Different White People Deborah M. Wilson,2015 A trilogy of remarkable stories about campaigns for Aboriginal rights But the most curious thing about this book is that the central characters in this book are not Aborigines Some of the different white people you will meet in these pages are well known Australians but many are not But they all had one crucial common characteristic a single minded determination to support and protect the rights of Aboriginal people Area Handbook for the United Republic of Cameroon Harold D. Different Mirror for Young People Ronald Takaki, 2012-10-30 A longtime professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of California at Berkeley Ronald Takaki was recognized as one of the foremost scholars of American ethnic history and diversity When the first edition of A Different Mirror was published in 1993 Publishers Weekly called it a brilliant revisionist history of America that is likely to become a classic of multicultural studies and named it one of the ten best books of the year Now Rebecca Stefoff who adapted Howard Zinn's best selling A People's History of the United States for younger readers turns the updated 2008 edition of Takaki's multicultural masterwork into A Different Mirror for Young People Drawing on Takaki's vast array of primary sources and staying true to his own words whenever possible A Different Mirror for Young People brings ethnic history alive through the words of people including teenagers who recorded their experiences in letters diaries and poems Like Zinn's A People's History Takaki's A Different Mirror offers a rich and rewarding people's view perspective on the American story An Introduction to Social Anthropology Clark Wissler, 1929 How Can the Human Capability Approach Contribute to Gender Mainstreaming? Maria De Eguia Huerta, 2017 This work discusses Gender Mainstreaming from a post development perspective while it explores in which ways the Capability Approach may contribute to this strategy The author puts notions of well being at the heart of her arguments and questions the concrete practices of the development apparatus that derive from the idea of bringing gender equality to the Global South She looks at the power structures which shape the relationships between development professionals local experts and local participants This interdisciplinary research has followed the Grounded Theory methodology using its potential to decolonize knowledge production The fieldwork was conducted in Germany and Bolivia Dissertation Series Perspectives on Development Vol 1 Subject Gender Studies Sociology Tourism and Indigeneity in the Arctic Arvid Viken, Dieter K. Müller, 2017-05-03 This is the first book to exclusively address tourism and indigenous peoples in the circumpolar North It examines how tourism in indigenous communities is influenced by academic and political discourses and how these communities are influenced by tourism The volume focuses on the ambivalence relating to tourism as a modern force within ethnic groups who are concerned with maintaining indigenous roots and traditional practices It seeks to challenge stereotypical understandings of indigenosity and indigeneity and considers conflicting imaginaries of the Arctic and Arctic indigenous tourism The book contains case studies from Canada Greenland Norway Sweden Finland and Russia and will be of interest to postgraduate students and researchers of tourism geography sociology cultural studies and anthropology Young People Facing Difference Michael Byram, Geneviève Zarate, 1995-01-01 Why Are People Different Colors? Pasquale De Marco, The color of our skin is one of the most visible and striking human characteristics It is a source of both beauty and discrimination and it has been used to justify everything from slavery to genocide But what exactly is skin color and how does it work In this book we will explore the science history and social impact of skin color We will learn how skin color is determined by genetics and the environment and how it has been used to create and maintain social hierarchies We will also discuss the challenges faced by people of color and the ways in which we can work to create a more just and equitable society One of the most important things to understand about skin color is that it is a natural variation There is no one normal skin color and all skin colors are beautiful However the history of skin color is not so simple In many societies people with darker skin have been discriminated against and treated as inferior This discrimination has had a devastating impact on the lives of people of color and it continues to be a major problem in many parts of the world Today we are finally beginning to understand the true nature of skin color We are learning that it is a complex trait that is influenced by a variety of factors We are also learning that skin color is not a measure of worth or intelligence All people regardless of their skin color deserve to be treated with respect and dignity This book is a celebration of the diversity of human skin color We hope that it will help to educate people about the science and history of skin color and that it will inspire people to work towards a more just and equitable society If you like this book write a review
