Tending to the Past Karen Michele Chandler, 2024-01-18 In many popular depictions of Black resistance to slavery stereotypes around victimization and the heroic efforts of a small number of individuals abound These ideas ignore the powers of ordinary families and obscure the systematic working of racism Tending to the Past Selfhood and Culture in Children s Narratives about Slavery and Freedom examines Black authored historical novels and films for children that counter this distortion and depict creative means by which ordinary African Americans survived slavery and racism in early America Tending to the Past argues that this important understudied historical writing

freedom narratives calls on young readers to be active critical thinkers about the past and its legacies within the present The book examines how narratives by children s book authors such as Joyce Hansen Julius Lester Marilyn Nelson and Patricia McKissack and the filmmakers Charles Burnett and Zeinabu irene Davis were influenced by Black cultural imperatives such as the Black Arts Movement to foster an engaged culturally aware public Through careful analysis of this rich body of work Tending to the Past thus contributes to ongoing efforts to construct a history of Black children s literature and film attuned to its range specificity and depths Tending to the Past provides illuminating interpretations that will help scholars and educators see the significance of the freedom narratives reconstructions in a neoliberal era a time of shrinking opportunities for many African Americans It offers models for understanding the powers and continuing relevance of the Black child s creative agency and the Black cultural practices that have fostered it Suffer the Little Children Jodi

Eichler-Levine,2015-04-08 Examines classic and contemporary Jewish and African American children s literature Through close readings of selected titles published since 1945 Jodi Eichler Levine analyzes what is at stake in portraying religious history for young people particularly when the histories in question are traumatic ones In the wake of the Holocaust and lynchings of the Middle Passage and flight from Eastern Europe s pogroms children s literature provides diverse and complicated responses to the challenge of representing difficult collective pasts In reading the work of various prominent authors including Maurice Sendak Julius Lester Jane Yolen Sydney Taylor and Virginia Hamilton Eichler Levine changes our understanding of North American religions She illuminates how narratives of both suffering and nostalgia graft future citizens into ideals of American liberal democracy and into religious communities that can be understood according to recognizable notions of reading domestic respectability and national sacrifice If children are the idealized recipients of the past what does it mean to tell tales of suffering to children and can we imagine modes of memory that move past utopian notions of children as our future Suffer the Little Children asks readers to alter their worldviews about children s literature as an innocent enterprise revisiting the genre in a darker and more unsettled light Powerful Magic Nina Mikkelsen,2005
