

THE CRITERION COLLECTION

A FILM BY M FRITZ LANG

M Criterion Collection:

M Anton Kaes, 2021-03-25 Fritz Lang's M 1931 is an undisputed classic of world cinema. Lang considered it his most lasting work. Peter Lorre's extraordinary performance as the childlike misfit Hans Beckert was one of the most striking of film debuts and it made him an international star. Lang's vision of a city gripped with fear, haunted by surveillance and total mobilization is still remarkably powerful today. And M resonates too in the serial killer genre which is so prominent in contemporary cinema. M speaks to us as a timeless classic but also as a Weimar film that has too often been isolated from its political and cultural context. In this groundbreaking book, Anton Kaes reconnects M's much studied formal brilliance to its significance as an event in 1931 Germany, recapturing the film's extraordinary social and symbolic energy. Interweaving close reading with cultural history, Kaes reconstitutes M as a crucial modernist artwork. In addition, he analyzes Joseph Losey's 1951 film noir remake and in an appendix publishes for the first time M's missing scene. I Know Where I'm Going! Pam Cook, 2021-10-21 I Know Where I'm Going 1945 is widely regarded as one of Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger's most remarkable achievements and a cinematic tour de force. A simple moral tale set in the wild Scottish Highlands, it follows the journey of a headstrong young woman forced by her encounter with this magical mythic world and its exotic customs to revise her materialistic priorities. Pam Cook traces the film's production history, exploring its place in Powell and Pressburger's canon and showing how it wove into its narrative the memories and aspirations of an international group of film makers working in 1940s Britain. Focusing on the extensive use of special effects, she reveals a technologically ambitious masterpiece. I Know Where I'm Going is for Cook a multilayered work rich in allusions whose emotional power reaches beyond boundaries of time and place to touch profound human desires. In her foreword to this new edition, Cook argues that I Know Where I'm Going's ability to be both of its time and timeless is what ensures that it continues to captivate successive generations of viewers. Monstrous Liminality Robert G. Beghetto, 2022-01-24 This book examines the transformation of the figure of the stranger in the literature of the modern age in terms of liminality. As a spectral monster that has a paradoxical and liminal relationship to both the sacred and the secular, the figure of the modern stranger has played a role in both adapting and shaping a culturally determined understanding of the self and the other. With the advent of modernity, the stranger, the monster, and the spectre became interconnected. Haunting the edges of reason while also being absorbed into normal society, all three together with the cyborg manifest the vulnerability of an age that is fearful of the return of the repressed. Yet these figures can also become reappropriated as positive symbols able to navigate between the dangerous and chaotic elements that threaten society while serving as precarious and ironic symbols of hope or sustainability. The book shows the explanatory potential of focusing on the resacralizing in a paradoxical and liminal manner of traditionally sacred concepts such as messianic time and the utopian and the conflicts that emerged as a result of secularized modernity's denial of its own hybridization. This approach to modern literature shows how the modern stranger, a figure that is both paradoxically immersed and removed from society deals with the dangers of failing to be re assimilated into mainstream society and is caught in a fixed or permanent state of liminality a state that can ultimately lead to boredom alienation nihilism and failure These monstrous aspects of liminality can also be rewarding in that traversing difficult and paradoxical avenues they confront both traditional and contemporary viewpoints enabling new and fresh perspectives suspended between imagination and reality past and future nature and artificial In many ways the modern stranger as a figure of literature and the cultural imagination has become more complicated and challenging in the post modern contemporary age both clashing with and encompassing people who go beyond simply the psychological or even spiritual inability to blend in and out of society However while the stranger may be altering once again the defining or essentializing the figure could result in the creation of other sets of binaries and thereby dissolve the purpose and productiveness of both strangeness and liminality The intention of Monstrous Liminality is to trace the liminal sphere located between the secular and sacred that has characterized modernity itself This space has consequently altered the makeup of the stranger from something external into a figure far more liminal which is forced to traverse this uncanny space in an attempt to find new meanings for an age that is struggling to maintain any

Pilgrimage in Practice Ian S McIntosh, E Moore Quinn, Vivienne Keely, 2018-04-25 Pilgrimage in Practice Narration Reclamation and Healing provides an interdisciplinary approach to the topic It reveals many aspects of the practice of pilgrimage from its nationalistic facets to its effect on economic development from the impact of the internet to questions of globalization from pilgrimage as protest to pilgrimage as creative expression in such media as film art and literature Perhaps best understood as a form of heritage tourism or tourism with a conscience pilgrimage as with touristic travel contains a measure of transformation that is often deep and enduring making it a fascinating area of study Reviewing social justice in the context of pilgrimage and featuring a diverse collection of interdisciplinary voices from across the globe this book is a rich collection of papers for researchers of pilgrimage and religious and heritage tourism Classic French Noir Deborah Walker-Morrison, 2018-10-18 French film noir has long been seen as a phenomenon distinct from its Hollywood counterpart This book an innovative departure from conventional noir scholarship now adopts a biocultural approach to exploring the French genre through the years 1941-1959 Chapters reveal noir as a product of the social and cultural factors at play in occupied liberated and post war France marked by malaise at military defeat Nazi collaboration and the impact of industrialisation Furthermore the book uncovers the evolutionary mechanisms of sexuality and reproduction beneath the national context that drive gendered behaviour on screen During this period for example the emerging urgent demand for population growth coupled with the severe shortage of eligible males rendered the mating game particularly perilous for traditional women beginning to enter the workplace This explains the cynical yet seductive behaviour of the femme fatale Deborah Walker Morrison focuses on the dangerous often deadly desires of an array of male and female character types moving past the celebrated fatal femme to tragic heroines psychopathic narcissists fatal hommes and gangster anti heroes The book re-examines productions by directors such as Henri-Georges Clouzot Jacques Becker and Jules Dassin and pulls together strands of sociological biological psychological and evolutionary science to create an illuminating study of the intense human passions underlying the cut-throat world of noir The Dual State Dr Eric Wilson, 2012-12-28 This volume presents a practical demonstration of the relevance of Carl Schmitt's thought to parapolitical studies arguing that his constitutional theory is the one best suited to investigating the deep state with intellectual and doctrinal coherence Critiquing Schmitt's work from a variety of intellectual perspectives the chapters discuss current parapolitical reality within the domain of criminology the parapolitical nature of both the dual state and the national security state corporate complex Using the USA as a prime example of the world's current dual or deep political state the criminogenic dimensions of the parapolitical systems of post-9/11 America are discussed Using case studies the dual state is examined as the causal factor of inexplicable parapolitical events within both the developed and developing world including Sweden Canada Italy Turkey and Africa A Companion to Martin Scorsese Aaron Baker, 2021-05-04 A Companion to Martin Scorsese A Companion to Martin Scorsese This valuable book brings the exceptional scale of Martin Scorsese's film work into clear view His achievements are monumental and the essays collected in this work provide wonderfully detailed and vivid analyses of his oeuvre A comprehensive study of the most exciting filmmaker working today Robert Burgoyne University of St Andrews A Companion to Martin Scorsese Revised Edition is a comprehensive collection of original essays assessing the career of one of America's most prominent contemporary filmmakers The first reference work of its kind this book contains contributions from influential scholars in North America and Europe The essays use a variety of analytic approaches to study numerous aspects of Scorsese's work from his earliest films to his place within the history of American and world cinema They consider his work in relation to auteur theory the genres in which he has worked his use of popular music and his recent involvement with film preservation Several of the essays offer fresh interpretations of some of Scorsese's most influential films including Mean Streets Taxi Driver Raging Bull GoodFellas Gangs of New York Hugo and The Irishman Others take a broader approach and discuss the representation of violence ethnicity religion sexuality gender race and other themes across his work With insights that will interest film scholars as well as movie enthusiasts this is an important contribution to the scholarship of contemporary American cinema The Female Tradition in Physical Education David Kirk, Patricia Vertinsky, 2016-02-12

The Female Tradition in Physical Education re-examines a key question in the history of modern education why did the remarkably successful leaders of female physical education who pioneered the development of the subject in late nineteenth and early twentieth century England Canada Australia and New Zealand lose control in the years following the Second World War Despite the later resurgence of second wave feminism they never regained a voice with the result that male leadership was able to shift the curriculum in ways that neglected the needs and interests of girls and young women Drawing on new sources and a range of historiographical approaches and touching on related fields such as therapeutic exercise and dance the book examines the development of physical education for girls in a number of countries to offer an alternative explanation to the dominant narrative of the demise of the female tradition Providing an important contextualization for the state of contemporary female physical education this is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in the development of sport and physical education women's and gender history and physical culture more generally Buzz Books 2021:

Literature, and Cinema Eric M. Wilson, 2024-04-05 This book is the first monograph to critically evaluate the work of the literary scholar Ren Girard from the perspectives of Law and Literature and Law and Film Studies two of the most multidisciplinary branches of critical legal theory The central thesis is that Girard's theory of the scapegoat mechanism provides a wholly new and original means of re conceptualizing the nature of judicial modernity which is the belief that modern Law constitutes an internally coherent and exclusively secular form of rationality The book argues that it is the archaic scapegoat mechanism the reconciliation of the community through the direction of unified violence against a single victim that actually works best in explaining all of the outstanding issues of Law and Literature in both of its sub forms law as literature the analysis of legal language and practice exemplified by literacy texts and law in literature the exploration of issues in legaltheory through the fictitious form of the novel The book will provide readers with i a useful introduction to the most important elements of the work of Ren Girard ii a greater awareness of the hidden nature of legal culture and reasoning within a post secular age and iii a new understanding of the subversive or enlightening nature of some of the most iconic works on Law in both Literature and Cinema media which by their nature allow for the expression of truths repressed by formal legal discourse

Urban Disasters and the Roman Imagination Virginia M. Closs,Elizabeth Keitel,2020-09-21 This book affords new perspectives on urban disasters in the ancient Roman context attending not just to the material and historical realities of such events but also to the imaginary and literary possibilities offered by urban disaster as a figure of thought Existential threats to the ancient city took many forms including military invasions natural disasters public health crises and gradual systemic collapses brought on by political or economic factors In Roman cities the memory of such events left lasting imprints on the city in psychological as well as in material terms Individual chapters explore historical disasters and their commemoration but others also consider of the effect of anticipated and imagined catastrophes They analyze the destruction of cities both as a threat to be forestalled and as a potentially regenerative agent of change and the ways in which destroyed cities are revisited and in a sense rebuilt in literary and social memory The contributors to this volume seek to explore the Roman conception of disaster in terms that are not exclusively literary or historical Instead they explore the connections between and among various elements in the assemblage of experiences texts and traditions touching upon the theme of urban disasters in the Roman world

This Thing of Darkness Joan Neuberger,2019-03-15 Sergei Eisenstein s unfinished masterpiece Ivan the Terrible was no ordinary movie Commissioned by Joseph Stalin in 1941 to justify state terror in the sixteenth century and in the twentieth the film s politics style and epic scope aroused controversy even before it was released In This Thing of Darkness Joan Neuberger offers a sweeping account of the conception making and reception of Ivan the Terrible that weaves together Eisenstein's expansive thinking and experimental practice with a groundbreaking new view of artistic production under Stalin Drawing on Eisenstein's unpublished production notebooks diaries and manuscripts Neuberger's riveting narrative chronicles Eisenstein's personal creative and political challenges and reveals the ways cinematic invention artistic theory political critique and historical and psychological analysis went hand in hand in this famously complex film Neuberger's bold arguments and daring insights into every aspect of Eisenstein's work during this period together with her ability to lucidly connect his wide ranging late theory with his work on Ivan show the director exploiting the institutions of Soviet artistic production not only to expose the cruelties of Stalin and his circle but to challenge the fundamental principles of Soviet ideology itself Ivan the Terrible she argues shows us one of the world's greatest filmmakers and one of the twentieth century's greatest artists observing the world around him and experimenting with every element of film art to explore the psychology of political ambition uncover the history of recurring cycles of violence and lay bare the tragedy of absolute power

Culture and Political Psychology Thalia Magioglou, 2014-03-01 This book is perhaps the first systematic treatment of politics from the perspective of cultural psychology Politics is a complex that psychology usually fails to understand as it assumes a position in society that attempts to be free of politics itself Politics is associated both with an everyday practice and the dynamics of globalization with the way group conflicts ideologies social representations and identities are lived and co constructed by social actors The authors of the book address these issues through their research grounded in different parts of the world on democracy and political order the social representation of power gender studies the use of metaphors and symbolic power in political discourse social identities and methodological questions The book will be used by social and political psychologists but is also of interest to the other social sciences political scientists sociologists anthropologists educationalists and it is at a level where sophisticated lay public would be able to appreciate its coverage Its use in upperlevel college teaching is possible and expected at graduate postgraduate levels
