Maid To Order In Hong Kong:

Maid to Order in Hong Kong Nicole Constable, 1997 The forms of discipline range from physical abuse to intrusive regulations including restrictions on hair length and the prohibition of lipstick Maid to Order in Hong Kong Nicole Constable, 2007 In this update of her 1997 ethnography the author traces changes that have taken place in the service sector of Hong Kong's workforce since its reunification with mainland China in that year Argues that though the influx of foreign domestic workers has risen dramatically and they are somewhat more politically active the abuse lay offs and other challenges of these mostly Indonesian and Filipina women's daily lives in a globalized economy remain much the same as they relate in their own words The Oxford Handbook of Southeast Asian Englishes Andrew J. Moody, 2024-03-03 The Oxford Handbook of Southeast Asian Englishes is the first reference work of its kind to describe both the history and the contemporary forms functions and status of English in Southeast Asia SEA Since the arrival of English traders to Southeast Asia in the seventeenth century the English language has had a profound impact on the linguistic ecologies and the development of societies throughout the region Today countries such as Singapore and the Philippines have adopted English as a national language while in others such as Indonesia and Cambodia it is used as a foreign language of education The chapters in this volume provide a comprehensive overview of current research on a wide range of topics addressing the impact of English as a language of globalization and exploring new approaches to the spread of English in SEA The volume is divided into six parts that investigate respectively historical and contemporary English contact in SEA the structures of the Englishes spoken in different SEA nations the English language literatures of the region approaches to English in education throughout the region and resources for researching SEA Englishes The handbook will be an invaluable reference work for students and researchers in areas as diverse as contact linguistics English as a Foreign Language world Englishes and sociolinguistics Rising India and Indian Communities in East Asia K Kesavapany, A Mani, P Ramasamy, 2008 This edited volume containing thirty five chapters focuses on three main contemporary issues the phenomenon of new Indians in the past five decades the impact of rising India on settled Indian communities and the recent migrants By examining these interrelated aspects this study seeks to address questions like what does Rising India mean to Indian communities in East Asia How are members of Indian communities responding to India's rise Will India pay greater attention to people of

Resistant City: Histories, Maps And The Architecture Of Development Eunice Mei Feng Seng, 2020-02-24 This vivid book is an inquiry into the stagnation between the development of architectural practice and the progress in urban modernization It is about islands as territories of resistance It is about dense places where multitudes dwell in perennial contestations with the city on every front It is about the histories tactics and spaces of everyday survival within the hegemonic sway of global capital and unstoppable development It is preoccupied with making visible the culture of resistance and architecture's entanglement with it It is about urban resilience It is about Hong Kong where uncertainty is status quo This interdisciplinary volume explores real and invented places and identities that are created in tandem with Hong Kong's urban development Mapping contested spaces in the territory it visualizes the energies and tenacity of the people as manifest in their daily life social and professional networks and the urban spaces in which they inhabit Embodying the multifaceted nature of the Asian metropolis the book utilizes a combination of archival materials public data sources field observations and documentation analytical drawings models and maps Related Link s

Global Culture/Individual Identity Gordon Mathews,2002-09-11 Most people still think of themselves as belonging to a particular culture Yet today many of us who live in affluent societies choose aspects of our lives from a global cultural supermarket whether in terms of food the arts or spiritual beliefs So if roots are becoming simply one more consumer choice can we still claim to possess a fundamental cultural identity Global Culture Individual Identity focuses on three groups for whom the tension between a particular national culture and the global cultural supermarket is especially acute Japanese artists American religious seekers and Hong Kong intellectuals after the handover to China These ethnographic case studies form the basis for a theory of culture which we can all see reflected in our own lives Gordon Mathews opens up the complex and debated topics of globalization culture and identity in a clear and lively style Global Christianity,2007-01-01 In 2002 Philip Jenkins wrote The Next Christendom Over the past half century the centre of gravity of the Christian world has moved decisively to the global South says Jenkins Within a few decades European and Euro American Christians will have become a small fragment of world Christianity By that time Christianity in Europe and North America will to a large extent consist of Southern derived immigrant communities Southern churches will fulfil neither the Liberation Dream nor the Conservative Dream of the North but will seek their own solutions to their particular problems Jenkins book evoked strong reactions a bit to his own surprise as the book contained little new In the United States of America the prospect of a more biblical Christianity caused reactions of alarm in liberal circles In contrast conservatives were delighted by the same prospect In Europe the book landed in the middle of the debate on Europe as an exceptional case It was detested by those who stick to the theory of ongoing and irreversible secularisation and welcomed by those who see a resurgence of religion also in Europe In the present volume scholars of religion and theologians assess the global trends in World Christianity as described in Philip Jenkins book It is the outcome of an international conference on Southern Christianity and its relation to Christianity in the North held in the Conference Centre of Radboud University Nijmegen the Netherlands Gender, Religion, and Migration Glenda Tibe Bonifacio,Vivienne S. M. Angeles,2010-01-01 Gender Religion and Migration is the first collection of case studies on how religion impacts the lives of immigrant men women and youth in their integration in host societies in Asia Pacific Europe Latin America and North America It interrogates the populist ideology that religion is anathema to social integration in the post 9 11 era Global Labour History Jan Lucassen,2008 Contains 18 essays on worldwide aspects and comparisons in labour history Covers mainly the period from the beginning of 19th century to 2000 Masters and servants Claire

Lowrie,2016-05-01 Illustrates the centrality of domestic politics to colonial rule and the ways in which mastery over servants was a key expression of colonial power Diasporic Journeys, Ritual, and Normativity among Asian Migrant Women

Pnina Werbner,Mark Johnson,2019-07-09 The power of embodied ritual performance to constitute agency and transform subjectivity are increasingly the focus of major debates in the anthropology of Christianity and Islam They are particularly relevant to understanding the way transnational women migrants from South and South East Asia Christians Muslims and Buddhists who migrate to Asia Europe and the Middle East to work as carers and maids re imagine and recreate themselves in moral and ethical terms in the diaspora This timely collection shows how women international migrants stereotypically represented as a nation of servants reclaim sacralised spaces of sociality in their migration destinations and actively transform themselves from mere workers into pilgrims and tourists on cosmopolitan journeys Such women struggle for dignity and respect by re defining themselves in terms of an ethics of care and sacrifice As co worshippers they recreate community through fiestas feasts protests and shared conviviality while subverting established normativities of gender marriage and conjugality they renegotiate their moral selfhood through religious conversion and activism For migrants the place of the church or mosque becomes a gateway to new intellectual and experiential horizons as well as a locus for religious worship and a haven of humanitarian assistance in a strange land This book was published as a special issue of the Asia Pacific Journal of Anthropology Serving the Household and the Nation Shu-Ju Ada Cheng,2006-01-01

Serving the Household and the Nation is an absorbing sociological study of the globalization of domestic service Using the case of Filipina domestics in Taiwan Cheng examines how nationalist politics shape the experience of migrant women under the context of globalization For migrant domestics it is often the state policy that creates their structural vulnerability in public and in private Cheng focuses on the question of how the intervention of the state and the development of nationhood shape the localization of domestic service and explores the nexus between homemaking and nation building This revealing book demonstrates how the management of foreign domestics is not only important for labor control but also central to the state s administration over alien subjects the development of nationhood and in this case study the changing ethnoscape in Taiwan

Born Out of Place Nicole Constable,2014-03-14 Hong Kong is a meeting ground for migrant domestic workers traders refugees asylum seekers tourists and businessmen and local residents At the heart of this book are the stories and experiences of migrant mothers from Indonesia and the Philippines their South Asian African Chinese and Western expatriate partners and their Hong Kong born babies Constable gives voice to the immigrant mothers in this Asian world city and in the process raises a serious question do we regard immigrants as people or just workers This accessible ethnography provides insight into global problems of mobility family and citizenship and points to the consequences creative responses melodramas and tragedies of labor and migration policies Provided by publisher Just Work? Aziz Choudry,Mondli

Hlatshwayo,2015-12-20 This book offers a vast range of grassroots perspectives on global migrant labour organisation in the twenty first century From workers organisations in South African migrant worker resistance in the Gulf from forest workers in the Czech Republic to domestic workers structures in Hong Kong this book brings together a wealth of lived experiences and hidden struggles for the first time Highlighting the changing nature of frontline struggles against exploitation Just Work shows that migrant workers are finding new and innovative ways of resisting neoliberal immigration measures as they are forced to fight against the precarious nature of jobs from both within and outside of traditional forms of labour organisations With contributions from scholars and activists from around the world engaged in this resistance this will be an accessible collection based on grassroots experiences placed in a political economy framework The full list of regions explored are South Africa Latin America Philippines the Gulf Arab States North America Czech Republic Hong Kong Japan London Nigeria New Zealand Canada and Switzerland

At Home with Apartheid Rebecca Ginsburg, 2011-08-30 Despite their peaceful bucolic appearance the tree lined streets of South African suburbia were no refuge from the racial tensions and indignities of apartheid s most repressive years In At Home with Apartheid Rebecca Ginsburg provides an intimate examination of the cultural landscapes of Johannesburg s middle and upper middle class neighborhoods during the height of apartheid c 1960 1975 and incorporates recent scholarship on gender the home and family More subtly but no less significantly than factory floors squatter camps prisons and courtrooms the homes of white South Africans were sites of important contests between white privilege and black aspiration Subtle negotiations within the domestic sphere between white mostly female householders and their black domestic workers also primarily women played out over and around this space These seemingly mundane private conflicts were part of larger contemporary struggles between whites and blacks over territory and power Ginsburg gives special attention to the distinct social and racial geographies produced by the workers detached living quarters designed by builders and architects as landscape complements to the main houses Ranch houses Italianate villas modernist cubes and Victorian bungalows filled Johannesburg s suburbs What distinguished these neighborhoods from their precedents in the United States or the United Kingdom was the presence of the ubiquitous back rooms and of the African women who inhabited them in these otherwise exclusively white areas The author conducted more than seventy five personal interviews for this book an approach that sets it apart from other architectural histories In addition to these oral accounts Ginsburg draws from plans drawings and onsite analysis of the physical properties themselves While the issues addressed span the disciplines of South African and architectural history feminist studies material culture studies and psychology the book s strong narrative powerful oral histories and compelling subject matter bring the neighborhoods and residents it examines vividly to life

Maid in the USA Mary Romero, 2016-05-13 This is a classic work in the fields of Women s Studies and Sociology On its 10th Anniversary it is still a vital and moving study of the lives of immigrant domestic workers and is constantly cited in the research Romero s new introduction will offer a fresh look at the material including more recent events proving that the issues discussed in the book are still very relevant to today s world of Southeast Asian Migration Carlos M. Piocos III, 2021-02-25 This book explores the politics of gendered labor migration in Southeast Asia through the stories and perspectives of Indonesian and Filipina women presented in films fiction and performance to show how the emotionality of these texts contribute to the emergence and vitality of women's social movements in Southeast Asia By placing literary and filmic narratives of Filipina and Indonesian domestic workers in Hong Kong and Singapore within existing conversations concerning migration policies the book offers an innovative approach towards examining contemporary issues of Asian migration Furthermore through rich ethnographic accounts the book unpacks themes of belonging and displacement shame and desire victimhood and resistance sacrifice and grief to show that the stories of Filipina and Indonesian migrant women don't just depict their everyday lives and practices but also reveal how they mediate and make sense of the fraught politics of gendered labor diaspora and globalization Contributing to the affective turn of feminist and transnational scholarship the book draws insight from the importance and centrality of affect emotions and feelings in shaping discourses on women's subjectivity labor and mobility In addition the book demonstrates the issues of vulnerability and agency inherent in debates on social exclusion human rights development and nation building in Southeast Asia Offering an innovative and multidisciplinary approach to analyses of Asian migration this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of Asian Studies literary and cultural studies film studies gender and women's studies and migration studies

Migrant Workers in Asia Nicole Constable, 2013-09-13 This book provides rich and provocative comparative studies of South and Southeast Asian domestic workers who migrate to other parts of Asia These studies range from Hong Kong Macau and Singapore to Yemen Israel Jordan and the UAE Conceptually and methodologically this book challenges us to move beyond established regional divides and proposes new ways of mapping inter Asian connections The authors view migrant workers within a wider spatial context of intersecting groups and trajectories through time Keenly attentive to the importance of migrants of diverse nationalities who have labored in multiple regions this book examines intimate connections and distant divides in the social lives and politics of migrant workers across time and space Collectively the authors propose new themes new comparative frameworks and new methodologies for considering vastly different degrees of social support structures and political activism and the varied meanings of citizenship and state responsibility in sending and receiving countries They highlight the importance of formal institutions that shape and promote migratory labor advocacy for workers or curtail workers rights as well as the social identities and cultural practices and beliefs that may be linked to new inter ethnic social and political affiliations that traverse and also transform inter Asian spaces and pathways to mobility This book was published as a special issue of Critical Asian Studies

Sex Trafficking, Human Rights, and Social Justice Tiantian Zheng, 2010-09-13 This volume explores the life experiences agency and human rights of trafficked women in order to shed light on the complicated processes in which anti trafficking human rights and social justice are intersected

Transnational Migration and Work in Asia Kevin Hewison, Ken Young, 2006 Providing important

sociological insight into the dynamics of migration the essays in this collection focus on issues associated with migration for work both in and from the Asian region With contributions from an international team of well known scholars the text sets labor migration firmly within the context of globalization providing a focused contemporary discussion of what is undoubtedly a major twenty first century concern The first of its kind to look at the non professionals who make up the vast majority of migrant workers in the region the book analyses workers motivations and rationalities highlighting the similarities of migration experiences throughout Asia Presenting in depth case studies of the real life experiences and problems faced by migrant workers the book discusses migrants relations with the state and their vulnerability to exploitation as well as the major policy issues now facing governments employers NGOs and international agencies
