Reclaiming Narrative For Public Theology:

Reclaiming Narrative for Public Th Doak, 2004-12 Reclaiming Narrative for Public Theology Mary Doak, 2012-02-01

This book furthers the development of American public theology by arguing for the importance of narrative to a theological interpretation of the nation's social and political life. In contrast to both sectarian theologies that oppose a diverse public life and liberal theologies that have lost their distinctiveness, narrative public theology seeks an engaged yet critical role consistent with the separation of church and state and respectful of the multireligious character of the United States. Mary Doak argues for a public theology that focuses on the narrative imagination through which we envision our current circumstances and our hopes for the future. This theology sees both our national stories and our religious ones as resources that can contribute to a public and pluralistic conversation about the direction of society. Doak highlights arguments from Paul Ricoeur, Johann Baptist Metz, William Dean Stanley, Hauerwas, Franklin Gamwell, and Ronald Thiemann that can both contribute to and challenge a narrative public theology. She also proposes a model of public theology using narratives from Abraham Lincoln, Virgil Elizondo, and Delores Williams.

T&T Clark Handbook of Public Theology, 2022-06-02 T. T. Clark

Handbook of Public Theology introduces the various philosophical and theological positions and approaches in the emerging discourse of public theology. Distinguishing public theology from political theology as well as from liberation theology, this book clarifies central terms like public sphere, the secular, and post-secularity in order to highlight the specific characteristics of public theology. Its particular focus lies on the ways in which much of public theology has established itself as a contextual theology in politically secular societies, aiming to continue the apologetical tradition in this specific context. Depending on what is regarded as the most pressing challenge for the reasonable defence of the Christian hope in liberal democracies, public theologians have focused on social ethics, ecclesiology, or Soteriology with the aim to strengthen the virtues needed for democratic citizenship. Here, attention is being paid to Protestant, Catholic, and Orthodox perspectives. The volume further illustrates the characteristics of the discourse by introducing the ways in which public theologians have responded to concrete challenges arising in the spheres of politics, economics, ecology, sports, culture, and religion. To highlight the international scope of the public theological discourse, the volume concludes with a summarizing overview of public theological debates in Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, North America, and Latin America.

Public Theology in the Post-Secular Age Dominic Budhi-Thornton, 2025-07-31

As religion's status and place within society is contested in the post-secular age, Manchester Cathedral is a fascinating case study of the potential role that cathedrals and other religious institutions may be able to play in various public settings. While the church's membership declines in the UK, Manchester Cathedral operates as a spiritual hub in the area of Greater Manchester. Using primary data gathered on the ground, this work explores Manchester Cathedral's public theologies of inclusion, which lie at the heart of its various activities and practices. Focusing most explicitly on the cathedral's interfaith work, anti-racism work, and its theology of LGBTQIA inclusion.

the author explores the potential strengths and weaknesses of religious engagement in the contemporary post secular age In this book Budhi Thornton seeks to contribute to questions about the relationship between the religious and the secular tradition and innovation inclusion and distinctiveness Drawing on a wide range of theological and philosophical traditions Budhi Thornton puts forward a case for the development of a public theological hospitality that remains open to the work of the Spirit in the life of the Other

Corruption Mocking at Justice Alfred Sebahene, 2017-09-30 The church has a duty to fight corruption and injustice The increased awareness globally of corruption and the threat it poses to humanity has led many in the secular and Christian world to seek solutions to stamp out this scourge Recognizing the crisis caused by corruption in Tanzania his own country Dr Alfred Sebahene seeks to understand this social epidemic through the application of theological ethics As a result of the study the author identifies theological ethical guidelines that inform and add substance to the church s duty in the public sphere particularly in the fight against corruption and injustice

Embodying Aga Tausili Mercy Ah Su-Maliko, 2021-02-04 This book breaks new ground in the field of public theology by constructing a public theology which is built on interwoven cultural and Christian values Writing from the Oceanian context Samoa Ah Siu Maliko unpacks the complementary Samoan and Christian core values of service respect dialogue love and justice as the foundation for a values centered response to the social realities confronting Oceania

Drawing on the indigenous research paradigm known as talanoa the author grounds the public theology that emerges in extensive interviews with 75 Samoans from all walks of life the public who are the subjects of public theology The resulting framework is then applied to a specific social problem the crisis of violence against women in Samoa This pioneering contribution to public theology discourse opens up possibilities for similar contextual approaches to public theology not only across Oceania but around the world The Trinitarian Theology of Stanley J. politics local national and global This requires a revision of the classic secularization thesis as well as much Western liberal political theory which set out separate or at least demarcated terms of engagement between religion and the public domain Elaine Graham examines claims that Western societies are moving from secular to post secular conditions and traces the contours of the post secular the revival of faith based engagement in public sphere alongside the continuing perhaps intensifying questioning of the legitimacy of religion in public life She argues that public theology must rethink its theological and strategic priorities in order to be convincing in this new post secular world and makes the case for the renewed prospects for public theology as a form of Christian apologetics drawing from Biblical classical and contemporary sources

Radical Christian Voices and Practice Zoë Bennett, David B. Gowler, 2012-01-26 On the margins of the biblical canon and on the boundaries of what are traditionally called mainstream Christian communities there have been throughout history writings and movements which have been at odds with the received wisdom and the consensus of establishment opinion If one listens carefully these dissident voices are reflected in the Bible itself whether in the radical calls for social change from the Hebrew Bible prophets with Jesus the apocalyptic prophet who also demanded social and economic justice for his oppressed people or perhaps from the apocalyptic tradition's millenarian visions The use of the Bible has been fertile ground throughout Christian history for prophetic calls for radical change within society as a whole and the church in particular The essays contained in this volume examine aspects of this radical tradition its doctrine hermeneutics pedagogy and social action They offer a sustained development of the theme of the Bible and its reception and appropriation in the context of radical practices and an exposition of the imaginative possibilities of radical engagement with the Bible in inclusive social contexts Part 1 treats New Testament texts directly the Lukan writings Paul and the Book of Revelation Part 2 explores some examples of reception history and of radical appropriation of the Bible in history and literature Part 3 addresses contemporary issues in liberation theology and public theology This book is a Festschrift in honour of Professor Christopher Rowland the Dean Ireland's Professor of the Exegesis of Holy Scripture in the University of Oxford public art includes some 3 500 wall sized canvases On warehouses and on schools on mosques and in jails in courthouses and along overpasses In If These Walls Could Talk Maureen O Connell explores the theological and social significance of the movement She calls attention to some of the most startling and powerful works it has produced and describes the narratives behind them In doing so O Connell illustrates the ways that the arts can help us think about and work through the seemingly inescapable problems of urban poverty and arrive at responses that are both creative and effective This is a book on American religion It incorporates ethnography to explore faith communities that have used larger than life religious imagery to proclaim in unprecedented public ways their self understandings memories of the past and visions of the future It also examines the way this art functions in larger public discourse about problems facing every city in America But If These Walls Could Talk is also theological text It considers the theological implications of this most democratic expression of public art mindful of the three components of every mural the pieces themselves those who create them and those who interpret them It illuminates a kind of beauty that seeks after social change or in other words the largely unexplored relationship between theological aesthetics and ethics An Unexpected Wilderness Carpenter, Colleen Mary, 2016-05-11 At a time when ecological issues are prominent in religious and social discourse this perfectly timed volume expresses a broad range of insights and opinions on ecology and the relationship between Christianity and the natural world Topics are not limited to traditional environmental issues but instead feature a variety of academic disciplines and experiences to dwell on wildernesses that are sometimes dangerous sometimes sanctuaries and often the source of graced encounter Publisher
