Rethinking Womens Roles Perspectives From The Pacific:

Rethinking Women's Roles Denise O'Brien, Sharon W. Tiffany, 1984-01-01 Mary, the Devil, and Taro Juliana Flinn, 2010-01-31 Catholicism like most world religions is patriarchal and its official hierarchies and sacred works too often neglect the lived experiences of women Looking beyond these texts Juliana Flinn reveals how women practice interpret and shape their own Catholicism on Pollap Atoll part of Chuuk State in the Federated States of Micronesia She focuses in particular on how the Pollapese shaping of Mary places value on indigenous notions of mothering that connote strength active participation in food production and the ability to provide for one's family Flinn begins with an overview of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception on Pollap and an introduction to Mary who is celebrated by islanders not as a biologized mother but as a productive one resulting in an image of strength rather than meekness For Pollapese women Mary is a vanquisher of Satan a provider for her children and a producer of critical resources namely taro The Feast of the Immaculate Conception validates and celebrates local notions of motherhood in ways that highlight productive activities The role of women as producers in the community is extolled but the event also provides and sanctions new opportunities for women allowing them to speak publicly exhibit creativity and influence the behavior of others A chapter devoted to the imagery of Mary and its connections to Pollapese notions of motherhood is followed by a conclusion that examines the implications of these for women's ongoing productive roles especially in comparison with Western notions and contexts in which women have been removed or excluded from production Mary the Devil and Taro contributes significantly to the study of women's religion and the appropriation of Christianity in local contexts It will be welcomed by not only anthropologists and other scholars concerned with religion in the Pacific but also those who study change in gender roles and Marian devotions in cross cultural perspectives Structure and Process in a Melanesian Society Achsah H. Carrier, James G. Carrier, 1991 First Published in 1991 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Christianity Reborn Donald M. Lewis, 2004 Christianity Reborn provides the first transnational in depth analysis of the global expansion of evangelical Protestantism during the past century While the growth of evangelical Christianity in the non Western world has already been documented the significance of this book lies in its scholarly treatment of that phenomenon Written by prominent historians of religion these chapters explore the expansion of evangelical including charismatic Christianity in non English speaking lands with special reference to dynamic indigenous responses The range of locations covered includes western and southern Africa eastern and southern Asia Latin America and Oceania The concluding essay provides a sociological account of evangelicalism's success highlighting its ability to create a multiplicity of faith communities suited to very different ethnic racial and geographical regions At a time of great interest in the growth of Christianity in the non Western world this volume makes an important contribution to our understanding of what may be another turning point in the historical development of evangelical faith Contributors Marthinus L Daneel Allan K Davidson Paul Freston Robert Eric Frykenberg Jehu J Hanciles

Philip Yuen sang Leung Donald M Lewis David Martin Mark A Noll Brian Stanley W R Ward Social and Cultural Anthropology: The Key Concepts Nigel Rapport, Joanna Overing, 2002-09-11 Social and Cultural Anthropology The Key Concepts is the ideal introduction to this discipline defining and discussing the central terms of the subject with clarity and authority Negotiating Identities in Modern Latin America Hendrik Kraay, 2007 An interdisciplinary collection of essays addressing such diverse topics as the history of Brazilian football and the concept of masculinity in the Mexican army It provides insights into questions of identity in 19th and 20th century Latin America It analyses a variety of identity bearing groups from small scale communities to nations Divine Domesticities Hyaeweol Choi, Margaret Jolly, 2014-10-29 Divine Domesticities Christian Paradoxes in Asia and the Pacific fills a huge lacuna in the scholarly literature on missionaries in Asia Pacific and is transnational history at its finest Co edited by two eminent scholars this multidisciplinary volume an outgrowth of several conferences seminars critically examines various encounters between western missionaries and indigenous women in the Pacific Asia Taken as a whole this is a thought provoking and an indispensable reference not only for students of colonialism imperialism but also for those of us who have an interest in transnational and gender history in general The chapters are very clearly written engaging and remarkably accessible the stories are compelling and the research is thorough The illustrations are equally riveting and the bibliography is extremely useful Theodore Jun Yoo History Department University of Hawai i The editors of this collection of papers have done an excellent job of creating a coherent set of case studies that address the diverse impacts of missionaries and Christianity on domesticity and therefore on the women and children who were assumed to be the rightful inhabitants of that sphere The introduction to the volume is beautifully written and sets up the rest of the volume in a comprehensive way It explains the book s aim to advance theoretical and methodological issues by exploring the role of missionary encounters in the development of modern domesticities showing the agency of indigenous women in negotiating both change and continuity and providing a wide range of case studies to show breadth and complexity and the local and national specificities of engagements with both missionaries and modernity My view is that all three aims are well and truly fulfilled Helen Lee Head Sociology and Anthropology La Trobe University Melbourne European Women and the Second British Empire Margaret Strobel, 1991-05-22 It enhances our understanding of intracultural and cross cultural relationships and raises significant questions about the complexities of the colonial phenomenon in the modern era Journal of World History Provides a powerful and important analysis foregrounding the ideological construction of whiteness in understandings of gender and sexuality Margaret Strobel manages to provide a convincing analysis of the contradictory and often challenging space occupied by European women in the project of empire Signs Strobel is to be highly commended for an historical analysis that brings critical light to bear on the complex interactions of gender race and class that have shadowed both European men s and women s participation in colonialism Women and Politics a clear exposition and synthesis In this useful introduction to a new field Strobel lays out clearly the

arguments on which it is built Her book makes it possible to acquaint students with the initial array of scholarship that is already growing She also demonstrates that rewriting an imperial history that is sensitive to gender culture race sexuality and power is an exhilarating enterprise American Historical Review Based on the published accounts of travelers and officials wives biographies and other materials this is a lively fast paced account of the roles of white women in the British empire from about 1880 to the recent past The European women of the second British empire carved out a space for themselves amid the options made available to them by British expansion but they too were treated as inferiors the inferior sex within the superior race

Volume IV: The Twentieth Century Judith Brown, Wm Roger Louis, 1999-10-21 The Oxford History of the British Empire is a major new assessment of the Empire in the light of recent scholarship and the progressive opening of historical records From the founding of colonies in North America and the West Indies in the seventeenth century to the reversion of Hong Kong to China at the end of the twentieth British imperialism was a catalyst for far reaching change The Oxford History of the British Empire as a comprehensive study allows us to understand the end of Empire in relation to its beginnings the meaning of British imperialism for the ruled as well as the rulers and the significance of the British Empire as a theme in world history Volume IV considers many aspects of the imperial experience in the final years of the British Empire culminating in the mid century s rapid processes of decolonization It seeks to understand the men who managed the empire their priorities and vision and the mechanisms of control and connection which held the empire together There are chapters on imperial centres on the geographical periphery of empire and on all its connecting mechanisms including institutions and the flow of people money goods and services The volume also explores the experience of imperial subjects in terms of culture politics and economics an experience which culminated in the growth of vibrant often new national identities and movements and ultimately new nation states It concludes with the processes of decolonization which reshaped the political map of the late twentieth century world

Reader in Gender Archaeology Kelley Hays-Gilpin, David S. Whitley, 1998 This Reader in Gender Archaeology presents nineteen current controversial and highly influential articles which confront and illuminate issues of gender in prehistory The question of gender difference and whether it is natural or culturally constructed is a compelling one The articles here which draw on evidence from a wide range of geographic areas demonstrate how all archaeological investigation can benefit from an awareness of issues of gender They also show how the long term nature of archaeological research can inform the gender debate across the disciplines The volume organizes this complex area into seven sections on key themes in gender archaeology archaeological method and theory human origins division of labour the social construction of gender iconography and ideology power and social hierarchies and new forms of archaeological narrative includes section introductions which outline the history of research on each topic and present the key points of each article presents a balance of material which rewrites women into prehistory and articles which show how the concept of gender informs our understanding and interpretation of the past

Payback G. W. Trompf, 1994-07-14 In this ambitious study the first monograph on religion and the logic of retribution Professor Trompf shows how various aspects of payback both negative and positive provide the best indices to an understanding of Melanesian views of life The book explores the reasons why people pay back and opens up a whole new dimension in the cross cultural study of human consciousness The author conducts his readers through the most complex anthropological pageant on earth illustrating his arguments from western New Guinea to Fiji

The Thief at the End of the World Joe Jackson,2008-02-28 The amazing tale of one of history's most daring acts of biopiracy and how it changed history In this thrilling real life account of bravery greed obsession and ultimate betrayal award winning writer Joe Jackson brings to life the story of fortune hunter Henry Wickham and his collaboration with the empire that fueled then abandoned him In 1876 Wickham smuggled 70 000 rubber tree seeds out of the rainforests of Brazil and delivered them to Victorian England's most prestigious scientists at Kew Gardens The story of how Wickham got his hands on those seeds and the history making consequences is the stuff of legend The Thief at the End of the World is an exciting true story of reckless courage and ambition that perfectly captures the essential nature of Great Britain's colonial adventure in South America

Married to the empire Mary A. Procida,2017-03-01 In Married to the empire Mary A Procida provides a new approach to the growing history of women and empire by situating women at the centre of the practices and policies of British imperialism Rebutting interpretations that have marginalized women in the empire this book demonstrates that women were crucial to establishing and sustaining the British Raj in India from the High Noon of imperialism in the late nineteenth century through to Indian independence in 1947 Using three separate modes of engagement with imperialism domesticity violence and race Procida demonstrates the many and varied ways in which British women particularly the wives of imperial officials created a role for themselves in the empire Drawing on a wide range of sources including memoirs novels interviews and government records the book examines how marriage provided a role for women in the empire looks at the home as a site for the construction of imperial power analyses British women's commitment to violence as a means of preserving the empire and discusses the relationship among Indian and British men and women Married to the empire is essential reading to students of British imperial history and women's history as well as those with an interest in the wider history of the British Empire

International Yearbook for Legal Anthropology, Volume 7 René Kuppe,Richard Potz,2023-07-24 Volume 7 of Law and Anthropology brings together a collection of studies that discuss legal problems raised by cultural differences between people and the law to which they are subject This volume developed from the idea that it can be useful to consider current discussions in various legal systems facing issues of cultural difference that cannot be regarded as legal problems related to indigenous societies alone The book focuses on contradiction between national law and complex and diverse kinship structures which are essential for the cultural identity of both indigenous groups and cultural minorities The social construction of gender relations and gender conflicts is an important theme in many essays Some of the essays examine the area of conflict between cultural practices and universal human rights standards The demand for cultural rights may collide with human rights standards especially with the principles of gender equality This volume will be of great interest to academics and to all those with practical involvement in the field of cultural pluralism Previously published by VWGO Verlag in Austria Law and Anthropology will be published and distributed by Martinus Nijhoff Publishers from Volume 7 onwards

Civil Society, Religion and Global Governance Helen James, 2007-04-11 This is one of the first books to explore the nexus between civil society religion and global governance their impact on human security and well being and significance for current debates in international politics The contributors examine salient aspects of the secular state whose monopoly on and control of institutional violence has reified its use of power to such an extent that the modernistic separation of church and state is being called into question as institutional limits are sought to the abuse of that power The volume is clearly divided into six key sections human security and human rights the politics of civil religion the ethics of civil development civil society and global governance cross cultural perspectives on institutional development for civil society international civil society Within these sections the illuminating case studies span a wide geographical extent from Central and Eastern Europe to Egypt to Latin America Iran Bangladesh Australia the Pacific and East and Southeast Asia Civil Society Religion and Global Governance will be of strong interest to students policy makers and researchers in the fields of human rights religion political science and sociology

Food, Friends and Funerals Elizabeth Whinfrey-Koepping, 2008 This is a wide ranging yet incisive text on religion from below by an anthropologist based on many years of field work in Borneo and Australia and current teaching in practical theology and religious studies It argues that rural Lutherans in Australia and rural Anglicans Muslims and local religionists in Malaysia whose views form the core of the book discern their religious identity primarily in terms of their food friends and partners and funeral practices and only secondarily if at all in terms of belief and doctrine It also critiques ego centred and ethnocentred approaches to religion too often apparent in religious studies and missiology

Arguing with Anthropology Karen Margaret Sykes, 2005 With the famous question of the gift at its core this distinctive textbook teaches us how to think write and argue about anthropology Offering working practices and projected situations and dilemmas this book is an excellent resource for Christianity, Islam and Nationalism in Indonesia Charles E. Farhadian, 2005-11-17 Although over eighty percent of the country is Muslim Indonesia is marked by an extraordinary diversity in language ancestry culture religion and ways of life This book focuses on the Christian Dani of West Papua providing a social and ethnographic history of the most important indigenous population in the troubled province It presents a fascinating overview of the Dani s conversion to Christianity examining the social religious and political uses to which they have put their new religion Based on independent research carried out over many years among the Dani people the book provides an abundance of new material on religious and political events in West Papua Underlining the heart of Christian Muslim rivalries the book questions the fate of religion in late modern times

Making Places In The Prehistoric World Joanna Bruck, Melissa Goodman, 2023-04-28

First published in 1999 This groundbreaking volume addresses issues central to the study of prehistoric settlement including group memory the transmission of ideology and the impact of mobility and seasonality on the construction of social identity Building on these themes the contributors point to new ways of understanding the relationship between settlement and landscape by replacing Capitalist models of spatial relations with more intimate histories of place Custom and Confrontation Roger M. Keesing, 1992-12 Anthropologists and students of anthropology may read this book because it is a superior ethnography detailed and enriched by theoretical insights But at the heart of this book is a moral take a simple but powerful story about an indigenous people who were wronged who resisted for more than 100 years and who may yet prevail This message ultimately lends the book its true meaning and value William Rodman Anthropologica A major contribution to the ethnography and history of Malaita and Melanesia and to the growing literature on cultural resistance But above all his humane and painful analysis of the meeting of peoples living in different worlds and constructing their agendas and moralities on incommensurate and apparently equally arbitrary principles represents a major contribution and challenge to anthropological thought addressing the basic issue of what it is to be human Fredrik Barth
