are far more extensive than was previously thought Accused of plagiarism Ouologuem quit the Parisian literary world and returned to a definitive silence in Mali This book attempts to provide both a complete table of the borrowings in Le Devoir de Violence and a new theory of their meaning Miller dispels the myth that the borrowings are minor negligible or criminal he argues that they are artful thresholds openings to a profound reconsideration of African history Ouologuem set up this system of borrowings as a way to invite readers down unexpected paths of meaning The borrowings are not mere stunts they are inseparable from Ouologuem's radical revision of African history and his rejection of Negritude. The table of borrowings in part three of this book will serve as a resource for readers and scholars.

Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment Odile Cazenave, Patricia-Pia Célérier, 2011-02-02 By looking at engaged literature from the recent past when the francophone African writer was implicitly seen as imparted with a mission to the present when such authors usually aspire to be acknowledged primarily for their work as writers Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment addresses the current processes of canonization in contemporary francophone African literature. Odile Cazenave and Patricia Célérier argue that aesthetic as well as political issues are now at the forefront of debates about the African literary canon as writers and critics increasingly acknowledge the ideology of form. Working across genres but focusing on the novel the authors take up the question of renewed forms of commitment in this literature. Their selected writers range from Mongo Beti, Ousmane Sembène and Aminata Sow Fall to Boubacar Boris Diop, Vronique Tadjo, Alain Mabankou and L'onora Miano among others.

Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women's history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies, social customs, religions and historical situations. Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers. It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher. Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women's daily work in their family plot. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on individual African women in history, politics, religion and the arts, on important events, organizations and publications and on topics important to women in general: marriage, fertility, employment and to African women in particular: market, women, child marriage, queen mothers. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa.

Mediating Violence from Africa George MacLeod, 2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non-African Francophone authors, filmmakers, editors and scholars have packaged, interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post-Cold War Francophone Africa. This violence, much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras, included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union's castoff Kalashnikov rifles, the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda. Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives, cinematic representations of Islamist militants, genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship, George S. MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers, as well as their editors and scholarly critics, negotiate the aesthetic, political, cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible. MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post-Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post-1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa's place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape

Francophone African Narratives and the Anglo-American Book Market Vivan Steemers, 2021-03-01 In recent years the material circumstances governing the production of African literature have been analyzed from a variety of angles This study goes one step further by charting the trajectories of a corpus of francophone African sub Saharan narratives subsequently translated into English It examines the role of various institutional agents and agencies publishers preface writers critics translators and literary award committees involved in the value making process that accrues visibility to these texts that eventually reach the Anglo American book market The author evinces that over time different types of publishers dominated both within the original publishing space as in the foreign literary field contingent on their specific mission be it commercial ideological or educational as well as on socioeconomic and political circumstances The study addresses the influence of the editorial paratextual framing pandering to specific Western readerships the potential interventionist function of the translator and the consecrating mechanisms of literary and translation awards affecting both gender and minority representation Drawing on the work by key sociologists and translation theorists the author uses an innovative interdisciplinary methodology to analyze the corpus narratives

Daddieh, 2016-02-09 Cote d'Ivoire remains one of the most intriguing countries in sub Saharan Africa It appeared well on its way to becoming a model of development under its single political party and charismatic founding father Felix Houphou t Boigny when it fell on hard economic times in the 1980s Poor management of the socio economic challenges by Houphou t Boigny's successors produced disastrous political consequences including unprecedented political violence the first ever successful military coup and two civil wars culminating in former President Laurent Gbagbo being sent to the International Criminal Court ICC in The Hague to stand trial for war crimes This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Cote d'Ivoire The Ivory Coast contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Cote d'Ivoire

Les représentations hybrides de la mort dans le roman africain francophone Bomaud Hoffmann, 2014-11-01

Cette présente étude s'intéresse aux représentations de la mort dans le roman africain francophone, notamment aux symboles, aux espaces, aux personnages ou encore aux formes de la mort. Contrairement à d'autres travaux, cet ouvrage met en évidence non seulement l'influence de la culture nigro-africaine et occidentale, mais aussi celle de la culture islamique. De même, il s'agit d'une analyse synchronique et diachronique qui se concentre sur le caractère hybride des représentations de la mort et qui prend aussi en considération leur évolution dans le roman africain francophone. Dans ce contexte, ce travail propose de répondre à plusieurs questions : D'une part, comment les romanciers africains utilisent-ils les représentations de la mort nigro-africaines, occidentales et/ou islamiques ? Comment les réactualisent-ils ? Les romancières africaines développent-elles des représentations de la mort spécifiques par rapport à leurs collègues masculins ? D'autre part, existe-t-il diverses façons de représenter la mort selon les générations auxquelles appartiennent les auteurs africains ? Y a-t-il une évolution depuis la première génération de prosateurs ou faut-il, au contraire, reconnaître des similitudes chez l'ensemble des écrivains africains ?
