Mainstreaming Equality In The European Union:

Mainstreaming Equality in the European Union Teresa L. Rees, 1998 Focuses on attempts made at the European Union level to incorporate equal opportunities into training policies as a means to end gender segregation in the labour force In particular discusses the LEONARDO DA VINCI training programme

Mainstreaming Equality in the European Union Teresa Rees, 2006-06-19 Mainstreaming Equality in the European Union provides a critical overview and evaluation of the potential role of the EU in perpetuating or breaking down gender segregation in the EU labour force Teresa Rees draws upon feminist theoretical frameworks in assessing Equal Opportunities policies and the role of training in the labour market The same economic imperatives which put women's training on the agenda have heightened interest in designing training which attracts women into mainstream provision Mainstreaming Equality in the European Union addresses the urgent need for academics education and training providers as well as policy makers to be aware of current thinking at EU level on training policy

Monitoring Fundamental Rights in the EU Philip Alston, Olivier De Schutter, 2005-02 Coherent laws enforced by a central authority are part of the reason why human rights protection works at the national level in Europe But when it comes to the EU these dimensions are lacking The present system for protecting fundamental rights emerged on an ad hoc basis with measures being improvised to respond to particular problems In the next couple of years however this situation is likely to change very significantly The proposed European Constitution incorporates the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and a specialized EU Fundamental Rights Agency is likely to be established As a result the situation of the EU will more closely resemble that of its Member States Fundamental rights will occupy a central role and coherent and systematic arrangements will be in place to protect rights using both judicial and non judicial means The Fundamental Rights Agency in particular has immense potential to ensure effective monitoring of fundamental rights in the EU and to ensure a unified strategy for their promotion in EU law and policy This volume is the first to critically examine the proposals put forward by the European Commission in October 2004 on the creation of the EU Fundamental Rights Agency Leading scholars in the field of European and international human rights law analyse the potential significance of this innovative Agency and seek to locate it in relation to various other human rights mechanisms both in the EU's constitutional structure and within Member States They review the tasks which the Agency could be called upon to perform and make proposals as to how it can function most effectively The relationship of EU law to the international law of human rights emerging from both the United Nations and the Council of Europe is examined The authors also address the challenge of ensuring improved coherence between EU law and the other human rights obligations undertaken by the Member States Taken together these contributions address urgent questions facing the EU at a time when the central unifying function of fundamental rights has been recognized but the way forward remains largely uncharted
