Potholm, 2024-05-15 Political scholar and avid campaign watcher Christian P Potholm brings to bear his considerable experience as a political consultant and his intricate understanding of campaign strategy in his careful analysis of Maine citizen referenda In Maine controversial decisions are often presented directly to voters so the citizens can decide Potholm looks at the campaigns from past referenda delving into the lobbying and manipulation from both sides of each issue He breaks down tactics and reveals why key votes were either won or lost It is a fascinating look at this key element of Maine s political system

Maine's Place in the Environmental Imagination Michael D. Burke, 2020-12-15 The essays in Maine s Place in the Environmental Imagination address from a variety of perspectives how Maine s unique identity among the states of the United States has been formed and what that identity is A place that is still imagined by others primarily through its environmental associations its nature and landscape rather than through its social arrangements and human history The collection attempts a foundational study not of a regional literature but of a state literature In doing so it makes the case that Maine was constructed imaginatively and environmentally through its literature and that this image is the one that endures even now The essays suggest how this identity was formed by discussing writings ranging from the recently recovered work of Joseph Nicolar a member of the Penobscot Nation in the late 19th century to the contemporary Maine author Carolyn Chute from Thoreau s canonical essay Ktaadn to the modernist E B White whose works have an under appreciated environmental project Contributors include scholars Nathaniel Lewis Annette Kolodny Linda Kornasky Daniel Malachuk Kent Ryden and Lynn Wake

A Forgotten Landscape: How A Place Called Crockett's Corner Became The Maine Mall M.M. Drymon PhD,2015-10-25 A place called Crockett s Corner began as a seventeenth century colonial settlement that grew into a stable and sustainable nineteenth century American agrarian landscape During the twentieth century in a rapid but staged process the landscape was changed into an edge city These changes were the direct result especially after 1938 of prevailing public policies which acted to constrain some land uses while supporting others Landscape change has had unintended consequences including local social network destruction historic building demolition and unmitigated air and non point source water pollution Raising awareness of the deep history of this place may help empower advocates for historic preservation open space environmental protection and more sustainable land use practices in the future
