Magic in the Literature of the Neronian Period Konstantinos Arampapaspis, 2024-04-22 Neronian representations of magic a practice prevalent in the everyday life of the period and a central topic in its literary production are characterized by unprecedented accuracy and detail The similarities of witchcraft depictions in Seneca's Medea Lucan's book 6 and Petronius' Satyricon with spells of the PGM the defixiones as well as with Pliny's quasi magical recipes underscore realism as the distinctive trait of Neronian magic scenes which has often been considered the authors means to differentiate themselves from their Augustan predecessors However such high degree realism is not merely an ornamental feature but transforms into a tool that influences the reader's response toward magic according to each author's worldview and aims The cross generic examination of the motif of magic in the major Neronian authors shows how realism forms a link between reader contemporary experience and text that encourages more active participation on the part of the reader At the same time images of destruction the horrific and the ridiculous further enhance the negative view of magic as an ineffective Lucan Petronius or destructive force Seneca simultaneously eliciting the reader's critical response Magic in Ancient Greece and Rome Lindsay C. Watson, 2019-05-02 Parting company with the trend in recent scholarship to treat the subject in abstract highly theoretical terms Magic in Ancient Greece and Rome proposes that the magic working of antiquity was in reality a highly pragmatic business with very clearly formulated aims often of an exceedingly malignant kind In seven chapters each addressed to an important arm of Greco Roman magic the volume discusses the history of the rediscovery and publication of the so called Greek Magical Papyri a key source for our understanding of ancient magic the startling violence of ancient
