

Magnificat

*Praise God, who wrought for you and me
Your subtle body made for love;
God, who from all eternity
Willed our divided ways should move
Together, and our love should be.*

*I wandered all these years among
A world of women, seeking you.
Ah, when our fingers met and clung,
The pulses of our bodies knew
Each other: our hearts leapt and sung.*

*It was not any word of mine,
It was not any look of yours;
Only we knew, and knew for sign
Of Love that comes, Love that endures,
Our veins the chalice of his wine.*

*Because God willed for us and planned
One perfect love, excelling speech
To tell, or thought to understand,
He made our bodies each for each,
Then put your hand into my hand.*

Marian Poem-Prayers in the Modern Age Jean Ward, 2025-10-16 This book explores a range of twentieth and twenty first century poem prayers directed to or involving Mary In readings of works by T S Eliot David Jones Geoffrey Hill Elizabeth Jennings Hilary Davies Rowan Williams and others Ward traces the resurgence of interest in Mary from the late nineteenth century to the present day By the early twentieth century the once widespread and fervent cult of the Virgin Mary had for more than three hundred years been largely absent from England s religious life Similarly the figure of Mary had almost vanished from English poetry only to return gradually as Marian devotion began to revive in the nineteenth century The perception of this devotion as somehow un English dominant since the Reformation presented a challenge to poets engaged with the Marian theme in the modern day Marian Poem Prayers in the Modern Age examines how male and female poets from both Roman Catholic and Anglican backgrounds responded to this situation The book also argues that the figure of Mary is a type of John Henry Newman s category of real assent commitment that is not merely intellectual but involves the totality of a person s being in relation to God

The Major Latin Poems of Jacopo Sannazaro Jacopo Sannazaro, 1996 This work contains prose translation of the poems of Neo Latin poet Jacopo Sannazaro 1458 1530 whose work provides insights into Renaissance art literature and socio political history The text also examines topics such as his influence on the development of English poetry

Body-Poetics of the Virgin Mary Jane Petkovic, 2021-05-25 The Judeo Christian scriptures understand humans as being made in the image of God What exactly does this mean Basic agreement is that it means humans can only know and understand themselves in relation to God If however this God is pure uncreated spirit where does human embodiment fit in Is it an obstacle to understanding Or is it in some way instructive John Paul II comes down decisively in favor of the body s value and importance In his catechetical series widely known as the Theology of the Body John Paul II analyzes what is distinctive about human beings He undertakes a reading of the body This book reflects on John Paul II s interpretation extending his findings to the Virgin Mary Her specifically female maternal body is seen to offer insights into how the body images God in how it speaks The transformations of the female body parallel the transformations of language in poetry The reconfigurations and accommodations of the gestational body are this book suggests poetic incarnations of God likeness Body Poetics of the Virgin Mary offers a Mariological slant on theological anthropology and a new way to think of how humans poetically image God

Poems and Carols (Oxford, Bodleian Library MS Douce 302) John the Blind Audelay, 2009-10-01 Audelay s idiosyncratic devotional tastes interesting personal life history and declared political affiliations loyalty to king upholder of estates anxiety over heresy make him worthy of careful study beside his better known contemporaries Of particular note MS Douce 302 preserves Audelay's own alliterative Marcolf and Solomon a poem thought to be descended from Langland's Piers Plowman. The Audelay Manuscript also contains unique copies of other alliterative poems of the ornate style seen in Gawain and the Green Knight and The Pistel of Swete Susan. These pieces are Paternoster and Three Dead Kings both set at the end of the book. Whether or not they are Audelay's own compositions they seem certain to be his own selections. Audelay also displays a persistent habit of sequencing materials in generic and devotionally affective ways. His is a pious sensibility delicately honed by reverence for the liturgy and by an awe of God. That Audelay's poetry can awaken us to new poetic sensitivities in medieval devotional verse is reason enough to bring him into the ambit of canonical fifteenth century English poets.

Twenty Poems to Pray Gary M. Bouchard, 2019-08-01 Drawing from the poetry of generations of esteemed writers Gary Bouchard shows how poems often express the longings of the human heart as a kind of prayer. Emily Dickinson, Rev. Rowan Williams, Pope John Paul II, Christina Rossetti, Robert Frost, and Fr. Kilian McDonnell OSB among others offer readers an inspiring path to reflect upon and pray with poetic verse. Arranged under six engaging themes, each selection uses the words of poets as vehicles to prompt heaven in ordinary or to praise like exalted manna to find the right paraphrase for your own soul or maybe sense your soul's blood to muster up from your grief or anger, reversed thunder or dare to articulate from your own personal anguish. Christ side piercing spear.

The Oxford Anthology of African-American Poetry Arnold Rampersad, Hilary Herbold, 2006 Presents a comprehensive anthology of African American poetry covering over two centuries and includes selections by Langston Hughes, Gwendolyn Brooks, W. E. B. Du Bois and many more.

Poetry and Revelation Kevin Hart, 2017-04-20 Religious poetry has often been regarded as minor poetry and dismissed in large part because poetry is taken to require direct experience whereas religious poetry is taken to be based on faith that is on second or third hand experience. The best methods of thinking about experience are given to us by phenomenology. Poetry and Revelation is the first study of religious poetry through a phenomenological lens, one that works with the distinction between manifestation in which everything is made manifest and revelation in which the mystery is re veiled as well as revealed. Providing a phenomenological investigation of a wide range of religious poems, some medieval, some modern, some written in English, others written in European languages, some from America, some from Britain, and some from Australia, Kevin Hart provides a unique new way of thinking about religious poetry and the nature of revelation itself.

The Fields of Praise: Poems ,

The Poems and Hymns of the New Testament Philip Wesley Comfort, 2010-01-01 Yes, there are poems and hymns in the New Testament. Large sections of Jesus' speeches are poetic, such as the Beatitudes, the Sermon on the Mount, and his final discourses in the book of John. The Epistles are also enriched with some excellent poems of the early Christians, and of Paul, and the book of Revelation can boast of some outstanding hymns. When one reads the New Testament in the Greek text with an eye for poetry, many poetic passages spring to life, as well as a few hymns. These poems not only inform our minds, they stimulate our imaginations and arouse our emotions.
