vacationers interacted with nature and the vacationers themselves whose outdoor experience shaped their understanding of environmental change As authorities eliminated traditional tourist and nature conservation organizations dissident conservationists demanded better protection of natural spaces At the same time many East Germans shared their government's expectations for economic development that had real consequences for the land By the 1980s environmentalists saw themselves as outsiders struggling against the state and a public that had embraced mainstream ideas about limitless economic growth and material pleasures Practical Matter Margaret C.
