Chen, 2019-04-29 This book examines the development of Chinese children s literature from the late Qing to early Republican era It highlights the transnational flows of knowledge texts and cultures during a time when children's literature in China and the West was developing rapidly Drawing from a rich archive of periodicals novels tracts primers and textbooks the author analyzes how Chinese children's literature published by Protestant missionaries and Chinese educators in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries presented varying notions of childhood In this period of dramatic transition from the dynastic Qing empire to the new Republican China young readers were offered different models of childhood some of which challenged dominant Confucian ideas of what it meant to be a child This volume sheds new light on a little explored aspect of Chinese literary history Through its contributions to the fields of children's literature book history missionary history and translation studies it enhances our understanding of the negotiations between Chinese and Western cultures that shaped the publication and reception of Chinese texts for children

Reparenting the Child Who Hurts Christine Gordon, Caroline Archer, 2012-12-15 An accessible guide to help foster and adoptive parents understand the neurobiological issues that affect children who have experienced early trauma It demystifies the science behind child trauma explains why conventional parenting won't work for these children and provides grounded advice on what will addressing common parenting dilemmas

Origins of the Social Mind Shoji Itakura, Kazuo Fujita, 2009-02-11 During the first few years of life children acquire knowledge about the relationships between their own mental states their actions and the social world This information is then used to understand themselves and others Humans are born into families where they are raised and learn to cooperate compete and communicate We are social creatures and over the course of development we learn about people relationships social systems and others' minds In addition not only do we live socially we think socially as well However human adults are not the only creatures to live and think socially In recent years sophisticated experiments have provided new information about social cognition in human infants and nonhuman animals In this book we focus on the developmental and evolutionary origins of the social mind bringing together the currently segregated views on social cognition in the two fields Ever since the term theory of mind was coined by D Premack nearly 30 years ago the concept has been the main topic of social cognition research both in developmental psychology and in primatology However few attempts have been made to integrate these two research domains Just recently researchers from the two areas collaborated to publish a book on this topic but the volume was little more than a collection of independent papers This book overcomes that limitation by presenting new data and their implications from both developmental and evolutionary points of view

Why Kids Lie Paul Ekman, 1991-02-01 In this helpful book Dr Paul Ekman a world renowned expert on lying shows parents how to deal effectively with the variety of lies children of all ages tell from little white lies to boasting and bragging to the outright concealing of information My son Billy lied to me and he's only five Is that normal I know Joanne is lying when she tells me she doesn't smoke pot but I can't prove it What should I do Heather won't tell me what she does on her dates She says it's none of my business but don't I have a right to know You'll learn what motivates a child to lie why some kids lie more than others what to do if you suspect or discover your child is lying how you can encourage your child to tell the truth and more all in easy to understand practical language that makes this an invaluable book for every family

Dark Psychology Amanda Grapes, 2020-06-20 There are three titles in this book which are the following

Book 1 What is the dark side of human nature Do people look out for themselves or for each other Why do people bully each other or tear others down Issues like these will be discussed in this brief but informational book Topics like bullying schizophrenia other personality disorders and domestic violence will be addressed Last but not least your thoughts will be altered about liars and the ethical dilemma of telling lies In this sense this book shows you a variety of interrelated topics that will shape your view on said topics

Book 2 Men and women are not the same We all know that they think differently But how do they use those thinking patterns to get what they want How do they persuade the other gender to give them what they desire This is where some human psychology will be helpful The differences will be addressed in the first chapter of this book Moving on some false concepts about mind control will be discussed as well as persuasion techniques that you may have never heard about The reasons why people choose to buy or do something is something that will be a determining factor to understanding the psychology of persuasion This is what you will learn

Book 3 Some people will do everything they can to manipulate another person Some of those people are even dangerous In this guide you will discover how the craziest serial killers have managed to get away with their horrific crimes You will also learn secret strategies to outsmart manipulators so that you will not become the next victim We all have a need to know the truth Figuring out how to notice deception is mandatory for our survival and happiness Don't let this chance to learn something new pass you by
