Anderson, Jonathan Kearney, 2018-04-19 Drawing on the work of leading figures in biblical religious historical and cultural studies in Ireland and beyond this volume explores the reception of the Bible in Ireland focusing on the social and cultural dimensions of such use of the Bible This includes the transmission of the Bible the Bible and identity formation engagement beyond Ireland and cultural and artistic appropriation of the Bible The chapters collected here are particularly useful and insightful for those researching the use and reception of the Bible as well as those with broader interests in social and cultural dimensions of Irish history and Irish studies The chapters challenge the perception in the minds of many that the Bible is a static book with a fixed place in the world that can be relegated to ecclesial contexts and perhaps academic study Rather as this book shows the role of the Bible in the world is much more complex Nowhere is this clearer than in Ireland with its rich and complex religious cultural and social history This volume examines these very issues highlighting the varied ways in which the Bible has impacted Irish life and society as well as the ways in which the cultural specificity of Ireland has impacted the use and development of the Bible both in Ireland and further afield Experiencing Ethnomusicology Simone Krüger, 2017-07-05 Simone Krüger provides an innovative account of the transmission of ethnomusicology in European universities and explores the ways in which students experience and make sense of their musical and extra musical encounters By asking questions as to what students learn about and through world musics musically personally culturally Krüger argues that musical transmission as a reflector of social and cultural meaning can impact on students' transformations in attitude and perspectives towards self and other In doing so the book advances current discourse on the politics of musical representation in university education as well as on ethnomusicology learning and teaching and proposes a model for ethnomusicology pedagogy that promotes in students a globally contemporary and democratically informed sense of all musics
