Jones, Rebecca Jean McLain, James F. Weigand, 2002 A quiet revolution is taking place in America's forests Once seen primarily as stands of timber our woodlands are now prized as a rich source of a wide range of commodities from wild mushrooms and maple sugar to hundreds of medicinal plants whose uses have only begun to be fully realized Now as timber harvesting becomes more mechanized and requires less labor the image of the lumberjack is being replaced by that of the forager This book provides the first comprehensive examination of nontimber forest products NTFPs in the United States illustrating their diverse importance describing the people who harvest them and outlining the steps that are being taken to ensure access to them As the first extensive national overview of NTFP policy and management specific to the United States it brings together research from numerous disciplines and analytical perspectives such as economics mycology history ecology law entomology forestry geography and anthropology in order to provide a cohesive picture of the current and potential role of NTFPs The contributors review the state of scientific knowledge of NTFPs by offering a survey of commercial and noncommercial products an overview of uses and users and discussions of sustainable management issues associated with ecology cultural traditions forest policy and commerce They examine some of the major social economic and biological benefits of NTFPs while also addressing the potential negative consequences of NTFP harvesting on forest ecosystems and on NTFP species populations Within this wealth of information are rich accounts of NTFP use drawn from all parts of the American landscape from the Pacific Northwest to the Caribbean From honey production to a review of nontimber forest economies still active in the United States such as the Ojibway harvest of plants recounted here the book takes in the whole breadth of recent NTFP issues including ecological concerns associated with the expansion of NTFP markets and NTFP tenure issues on federally managed lands No other volume offers such a comprehensive overview of NTFPs in North America By examining all aspects of these products it contributes to the development of more sophisticated policy and management frameworks for not only ensuring their ongoing use but also protecting the future of our forests

Laurie Pippen's All Natural Colorants for Cosmetic, Culinary, and Textile Dyeing Laurie Pippen, 2015-06-17 Colorants are everywhere You can find dyes in your decor cosmetics food and in nearly every fabric in the home from your socks to your furniture Many of these dyes are made using chemical alternatives to the abundant selection of all natural colorants you can find cheaply and easily in your own backyard Whether you are hoping to make life more natural by creating your own homemade colorants or hoping to replace one or two synthetic colorants with all natural plant dyes you will find that coloring with natural choices is easy fun and yields amazing results A natural colorant is a colorant that comes from minerals plants or invertebrates The most common natural colorants come from plant sources like bark berries flowers leaves and roots Potential dyeing options are everywhere and this book only illustrates the most traditionally used colorants and the methods I have employed to obtain my desired results My favorite forms of natural dyes come from plant parts like berries flowers leaves nuts and roots After reading this guide and gaining some skill with natural dyes you should look around and experiment to see what new and creative natural colorants might be available in your own back yard Remember that natural colorants are not just for dyeing fabric You can use natural colorants to create homemade ink paint or even to dye Easter eggs Some of our countries oldest documents were written with ink made from natural colorants You can also use natural colorants to make meals more healthy and appealing Sometimes I like to use unusual colors to make mealtime fun for the whole family Purple mashed potatoes or glowing orange rice is always a fun surprise You can even use plant products when you make personal care products like make up soaps and hair colorant Many commercial cosmetics you purchase have their color roots in natural product dyes and with a little knowledge and a bit of practice you can become a master at making pleasing looking and smelling products for your family that actually have benefits to go with their attractiveness Nearly anything you work with that needs color is a potential choice for natural plant dyes Natural colorants come in every shade you might want You can even blend or tone the colors up and down to achieve the exact result you need for your project

Chiricahua Apache Women and Children H. Henrietta Stockel, 2000 WHITE PAINTED WOMAN appears in ancient myths of the Chiricahua Apaches as the virgin mother of the people and the origin of women's ceremonies Such Chiricahua myths and traditions have closely prescribed the roles of women in relation to their husbands and children to relatives and extended families and to the band or tribe One of those roles is to safeguard and hand on to the next generation the lore and customs of the people In this way Chiricahua women have served as safekeepers of a heritage that is now endangered For more than a decade H. Henrietta Stockel has moved with remarkable freedom and intimacy among the Chiricahuas especially in the women's friendship circles With their permission and even blessing she has observed and recorded aspects of their traditional culture that otherwise might be lost to history Chiricahua Apache Women and Children written in a familiar personal style focuses on the duties and experiences of historical Chiricahua Apache women and the significant influences they have exerted within the family and the tribe at large After beginning with a look at creation myths Stockel turns to family patterns and roles She describes in detail the puberty ceremony she has repeatedly witnessed a ceremony little known by those outside the band Stockel looks also at the alternative lifestyle also culturally prescribed of four women warriors She concludes with Mildred Cleghorn a contemporary woman warrior who was chairperson of the Fort Sill Chiricahua Warm Springs Apache Tribe in Oklahoma for nearly twenty years and who was also Stockel's close friend and Apache mother. Beautifully complemented with thirty two black and white illustrations of women, children and family life, Chiricahua Apache Women and Children offers a vivid glimpse into traditional Chiricahua Apache women's lifestyles. Curandero Conversations Antonio Zavaleta, Alberto Salinas Jr., Alberto Salinas (Jr.), 2009 The University of Texas at Brownsville and Texas Southmost College. Current Bibliographies in Medicine, 1988. American Indian and Alaskan Native Health, 1996. Foraging Texas Eric M. Celebrating Latino Folklore María Herrera-Sobek, 2012-07-16. Latino folklore comprises a kaleidoscope of cultural traditions. This compelling three volume work showcases its richness, complexity and beauty. Latino folklore is a fun and fascinating subject to many Americans regardless of ethnicity. Interest in and celebration of Latin traditions such as Día de los Muertos in the United States is becoming more common outside of Latino populations. Celebrating Latino Folklore: An Encyclopedia of Cultural Traditions provides a broad and comprehensive collection of descriptive information regarding all the genres of Latino folklore in the United States, covering the traditions of Americans who trace their ancestry to Mexico, Spain or Latin America. The encyclopedia surveys all manner of topics and subject matter related to Latino folklore, covering the oral traditions and cultural heritage of Latin Americans from riddles and dance to food and clothing. It covers the folklore of 21 Latin American countries as these traditions have been transmitted to the United States, documenting how cultures interweave to enrich each other and create a unique tapestry within the melting pot of the United States.
