

CHAPTER 11

Reinventing the Singapore 'Model' of Development and Cultural Management for the New Millennium?

C.J.W.-L. Wee

Introduction

In the 1990s it became apparent that economic and political power has shifted away from a geographical location called the 'West' to a less identifiable position in the 'globe' (Comaroff and Comaroff, 2001). At the start of the new millennium 'renaissance' Asia (as Anwar Ibrahim [1996] dubbed it) still consisted of semi-peripheral societies oriented towards a stagnant and weakened Japan and the US market – though the presence of China already loomed large and India was more economically ascendant than before. Even Singapore, despite being less affected by the multiple economic crises of the late 1990s, offered proof of the reality of the structuring and integrating forces of transnational capitalism.

The city state's initial development process from the 1960s to the 1990s might be described as a 'disciplinary modernisation' that had even then functioned within the ambit of a 'West' that was already being reterritorialised within the 'globe' of that period. An Anglicised, bourgeois leadership, scornful of 'retrograde' Asian cultural identities and traditions, and true believers in a quasi-authoritarian capitalism, transformed society. In the process they limited the procedural and other mechanisms that

Reinventing The Asian Model The Case Of Singapore:

Re-inventing the Asian Model Manu Bhaskaran, 2003 This monograph focuses on the structural weaknesses in the Singapore economy in particular it pays special attention to the effect government intervention has had on the economy and finds that several unintended consequences of policy actions have accumulated over the years Several of these have become serious constraints on Singapore's ability to adjust effectively to the rising challenges in the global and regional environments With these aspects in mind the monograph analyses the challenges faced by the Singapore economy the structural weaknesses and makes recommendations as to specific policy changes that are necessary Singapore Kent E. Calder, 2016-11-01 How Singapore's solutions to common problems can provide examples for other societies Nearly everyone knows that Singapore has one of the most efficient governments and competitive advanced economies in the world But can this unique city state of some 5.5 million residents also serve as a model for other advanced economies as well as for the emerging world Respected East Asia expert Kent Calder provides clear answers to this intriguing question in his new groundbreaking book that looks at how Singapore's government has harnessed information technology data and a focus on innovative adaptive governance to become a model smart city smart state Calder describes Singapore as a laboratory for solutions to problems experienced by urban societies around the world In particular he shows how Singapore has dealt successfully with education energy environmental housing and transportation challenges many of its solutions can be adapted in a wide range of other societies Calder also explains how Singapore offers lessons for how countries can adapt their economies to the contemporary demands of global commerce Singapore consistently ranks at the top in world surveys measuring competitiveness ease of doing business protection of intellectual property and absence of corruption The book offers concrete insights and a lucid appreciation of how Singapore's answers to near universal problems can have a much broader relevance even in very different societies International Handbook of Urban Education William T. Pink, George W. Noblit, 2008-09-03 It is evident that urban education has become the central focus of educators at the present time In the U S for example almost one third of all school age children attend schools in large urban school districts It is in these urban schools where the diversity of cultures and languages is highest and where student learning is most problematic What has emerged from recent work to improve urban schools is the insight that there is no one size fits all panacea Rather we have discovered that the local context shapes in critically important ways what will be effective at the school level The universality of the problematics with urban education together with the importance of understanding the local or situated context of improvement interventions brings into sharp focus the importance and timeliness of an undertaking like the International Handbook of Urban Education An important focus of the International Handbook of Urban Education will be the interrogation of both the social and political factors that lead to different problem posing and subsequent solutions within each region An important question to be answered for example is what it takes in terms of resources political will and policy actions to improve urban education Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia Nam-Kook Kim, 2016-04-15 Globalization and increased migration have brought both new opportunities and new tensions to traditional East Asian societies Multicultural Challenges and Redefining Identity in East Asia draws together a wide range of distinguished local scholars to discuss multiculturalism and the changing nature of social identity in East Asia Regional specialists review specific events and situations in China Korea Japan Thailand Vietnam Singapore Taiwan Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines to provide a focus on life as it is lived at the local level whilst also tracing macro discourses on the national issues affected by multiculturalism and identity The contributors look at the uneven multicultural development across these different countries and how to bridge the gap between locality and universality They examine how ethnic majorities and minorities can achieve individual rights exert civic responsibility and explain how to construct a deliberative framework to make sustainable democracy possible This book considers the emergence of a new cross national network designed to address multicultural challenges and imagines an East Asian community with shared values of individual dignity and multicultural diversity With strong empirical support it puts forward a regulative ideal by which a new paradigm for multicultural coexistence and regional cooperation can be realized The EU Migrant Generation in Asia Helena Hof, 2022-12 Drawing on a comparative study with individuals who migrated to Singapore and Tokyo in 2010s this book demonstrates how migration to Asian business centres has become an alternative to a middle class life in Europe

Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia, Volume 1 Ganesh Shivakoti, Ujjwal Pradhan, Helmi Helmi, 2016-09-01 Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia Volumes 1 4 brings together scientific research and policy issues across various topographical area in Asia to provide a comprehensive overview of the issues facing the region Sustainable Natural Resources Management in Dynamic Southeast Asia Volume 1 pulls together regional experts in the field to look specifically at sustainability issues across the region to see what has been implemented what the impacts have been and what other options are available In the race to be a developed region many Southeast Asian countries have foregone natural resources through haphazard use As a result the people are faced with numerous environmental challenges particularly deforestation and forest degradation biodiversity loss and ecosystem degradation reduction in soil quality and decreases in the quantity of available water Community based forest management is the involvement of local communities in the protection conservation and management of public forests to prevent degradation through sustainable practices while still responding to the basic social and economic needs of local populations When the people who depend on forest resources for their livelihoods are jointly responsible for managing and protecting them they tend to do so in a more sustainable manner by focusing on the long term benefits rather than the immediate short term gains However when tenure rights are weak unclear or insecure or offer limited benefits people are incited in extracting more immediate benefits resulting in suboptimal forest management and the reduction of carbon stocks

Features case studies that cover issues such as rising levels of deforestation forest degradation regional food security ecosystem degradation biodiversity loss conflicts over natural resource use water management issues and impacts on local communities Includes contributions from local researchers who are dealing with these issues first hand and on a daily basis Includes a comparative review on REDD implementation in different communities Focuses on sustainability issues across the region

India-ASEAN Economic Relations Mukul G. Asher, 2006 Revised and updated version of papers presented at the ASEAN India Forum held at Singapore during 9-10 February 2004

Global Economic Uncertainties and Southeast Asian Economies Suthiphand Chirathivat, Chayodom Sabhasri, Aekapol Chongvilaivan, 2015-05-04 The aftermath of the global economic breakdown in 2008-9 underscores the risks facing Southeast Asia's growth prospects Although the region has demonstrated exceptional resilience to external shocks emanating from economic powerhouses around the globe Southeast Asia is in dire need of an optimal policy mix of macroeconomic and trade policy measures that differ by country underpin domestic demand and revive domestic economies This book offers in depth region specific economic policy discourse that illuminates how a policy push is at work in the region and sheds light on room for strengthening regional cooperation This book aims to 1 discuss the developments of macroeconomic and trade policy mix against the backdrop of the eurozone sovereign debt crisis and economic prospects for major countries in Southeast Asia i.e. Singapore Thailand Malaysia Indonesia and Vietnam 2 assess the effectiveness of policy responses to the global economic unrest 3 identify opportunities and challenges facing Southeast Asia in the midst of the global economic slump when developing Southeast Asia leverages on an ever expanding role in the global business environment 4 rethink the East Asian model of growth where enormous gains were driven principally by export demands from advanced economies and 5 pioneer the key areas of regional cooperation and macroeconomic and trade policy reforms that may potentially strengthen regional economies

Advancing East Asian Regionalism Melissa Curley, Nicholas Thomas, 2012-10-12 Developments in East Asia have progressed rapidly in terms of regionalism since the 1997 crisis The end of the Asian miracle called into question not only the capacity of regional states to meet the needs of their attendant peoples but also challenged the viability of regional organizations such as ASEAN to adapt and respond to the changing circumstances Advancing East Asian Regionalism looks at the ways in which ASEAN has expanded since the crisis and evaluates the potential of East Asia to come together in a regional formation one capable of representing the region as a whole akin to the European Community It draws upon the knowledge and perspectives of academics and policy makers actively engaged in the contradictory issues of regionalism Coupling case study material on regionalism institutions and sectoral cooperation with theoretical debates on regionalization this book is an invaluable resource that pushes our understanding of East Asian regionalism forward Cross Regional Trade Agreements Saori N. Katada, Mireya Solis, 2008-06-24 An unacknowledged key feature of East Asian FTA diplomacy is the region's active cross regional preferential trading relations In sharp contrast to the Americas and Europe where cross regional initiatives gained strength after the consolidation of regional trade integration East Asian governments negotiate trade deals with partners outside of their region at an early stage in their FTA policies The book asks three main questions Are there regional factors in East Asia encouraging countries to explore cross regionalism early on What are the most important criteria behind the cross regional partner selection How do cross regional FTAs CRTAs influence their intra regional trade initiatives Through detailed country case studies from China Japan South Korea Singapore Thailand and Malaysia we show the ways in which these governments seek to leverage their CRTAs in the pursuit of intra regional trade integration objectives a process that yields a much more permeated regionalism Asia's Aging Security Andrew L. Oros, 2025-09-09 Major demographic transitions are underway in Asia and the Pacific The populations of China Japan Taiwan South Korea and Russia are aging and shrinking while India the Philippines Vietnam and Australia among others continue to grow How will these striking changes affect regional security dynamics and the United States led alliance structure in the Indo Pacific Andrew L Oros offers an expert analysis of how rapid aging and population shifts are transforming the military strategies and capabilities of regional powers in Asia Examining sixteen states he provides a comparative view of the developing landscape and explores ways to address the consequences Oros demonstrates that contrary to what many have claimed states with shrinking populations will continue to be formidable military powers He develops a novel theoretical and empirical argument for why rapid aging does not necessarily dampen security competition Nonetheless demographic shifts in the coming decades will fundamentally alter the security challenges facing the United States and its allies Oros considers how technological change and health care advances are mitigating the drawbacks of aging populations as well as how factors such as autonomous defense systems and artificial intelligence present new challenges Rigorous and timely Asia's Aging Security makes a forceful case that adjustment to demographic change is a necessity for twenty first century foreign policy Redefining the Third World Nana Poku, Lloyd Pettiford, 1999-01-12 Given the end of the cold war economic development of the Asia Pacific region the emergence of Neo Liberal democratisation and the further marginalisation of Africa in the global political economy this book provides a timely theoretical analysis of current trends in the third world global politics Redefining the Role of Language in a Globalized World Wang, Ai-Ling, 2021-01-22 Language while seemingly static is dynamic and ever changing necessitating adaptability in various fields of language studies It is especially true in a globalized world and an information age In the field of language and its applications it is essential to reconsider and redefine existing issues and envision how the changes may have impacts on human beings and on the entire globe Redefining the Role of Language in a Globalized World is an essential scholarly publication that explores the role language will play in a globalized world and how language changes over time through its interdependent relationship with technology Featuring a wide range of topics such as bilingualism native speaker prejudice and social inequality this book is essential for educators linguists researchers curriculum designers academicians policymakers librarians and students

Asia-Pacific Economic and Security Co-operation C. Dent,2003-10-24 This collection examines new developments in economic and security co operation in the Asia Pacific in relation to two recent shock events that have significantly impacted upon the region these being the 1997 98 East Asian financial crisis and the September 11 attacks on the United States These are examined through three prime dimensions of analysis namely the tension between the post shock forces of imperative co operation and the counter forces of Asia Pacific complex diversity the growing conflation between economic and security issues or the economics security nexus in Asia Pacific international relations the relationship between the Asia Pacific s new economic and security bilateralism and regional level forms of co operation integration and governance

Challenges in Re-inventing the Business Process Dr. Mu. Subrahmanian, Dr. S. Meenakumari, R. Vasudevan,2013

Modi and the Reinvention of Indian Foreign Policy Ian Hall,2019-09-25 Narendra Modi s energetic personal diplomacy and promise to make India a leading power surprised many analysts Most had predicted that his government would concentrate on domestic issues on the growth and development demanded by Indian voters and that he lacked necessary experience in international relations Instead Modi s first term saw a concerted attempt to reinvent Indian foreign policy by replacing inherited understandings of its place in the world with one drawn largely from Hindu nationalist ideology Following Modi s re election in 2019 this book explores the drivers of this reinvention arguing it arose from a combination of elite conviction and electoral calculation and the impact it has had on India s international relations
