Sutter,2009-01-23 They emerged from the mines shook off the coal dust and stepped onto the diamond From the early 1900s to the 1950s baseball games between mine workers were a small town phenomenon each team attracting avid and intensely loyal fans Talented part time athletes competed at the amateur semi pro and professional levels Equally competitive were the coal company officials who often brought in ringers or players of exceptional ability giving them easier jobs above ground or a padded pay packet Based on interviews with surviving players families of deceased players and contemporary sources this thoroughgoing history covers not only teams and leagues but their function within the mining communities of Virginia Kentucky and West Virginia The book features a special section on African American mining teams a coalfield map and many photographs The Revised Ordinances of the City of Holyoke Holyoke (Mass.). Ordinances, etc,1914 Sound Worlds from the Body to the City Ariane Wilson,2019-03-13 This volume reveals the extent to which aural perception influences our spatial awareness Spanning various fields and practices from psychology to geography and from zoology to urban planning it covers a range of environments in which sounds contribute to forming our sense of space and place The contributions gathered here lead from the mother's womb through the habitats of insects and owls to the resonating bodies of buildings and the city to artistic endeavours that aim to consciously reveal the spatiality of sound. In this progression the book demonstrates the profoundly constitutive role of hearing and listening at all stages of our biological and social development as well as the epistemological, phenomenological and emotional importance of sound in relation to our construction of space. As such it will appeal not only to architects, town planners and artists but also to the growing community of scientists and scholars intrigued by sonic issues. Differing from both quantitative acoustics and sound design, its approach opens new perspectives on the sonic dimension and aural understanding of our environment by tracing analogies between a diversity of spaces formed when sound interacts with listening as a mode of attention.

Legendary Locals of Pelham Diane Chubb, 2014. From its start as a farming community, Pelham has been a place for dreamers and visionaries. It has been home to NASA astronaut Richard Linnehan and current NASCAR host Meghan Lamontagne, who made her television debut winning America's Funniest Home Videos. Pelham has many other residents who may not have reached for the stars but instead focused on making a great community. Harry Atwood ran Atwood's Store, which housed the post office until 1965. Aunt Molly served as librarian at the Pelham Public Library for more than 55 years. The Harris family's Pelham Inn has always welcomed visitors from all over the region. Originally a parade group, the Starlighters Drum Bugle Corps was soon participating in world open competitions. Twins John and Charles Steck buzzed above the town from their plane but also performed search and rescue missions. Longtime resident Eleanor Burton remembers all her students served on every committee and still actively volunteers. These legendary locals are people who in their own comical or poignant way have shared their vision to create our community.

Britain's Killing Fields John Igbino, 2023-01-19. Britain kept meticulous records of its casualties in Southern Nigeria but it did not collect and keep any coherent records of the casualties it inflicted on the so-called natives. Britain's failure to collect and keep natives' casualty statistics was not an unconscious omission. Instead, it was a deliberate policy because it placed considerably less value on the lives of natives compared to European lives. It held that a drop of European blood was worth four times more than natives' blood. The death of a District Officer on active duty was worth the lives of up to two hundred natives, and it took twenty natives to service a Political Officer on the field. Additionally, it accepted the arguments of its top commander, Colonel Arthur Montanaro, that natives were engaged in illegal resistance to His Majesty's Government; therefore, while he had a duty to crush their resistance to the British Government, he was not duty-bound to account for their deaths. Accordingly, the book explores these untold aspects of British History, particularly the computation of the number of Indigenous people of the landmass which became Southern Nigeria who were killed between 1900 and 1930 during one of the bloodiest periods in the history of Southern Nigeria, as British troops of the West African Frontier Force (WAFF) and the West African Service Brigade (WASB) rampaged through Southern Nigeria. In its explorations, the book posed and addressed the following questions how many Indigenous people of Southern Nigeria were killed by the British Army between 1900 and 1930 What were the names of the people who were killed Were there women and children among the dead How old were they when they died Where were they buried Who buried them there What were the prevailing political circumstances when they were killed Under what military circumstances were they killed Was there a state of war between the Indigenous people of Southern Nigeria and Britain when they were killed The book s sources were unpublished original archival documents at the National Archives These document sources included Ordinances Proclamations Admiralty s and Crown Agents papers High Commissioners Governor General s and Lieutenant Governor s Correspondences and Despatches The Correspondences and Despatches included field reports compiled by British Army Officers Field Commanders British Police Commissioners Political Officers District Officers DO District Commissioners Divisional Officers Divisional Commissioners and Provincial Commissioners These sources are kept in the following Colonial Office Documents series Southern Nigeria CO520 series and Nigeria CO583 series
