David Campbell, Morton Schoolman

Rethinking Generosity:

Rethinking Generosity Romand Coles, 1997 Should generosity and ethical behavior call for receptivity and reciprocity forward Political scientist Romand Coles explores how through understanding we might practice and inspire generosity with responsibility Drawing from readings of Kant Nietzsche and others Coles considers practical political implications particularly for relations in civil society and among progressive social movements Rethink Life Rodney Gage, Michelle Gage, 2015-11-23 ARE YOU READY TO CHALLENGE THE NORM Most of us approach life based upon childhood influences or what popular culture says is normal When we understand the eternal purpose and role God has for our lives it changes everything In this book authors Rodney and Michelle Gage will challenge you to ReThink Life from God s perspective by looking at seven key areas of life Globalization and the Decolonial Option Walter D. Mignolo, Arturo Escobar, 2013-10-18 This is the first book in English profiling the work of a research collective that evolved around the notion of coloniality understood as the hidden agenda and the darker side of modernity and whose members are based in South America and the United States The project called for an understanding of modernity not from modernity itself but from its darker side coloniality and proposes the de colonization of knowledge as an epistemological restitution with political and ethical implications Epistemic decolonization or de coloniality becomes the horizon to imagine and act toward global futures in which the notion of a political enemy is replaced by intercultural communication and towards an other rationality that puts life first and that places institutions at its service rather than the other way around The volume is profoundly inter and trans disciplinary with authors writing from many intellectual transdisciplinary and institutional spaces This book was published as a special issue of Cultural Studies Political Vices Mark E. Button, 2016-01-04 This book explores our uniquely political vices hubris willful blindness and recalcitrance According to Mark Button this overlooked class of vice encompasses those persistent dispositions of character and conduct that threaten the functioning of democratic institutions and the trust that citizens place in these institutions to secure a just political order Political Vices provides an account for how citizens can best contend with our most troubling political sins without undermining core commitments to liberalism or pluralism Theories of the Gift in South Asia Maria Heim, 2004-09-28 This book explores the ethical and social implications of unilateral gifts of esteem offering a perceptive guide to the uniquely South Asian contributors to theoretical work on the gift The Powers of Sensibility Michael Feola, 2018-07-15 The Powers of Sensibility Aesthetic Politics through Adorno Foucault and Ranci re explores the role aesthetic resources can play in an emancipatory politics Michael Feola engages both critical theory and unruly political movements to challenge familiar anxieties about the intersection of politics and aesthetics He shows how perception sensibility and feeling may contribute vital resources for conceptualizing citizenship agency and those spectacles that increasingly define global protest culture Feola provides insightful engagements with the works of Adorno Foucault and Ranci re as well as a survey of contemporary debates on aesthetics and politics He uses this aesthetic framework to develop a more robust account of political agency demonstrating that politics is not reducible to the exchange of views or the building of institutions but rather incorporates public modes of feeling seeing and hearing or not seeing and not hearing These sensory modes must themselves be transformed in the work of emancipatory politics The book explores the core question what does the aesthetic offer that is missing from the official languages of politics citizenship and power Of interest to readers in the fields of critical theory political theory continental philosophy and aesthetics The Powers of Sensibility roots itself within the classical tradition of critical theory and yet uses these resources to speak to a variety of contemporary political movements

Steinbock, 2018-07-27 In his fascinating new book leading phenomenologist Anthony Steinbock intervenes in contemporary debate around the idea of the gift through a set of critical readings in which he situates the gift in the context of interpersonal relations While taking up the key figures in the discussion Heidegger Derrida Marion Henry Maimonides Steinbock proposes the following that these discussions of the gift are really not about the gift He demonstrates through critical interpretations and phenomenological analyses how the gift only becomes meaningful in the context of interpersonal loving The gift is not the point it's not about the gift The gift becomes most fully what it is following Maimonides in participating with others toward their liberation The point is the interpersonal relation of lover to beloved which allows the gift to appear

Clarke, 2014-08-19 This book reviews the remarkable growth diversity and challenges of child sponsorship It features the latest progress in child sponsorship practice and necessary tensions experienced by some organisations as they seek to maximise impact Humanism and the Death of God Ronald E. Osborn, 2017 Humanism and the Death of God is a critical exploration of secular humanism and its discontents Through close readings of three exemplary nineteenth century philosophical naturalists or materialists who perhaps more than anyone set the stage for our contemporary quandaries when it comes to questions of human nature and moral obligation Ronald E Osborn argues that the death of God ultimately tends toward the death of liberal understandings of the human as well Any fully persuasive defense of humanistic values including the core humanistic concepts of inviolable dignity rights and equality attaching to each individual requires an essentially religious vision of personhood Osborn shows such a vision is found in an especially dramatic and historically consequential way in the scandalous particularity of the Christian narrative of God becoming a human He does not attempt to provide logical proofs for the central claims of Christian humanism along the lines some philosophers might demand Instead this study demonstrates how philosophical naturalism or materialism and secular humanisms and anti humanisms might be persuasively read from the perspective of a classically orthodox Christian faith
