

Ultimate Relativity: π Theory

Prince Jessii

Research Scientist, Imo State, Nigeria

Abstract The physical constant theory reveals that physical constants of the universe are all related and justified by π , leading to similarity in value patterns and links with π codes showing the relationships. The physical constant theory is about the physical constants but there's more to π and its importance. In the year 2018, 20year old Prince Jessii named his discovery about the origin of the universe as "Ultimate Relativity" which simply reveals that there was an originator and facilitator of the universe which has a value in physics and mathematics as 3.125, this value is the actual value of π . Thus, it further implies that; generally, everything in the universe are related and they all originate from π . In the year 2022, 24year old Prince Jessii releases that special paper as "Ultimate Relativity" which is all about the 2018 discovery about π .

Keywords π , Physical Constant, Ultimate Physics Equation, Ultimate Relativity

1. Introduction

Theoretical Physics goes with simple mathematics, a lot of complications including false laws and predictions exist in physics, don't be deceived by those false theories, we now have the "Ultimate Physics Equation" (UPE), so we basically know the truth and we know the scientists and mathematicians that were correct in their theories and we also know those who deceived themselves trying to deceive others.

Everything that's been created has a blueprint which is the design/key/plan/rule to how the particular thing was created. The Universe has a blueprint likewise and that blueprint was mathematically formed as an equation as the "Ultimate Physics Equation" just to make it easy to understand through physics. There are physical constants of the universe, forget the fact that some of them were named after persons who found them, these constants represents various entities of the universe mathematically; gravity, space-time, matter, radiation, speed, gas etc., or can be combined to represent an entity mathematically. In the blueprint, it is all figures/values/numbers, not words. Those values in the blueprint are the physical constants of the universe, this is the reason why the constants are used as entries in the UPE which is the blueprint in form of an equation. So, physical constants of the universe are constants representing components during the point of creation of the universe.

These physical constants of the universe were discovered gradually by scientists through experiments/observations but the fact is; experiments can never give an accurate value, there must be an error, can be slight or much but an error is an error, 3×10^5 is very much different from 3.03 or 2.99×10^5 when it's about the blueprint, so the experimental values causes a confusion. This is why experimental values of the physical constants won't be effective in the UPE, the exact values must be used because that's the value present in the blueprint and the values that can unlock the secrets. Waiting for experiments to deliver the exact values as they are to us means we wait till eternity. Perhaps, the experimental values still helps in determining the exact values. The only way to get the exact values is by using mathematics/formulas (Tracing through the space-time parameter and using π codes) which was presented in [4].

There was an originator responsible for the creation of the universe. Believe it or not but its form in physics and mathematics is the only way the truth can be confirmed. It has been given a name already called " π " and this is the explanation;

"I give different materials to a tailor to combine and sew a single dress for me based on my design. With this instance using the universe, I am the creator of the universe, the tailor is π , the single dress is the universe, and the design is the blueprint. So, the tailor's thread will definitely be seen all round the dress i.e. there will be traces of π all-round the universe. The materials which formed the single dress in that instance are entities which formed the universe, the entities are mathematically represented by the physical constants. This means specifically, there will be traces of π around the physical constants of the universe."

Use the above statement as the intro description, the statement forms the chapters of this paper.
