Re-Inventing the Media Graeme Turner, 2015-08-27 Re Inventing the Media provides a highly original re thinking of media studies for the contemporary post broadcast post analogue and post mass media era While media and cultural studies has made much of the changes to the media landscape that have come from digital technologies these constitute only part of the transformations that have taken place in what amounts of a reinvention of the media over the last two decades Graeme Turner takes on the task of re thinking how media studies approaches the whole of the contemporary media scape by focusing on three large cross platform and transnational themes the decline of the mass media paradigm the ongoing restructuring of the relations between the media and the state and the structural and social consequences of celebrity culture By addressing the fact that the reinvention of the media is not simply a matter of globalising markets or the take up of technological change Turner is able to explore the more fundamental movements and widespread trends that have significantly influenced the character of what the contemporary media have become how it is structured and how it is used Re Inventing the Media is a must read for both students and scholars of media culture and communication studies

Hungary's Crisis of Democracy Peter Wilkin,2016-08-26 This book examines the crisis of democracy that has arisen in Hungary since the election of the Fidesz government in 2010 After moving swiftly to transform the Hungarian constitution Fidesz created a new political system which has led its critics to argue that the era of democracy in Hungary is over US Senator John McCain has gone so far as to describe Hungary as an illiberal democracy on a path toward fascism The author argues that Fidesz has sought to challenge the capitalist and democratic transformation that shaped Hungary for 20 years after the fall of communism by increasing the power of the state over crucial aspects of the economy society and the political system In so doing Fidesz actions resemble those undertaken by many authoritarian states that have emerged since the end of the Second World War all aiming to build up a national capitalism and protect their economies whilst undertaking nation building To make sense of this the author draws upon two traditions of thought world systems analysis which situates Hungary in the context of its incorporation in the modern capitalist world system after the fall of communism and anarchist social thought which provides a unique way of seeing the actions of states and political elites In so doing the book argues that the events unfolding in Hungary cannot be explained on the basis of Hungarian exceptionalism but must be situated in the broader political and economic context that has shaped the development of Hungary since 1990 The form of capitalism introduced in Hungary and across the region of East and Central Europe has systematically undermined the strong state and social security that had existed under communism and when added to the failure of the left and liberals in the region it has paved the way for far right and neo fascist political movements to emerge claiming the mantle of defenders of society from the market This represents a fundamental threat to the enlightenment traditions that have shaped dominant modern political ideologies and raises profound problems for both the EU and NATO

After the Media Peter Bennett,Alex Kendall,Julian McDougall,2011-05-13 This provocative text considers the state of media and cultural studies today after the demolition of the traditional media paradigm and engages with the new active consumer culture Media Studies particularly within schools has until recently been concerned with mass media and the effects of the media in society and on people As new media technology has blurred the boundaries between the audience and the media the status of this area of education is threatened Whilst some have called for a drastic re think Media Studies 2 0 others have called for caution arguing that the power dynamics of ownership and gatekeeping are left intact This book uses cultural and technological change as a context for a more forensic exploration of the traditional dependence on the idea of the media as one homogenous unit It suggests that it would be liberating for students teachers and academics to depart from such a model and shift the focus to people and how they create culture in this contemporary mediascape

The Media Systems in Europe Stylianos

Papathanassopoulos,Andrea Miconi,2023-08-17 This open access book traces the evolution of the European media landscape in the last 30 years from 1990 to 2020 It is based on the theoretical classical hypotheses of regional media systems provided by Hallin and Mancini and at the same time puts them to test The book further defines the proportions between geocultural patterns national regional European and global to outline evolutionary trends in media landscapes It analyzes to which degree European media have become more European in the historical course of administrative unification and breaks the results down into concrete indexes and indicators The book discusses the media systems of the member states of the European Union through a regional perspective identifying similarities differences as well as their convergence in the digital age It sheds light on the evolution of media systems in Europe introduces existing relevant theoretical perspectives and offers an overview of the new developments in European media The book will appeal to students researchers and scholars of political science communication media cultural and policy studies as well as practitioners and professionals interested in a better understanding of the European media landscape s evolution
