Fannie Hardy Eckstorm and Her Quest for Local Knowledge, 1865-1946

Pauleena M. MacDougall,2013-07-19 Eckstorm was the daughter of a fur trader living in Maine who published six books and many articles on natural history woods culture and Indian language and lore A writer from Maine with a national readership Eckstorm drew on her unique relationship with both Maine woodsmen and Maine s Native Americans that grew out of the time she spent in the woods with her father She developed a complex system of work largely based on oral tradition recording and interpreting local knowledge about animal behavior and hunting practices boat handling ballad singing Native American languages crafts and storytelling Her work has formed the foundation for much scholarship in New England folklore and history and clearly illustrates the importance of indigenous and folk knowledge to scholarship Fannie Hardy Eckstorm and Her Quest for Local Knowledge 1865 1946 reveals an important story which speaks directly to contemporary issues as historians of science social science and humanities begin to re evaluate the nature content and role of indigenous and folk knowledge systems Eckstorm s life and work illustrate the constant tension between local lay knowledge and the more privileged scientific production of academics that increasingly dominated the field from the early twentieth century At the time Eckstorm was writing the growth in professionalism and eclipse of the amateur led to a reorganization of knowledge As increasing specialization defined the academy indigenous knowledge systems were dismissed as unscientific and born of ignorance Eckstorm recognized and lauded the innate value of traditional knowledge that could for example fell trees in the interior of Maine and ship them internationally as finished lumber

Children of the Northern Forest Jamie

Sayen,2024-01-05 This no holds barred narrative of the failure of conservation in northern New England s forests envisions a wilder more equitable lower carbon future for forest dependent communities Jamie Sayen approaches the story of northern New England s undeveloped forests from the viewpoints of the previously unheard the forest and the nonhuman species it sustains the First Peoples and in more recent times the disenfranchised human voices of the forest including those of loggers mill workers and citizens who like Henry David Thoreau wish to speak a kind word for nature From 1988 to 2016 paper companies sold their timberlands and closed seventeen paper mills in northern New England Policy makers ceded veto power to large absentee landowners who tried to preserve the status quo by demanding additional tax cuts and other subsidies for economic elites They vetoed measures designed to restore and preserve forest health at present about half of the former industrial forests are classified as degraded and the regional economy continues to be trapped in low value commodity markets This book operates as a case study of how a rural resource region can respond to a global economy responsible for climate change habitat loss and degradation and environmental injustice Sayen offers a blueprint for restoring vast wildlands and transitioning to a lower carbon high value adding local economy while protecting the natural rights of humans nonhumans and unborn generations

Becoming Teddy Roosevelt Andrew Vietze,2010-04-16 This inspirational tale of friendship and determination also sheds new light on the role of the mentor's mentor Discover why this friendship was so crucial to Roosevelt's development as a man and a president and why it still matters today Amateur Movie Making

Martha J. McNamara,Karan Sheldon,2017-06-20 A compelling regional and historical study that transforms our understanding of film history Amateur Movie Making demonstrates how amateur films and home movies stand as testaments to the creative lives of ordinary people enriching our experience of art and the everyday Here we encounter the lyrical and visually expressive qualities of films produced in New England between 1915 and 1960 and held in the collections of Northeast Historic Film a moving image repository and study center that was established to collect preserve and interpret the audiovisual record of northern New England Contributors from diverse backgrounds examine the visual aesthetics of these films while placing them in their social political and historical contexts Each discussion is enhanced by technical notes and the analyses are also juxtaposed with personal reflections by artists who have close connections to particular amateur filmmakers These reflections reanimate the original private contexts of the home movies before they were recast as objects of study and artifacts of public history

Birth, Death, and a Tractor Kelly Payson-Roopchand,2015-06-15 Once there were no stone walls For the fiercely idealistic Yankee homesteader a small family farm was worth fighting for and the rocky soil yielded far more than walls Cleared and plowed it fed a family and provided a living Oxen gave way to horses horses to tractors and still the farm persisted and the family persevered each generation overcoming the challenges of their day Two hundred years later the farm ever generous in its rewards has not changed but society has shifted forgetting its connection to the land that nourishes us It is time we remembered Birth Death and a Tractor is the story of a small family farm in Somerville Maine from its settling in the early 1800s to its perilous transfer to a new farm family in 2008 Chronicling the history of seven generations it is a reminder of the role small farms have played in our national and family histories and a challenge to find innovative ways to re connect our communities to this rich but threatened resource

An Exemplary Whig David M. Gold,2012-07-06 Historians have paid surprisingly little attention to state level political leaders and judges Edward Kent 1802-77 was both He served three terms as a state legislator two as mayor of Bangor two as governor and two as a judge of the state supreme court He represented Maine in the negotiations that resolved the long running northeastern border dispute between the United States and Great Britain and served for four years as the American consul in Rio de Janeiro The foremost Whig in Maine state politics and later a Republican judge Kent articulated classic Whig political views and carried them forward into his Whig Republican jurisprudence In examining Kent s career as Maine s quintessential Whig An Exemplary Whig reveals his characteristically conservative Whig outlook including an aversion toward disorder and a deep respect for law for existing institutions and for the wisdom of experience Kent brought his conservative disposition into the Republican Party He had no use for radical abolitionism preferring moderation and compromise to measures that endangered social order or the integrity of the Union Kent saw the slave power not abolitionism as the disrupter of the Union and he urged the fusion of all antislavery elements into a new Republican party In 1859 Maine s Republican governor appointed Kent to the state supreme court During his fourteen year tenure Kent adopted a Whiggish jurisprudence pragmatic and commonsensical and displayed a reverence for the common law and a distrust of theoretic speculation After his retirement he chaired a constitutional revision commission admonishing his fellow commissioners to bear in mind the practical wisdom that kept dangerous innovation in check As a politician during the Jacksonian era Kent exemplified Whig leadership at the local and state levels In his jurisprudence he carried the Whig persuasion into the Republican ascendancy and the beginnings of the Gilded Age

Maine to Greenland Wilfred E. Richard, William Fitzhugh, 2014-08-05 Maine to Greenland is a testament to one of the world s great geographic regions the Maritime Far Northeast For more than three decades William W Fitzhugh and Wilfred E Richard have explored the Northeast s Atlantic corridor and its fascinating history habitat and culture The authors powerful personal essays and Richard s stunning photography transport readers to this vibrant region joining Smithsonian archaeological expeditions and trekking in vast and amazing terrain Following Fitzhugh and Richard s travels north from Maine to the Canadian Maritimes Newfoundland and northern Quebec then to Labrador Baffin and Ellesmere islands and Greenland we view incredible landscapes uncover human history and meet luminous personalities along the way Fully illustrated with 350 full color photographs Maine to Greenland is the first in depth treatment of the Northeast Atlantic corridor and essential for armchair travelers locals tourists or anyone who has journeyed there Today green technology climate change and the opening of the Arctic Ocean have transformed the Maritime Far Northeast from an icy frontier into a global resource zone and an increasingly integrated international crossroads In our rapidly converging world we have much to learn from the Maritime Far Northeast and how its variety of cultures have adapted to rather than changed their environments during the past ten thousand years Maine to Greenland is not only a complete account of the region s unique culture and environment but also a timely reminder that amidst the very real consequences of climate change the inhabitants of the Maritime Far Northeast can show us grounded and sustainable ways of living
