The Story of the Melanesian Mission

C. E. FOX

MOWBRAYS

The Melanesian Mission, founded by Bishop George Augustus Selwyn in 1846, is a branch of the Church of the Province of New Zealand. Through the agency of the missionaries, the islands have been brought into the Christian fold, and a large number of native converts have been secured. The mission is now a powerful factor in the development of the islands.

In the first place, the missionaries have secured for the islands the material and moral advancement which is the aim of the Church. They have also secured for the islands the benefits of civilization and the advantages of commerce. The islands are now a part of the world, and the missionaries have played a large part in their development.
