theme in cinema in which ghosts return to the world of the living to wrap up unfinished business console their survivors visit lovers or just enjoy a well wrought scaring This work focuses on film depictions of survival after death from meetings with the ghost of Elvis to AIDS related ghosts apparitions hauntings mediumship representations of heaven angels near death experiences possession poltergeists and all the other ways in which the living interact with the dead on screen The work opens with a historical perspective which outlines the development of pre cinematic technology for projecting phantoms and discusses the use of these skills in early ghost cinema English language sound films are then examined thematically with topics ranging from the expiation of sins to hungry ghosts Six of the most significant films Dead of Night A Matter of Life and Death The Innocents The Haunting The Shining and Jacob s Ladder are given a detailed analysis A conclusion filmography and bibliography follow

The Brighton School and the Birth of British Film Frank Gray,2019-07-16 This study is devoted to the work of two early British filmmakers George Albert Smith and James Williamson and the films that they made around 1900 Internationally they are known collectively as the Brighton School and are positioned as being at the forefront of Britain s contribution to the birth of film The book focuses on the years 1896 to 1903 as it was during this short period that film emerged as a new technology a new enterprise and a new form of entertainment Beginning with a historiography of the Brighton School the study goes on to examine the arrival of the first 35mm films in Britain the first film exhibitions in Brighton and the first projection of film in Brighton Both Smith and Williamson s work features a progression from the production of single shot unedited films to multi shot edited films Their subject matter was inspired by a knowledge of contemporary pantomime humour literature theatre mesmerism the magic lantern and current affairs and their practices were underpinned by active involvement in the new film trade Through the exploration of how these filmmakers cultivated a new way of understanding film and its commercial potential this book establishes them as key figures in the development of British film culture

James Joyce and Cinematicity Keith Williams,2020-03-27 Investigates how the cinematic tendency of Joyce s writing developed from media predating film First comprehensive consideration of Joyce in the context of pre filmic cinematicity Research and analysis based on recent media archaeology Examines the shaping of Joyce s fiction by late Victorian visual culture and science Shows that key aspects of his literary experimentation derive from forgotten popular cultural practices and vernacular modernism Shows Joyce s interaction with and critique of Modernity s developing media cultural imaginary In this book Keith Williams explores Victorian culture s emergent cinematicity as a key creative driver of Joyce s experimental fiction showing how Joyce s style and themes share the cinematograph s roots in Victorian optical entertainment and science The book reveals Joyce s references to optical toys shadowgraphs magic lanterns panoramas photographic analysis and film peepshows Close analyses of his works show how his techniques elaborated and critiqued their effects on modernity s media cultural imaginary

Ruins in the Literary and Cultural Imagination Efterpi Mitsi,Anna Despotopoulou,Stamatina Dimakopoulou,Emmanouil Aretoulakis,2019-11-28 This book focuses on literal and metaphorical ruins as they are appropriated and imagined in different forms of writing Examining British and American literature and culture in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries the book begins in the era of industrial modernity with studies of Charles Dickens Thomas Hardy Henry James and Daphne Du Maurier It then moves on to the significance of ruins in the twentieth century against the backdrop of conflict waste and destruction analyzing authors such as Beckett and Pinter Kurt Vonnegut Robert Lowell Anne Sexton and Leonard Cohen The collection concludes with current debates on ruins through discussions of Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht as well as reflections on the refugee crisis that take the ruin beyond the text offering new perspectives on its diverse legacies and conceptual resources Playful Visions Meredith A. Bak,2020-03-17 The kaleidoscope the stereoscope and other nineteenth century optical toys analyzed as new media of their era provoking anxieties similar to our own about children and screens In the nineteenth century the kaleidoscope the thaumatrope the zoetrope the stereoscope and other optical toys were standard accessories of a middle class childhood used both at home and at school In Playful Visions Meredith Bak argues that the optical toys of the nineteenth century were the new media of their era teaching children to be discerning consumers of media and also provoking anxieties similar to contemporary worries about children s screen time Bak shows that optical toys which produced visual effects ranging from a moving image to the illusion of depth established and reinforced a new understanding of vision as an interpretive process At the same time the expansion of the middle class as well as education and labor reforms contributed to a new notion of childhood as a time of innocence and play Modern media culture and the emergence of modern Western childhood are thus deeply interconnected Drawing on extensive archival research Bak discusses among other things the circulation of optical toys and the wide visibility gained by their appearance as printed templates and textual descriptions in periodicals expanding conceptions of literacy which came to include visual acuity and how optical play allowed children to exercise a sense of visual mastery She examines optical toys alongside related visual technologies including chromolithography which inspired both chromatic delight and chromophobia Finally considering the contemporary use of optical toys in advertising education and art Bak analyzes the endurance of nineteenth century visual paradigms Being poor in modern Europe Inga Brandes,2006 Edited papers from an international conference at the University of Trier 2003
