The Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries S. M. Garcia, 2003-01-01 Ecosystems are complex and dynamic natural units that produce goods and services beyond those of benefit to fisheries Because fisheries have a direct impact on the ecosystem which is also impacted by other human activities they need to be managed in an ecosystem context The meaning of the terms ecosystem management ecosystem based management ecosystem approach to fisheries EAF etc are still not universally defined and progressively evolving The justification of EAF is evident in the characteristics of an exploited ecosystem and the impacts resulting from fisheries and other activities The rich set of international agreements of relevance to EAF contains a large number of principles and conceptual objectives Both provide a fundamental guidance and a significant challenge for the implementation of EAF The available international instruments also provide the institutional foundations for EAF The FAO Code of Conduct for Responsible Fisheries is particularly important in this respect and contains provisions for practically all aspects of the approach One major difficulty in defining EAF lies precisely in turning the available concepts and principles into operational objectives from which an EAF management plan would more easily be developed The paper discusses these together with the types of action needed to achieve them Experience in EAF implementation is still limited but some issues are already apparent e g in added complexity insufficient capacity slow implementation need for a pragmatic approach etc It is argued in conclusion that the future of EAF and fisheries depends on the way in which the two fundamental concepts of fisheries management and ecosystem management and their respective stakeholders will join efforts or collide

The Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries Gabriella Bianchi, Hein Rune Skjoldal, 2008-01-01 Sustainable use of aquatic ecosystems is high on regional national and international agendas and central to the implementation of international agreements on biological diversity fisheries and fish stock management This book covers theoretical and applied aspects of sustainable management with emphasis on addressing implementation issues Fisheries Development In India: The Political Economy Of Unsustainable Ramakrishnan Korakandy,2008 Sustainable Development Of Fisheries In India Is A Major Concern For The Public The Industry As Well As The Administration As It Contributes Significantly To The National Economy To Food Supply Employment Earnings Foreign Exchange Public Revenue Regional Development Recreation Social Welfare Etc Nonetheless The Sustainability Of Indian Fisheries Like Most Other Nations Fisheries Is Threatened By A Number Of Ecological Economic Social Cultural Institutional And Technological Constraints This Book Explores The Sustainability Issues Of Indian Fisheries At Length And Suggests Stanard Global Prescriptions For Sustainable Development Top Predators in Marine Ecosystems C. J. Camphuysen,2006-05-11 The sustainable exploitation of the marine environment depends upon our capacity to develop systems of management with predictable outcomes Unfortunately marine ecosystems are highly dynamic and this property could conflict with the objective of sustainable exploitation This book investigates the theory that the population and behavioural dynamics of predators at the upper end of marine food chains can be used to assist with management Since these species integrate the dynamics of marine ecosystems across a wide range of spatial and temporal scales they offer new sources of information that can be formally used in setting management objectives This book examines the current advances in the understanding of the ecology of marine predators and will investigate how information from these species could be used in management Review of Fisheries in OECD Countries: Policies and Summary Statistics 2003

OECD,2003-07-23 Describes major developments affecting fisheries in OECD countries including changes in government policies trade and fisheries and aquaculture production This edition contains a special chapter on economic and social sustainability indicators for fisheries Rebuilding of marine fisheries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-08-29 This paper addresses the different dimensions of rebuilding or restoring stocks including in terms of conflicting objectives the bio economy of rebuilding its costs and benefits and the distributional effects of fishing reforms among the various actors

Bioeconomics of Fisheries Management Lee G. Anderson, Juan Carlos Seijo, 2010-05-11 Fisheries Economics has always been an interdisciplinary field of study with economic analysis based on stock population dynamics but many published works have focused mainly on theoretical economic issues without much focus on biological details For the most part age structured models have been ignored Bioeconomics of Fisheries Management is a valuable reference text that presents the economic aspects of fisheries management in a broad bioeconomic framework The book is broken into two parts Part I covers the traditional areas of fisheries economics covering topics such as open access optimal and managed fisheries utilization that is analyzed through a traditional one stock one fleet model It also presents the basic results in terms of an age structured model Part II covers material related to more recent work on bioeconomic models when more rigorous biological components became more prevalent and views fisheries management with an ecosystems based approach Accompanying the book is a user friendly CD with exercises and examples that aids the reader in applying theoretical principles of population dynamics and fisheries management and regulation Bioeconomics of Fisheries Management will be a valuable text for researchers fisheries economists professionals and students alike The Quest for Sustainable International Fisheries Evelyne Meltzer, Susanna Fuller, 2009 A publication of the National Research Council of Canada Monograph Publishing Program
