Mediterranean Encounters Economic Religious And Political 1100 1550 Variorum Collected Studies:

Mediterranean Encounters, Economic, Religious, Political, 1100-1550 David Abulafia, 2000 This third volume by David Abulafia looks at the interactions between territories peoples and religions across the Mediterranean and at the influence of the Mediterranean economy on the world beyond Topics addressed are trade across the Christian Muslim frontier the relative importance of local and long distance trade in economic development the policies of Frederick II and his successors towards the Jews and Muslims and the complex political relationships within the western and central Mediterranean in the aftermath of the revolt of the Sicilian Vespers Attention is also paid to Italian merchants and bankers as far afield as London and Southampton and to the business affairs of Lorenzo de Medici Taken together these papers present an original Mediterranean perspective on the economy society and politics of central and late medieval Europe

Mediterranean Encounters, Economic, Religious, Political, 1100-1550 David Abulafia, 2000 Abulafia in this collection of previously published essays in English Spanish and Italian focuses on the ways in which political developments and economic ones influence one another The essays consider trade between Christians and Muslims in the 12th century particularly between Spain and North Africa in the Crusader States the city of Ancona Italy and in the trade of the industrial arts Subsequent sections consider the Italians and Iberians contribution to trade in the 13th through 15th centuries the Kingdoms of Sicily and Naples with an essay on the place in these kingdoms of Jews and Muslims and the political convulsions that followed the War of the Sicilian Vespers

Latins, Greeks and Muslims: Encounters in the Eastern Mediterranean, 10th-15th Centuries David Jacoby, 2023-05-31 Trade shipping military conquest migration and settlement in the eastern Mediterranean of the 10th 15th centuries generated multiple encounters between states social and national groups and individuals belonging to Latin Christianity Byzantium and the Islamic world The nature of these encounters varied widely depending on whether they were the result of cooperation rivalry or clashes between states the outcome of Latin conquest which altered the social and legal status of indigenous subjects or the result of economic activity They had wide ranging social and economic repercussions and shaped both individual and collective perceptions and attitudes These often differed depending upon nationality standing within the dominant or subject social strata or purely economic considerations In any event at the individual level common economic interests transcended collective national and cultural boundaries except in times of crisis The studies in this latest collection by David Jacoby explore the multiple facets of these eastern Mediterranean encounters and their impact upon individual economic activities with special attention to the other outsiders in foreign environments foreign privileged versus indigenous traders the link between governmental intervention naturalization and fiscal status as well as the interaction between markets and peasants

The Making of Christian Malta Anthony Luttrell, 2017-09-29 This title was first published in 2002 Dr Luttrell s work has helped change our understanding of the history of the small islands of Malta and Gozo providing a more coherent story of the ways in which during the Middle Ages a small isolated Muslim community was converted into a more prosperous outpost of Roman Christianity with a unique cultural mixture of Arabic speech and European institutions This selection of studies places the process within the context of developments in the medieval Mediterranean world and combines archaeological and architectural investigations with work in Maltese Sicilian and other archives with a particular focus on ecclesiastical matters a new introduction brings the subject up to date This work is of relevance to scholars of Islam and Christianity while providing insights into the nature of an unusual island community whose significance far exceeds its size Studies on the Jews of Venice, 1382-1797 Benjamin Ravid,2023-06-14 The Jewish community of early modern Venice was perhaps the leading Jewish community of its time It emerged as a response to the desire of the Venetian government to make credit readily available and toward the end of the 16th century it greatly expanded as Venice faced with a serious decline in its international maritime trade adopted a policy of attracting Iberian New Christian merchants Yet Jews were still treated as the Other and subjected to restrictions and discriminatory measures including confinement to a segregated enclosed quarter the ghetto Despite this the interplay between economically motivated raison d'état and traditional religious hostility resulted in a delicate balance which enabled the Jewish community of Venice to assume a real leadership role in the world of the Iberian Jewish Diaspora Based extensively on previously unconsulted documents these articles deal with central issues in the experience of the Jews of Venice and so of Diaspora Jewish history in general the Jewish quarter maritime trade and urban moneylending the Jewish distinguishing head covering relations with church and state the forced baptism of Jewish minors the converso problem and anti Judaism Church, State and Community: Historical and Comparative Perspectives Antony Black,2024-10-28 Running through the papers collected here is the concern to try and understand the reasons which people thought they had for acting in a certain way and not always the same thing the reasons which they expressed for what they were doing The book's first section focuses on the theories of government in the late medieval Church especially the ideas of conciliarism the second is concerned with the study of medieval guild and city organisation and politics looking at the communal movement and at the impact of Christianity on the development of republican ideas In the papers in the final part Professor Black takes a comparative approach setting the political thought and traditions of the Islamic world in particular alongside those of Western Europe as part of an attempt to understand the origins of the modern state to know why this emerged in Europe he argues it is necessary to ask why it did not develop elsewhere and it is intellectual and cultural factors which provide the most obvious differentiating features The Beginnings of Christian Theology in Arabic Sidney H. Griffith,2024-12-11 The articles in this collection complement those in Professor Griffith's previous volume Arabic Christianity in the Monasteries of 9th Century Palestine studying the first efforts of Christians living in the early Islamic world to respond to the religious challenges of Islam In particular the author shows how Christian apologists who wrote in Arabic adopted in defense of Christian doctrines the modes of discourse kalam then employed by Muslim controversialists mutakallimun to advance the claims of Islam The writers whose works are studied here developed a truly Christian ilm al kalam that is to say a science of defending Christianity in an Arabic idiom borrowed largely from Muslims Guns and Men in Medieval Europe, 1200-1500 Kelly DeVries,2024-10-28 These articles are devoted to the two main aspects of medieval warfare men and technology Men fought led and ultimately killed in war while the technology that they used facilitated these tasks The first group of essays highlights human strengths in the fighting of medieval wars with a focus on events of the 14th and 15th centuries specifically the Anglo French wars and wars against the Turks A second group addresses the technological side of warfare in particular the advent and proliferation of early gunpowder weapons which evolved rapidly during the late Middle Ages although never replacing the role of men The articles study various facets of this evolution from the increased use and effectiveness of guns in battles sieges and naval warfare to changes in their science and metallurgy surgical treatment of wounds caused by them and governmental centralization of the technology Friendship and Faith: Cistercian Men, Women, and Their Stories, 1100-1250 Brian Patrick McGuire,2024-10-28 In these articles Professor McGuire explores the riches of the Cistercian exemplum tradition These texts are made up of brief stories often with a miraculous content which provided moral support for novices and monks in Cistercian abbeys all over Europe in the High Middle Ages The Cistercians have been seen mainly in terms of their great writers like Bernard of Clairvaux and the impressive buildings they left behind But Cistercian literature also provides us with more humble insights from daily life shedding light on questions of sexuality anger depression and bonds of friendship also between monks and nuns They bring a freshness of insight and immediate experience and their seeming naivety lets us be aware of monks commitment to each other in individual and community bonds In Cistercian storytelling the Gospel s message meets an historical context and bears witness to a transformation of Christian life and idealism while at the same time allowing us precious insights into how ordinary men and women not just monks and nuns lived and thought Coinage and Coin Use in Medieval Italy Alessia Rovelli,2023-05-31 The volume gathers together seventeen articles dedicated to the monetary history of medieval Italy most of them newly translated into English The articles in the first section of the volume trace the development of monetisation in Italy from the Lombard period until the rise of the communes taking Rome Lazio Tuscany and several cities and regions in north central Italy as case studies The articles in the second section analyse different aspects of monetary production and circulation in Byzantine Italy while the third gathers together studies on various aspects of Carolingian coinage the transition from the Lombard system and the problem of furnishing an adequate supply of silver mints and royal administration and the activity and inactivity of mints operating at the edges of the Regnum Italiae All of the articles share the author s characteristic concern with setting the evidence from written sources against the wealth of new data emerging from recent archaeological research The Processes of Politics and the Rule of Law Peter Linehan,2024-10-28 This third volume of essays by Peter Linehan deals with matters of perennial interest to all historians of medieval Church and State and in particular to students of the history of medieval Spain and Portugal and of the papacy in the 12th and 13th centuries Amongst those discussed and explored are the question of feudalism in the 11th and 12th century the rise and fall of a royal capital the city of Le n the ritual of king making focusing on Castile and Portugal the interplay of royal influence and papal authority and the impact of the mendicant orders A previously unpublished study provides a cautionary tale of a particular bishop in politics Four essays are devoted to the investigation of individuals and issues central to the history of late 13th century papal Rome while two look at medieval and modern historiography

East Meets West in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen, 2013-09-03 This new volume explores the surprisingly intense and complex relationships between East and West during the Middle Ages and the early modern world combining a large number of critical studies representing such diverse fields as literary German French Italian English Spanish and Arabic and other subdisciplines of history religion anthropology and linguistics The differences between Islam and Christianity erected strong barriers separating two global cultures but as this volume indicates despite many attempts to Other the opposing side the premodern world experienced an astonishing degree of contacts meetings exchanges and influences Scientists travelers authors medical researchers chroniclers diplomats and merchants criss crossed the East and the West or studied the sources produced by the other culture for many different reasons As much as the theoretical concept of Orientalism has been useful in sensitizing us to the fundamental tensions and conflicts separating both worlds at least since the eighteenth century the premodern world did not quite yet operate in such an ideological framework Even though the Crusades had violently pitted Christians against Muslims there were countless contacts and a palpable curiosity on both sides both before during and after those religious warfares

Religious Enthusiasm in the Medieval West Gary Dickson, 2024-10-28 Collective religious enthusiasm was a surprisingly many sided influential and widespread phenomenon in medieval Europe Amongst the forms it took were remarkable revivalist movements like the flagellants of 1260 popular crusades like the often mythologized children s crusade of 1212 and the shepherds crusade of 1251 as well as popular excitement involving living saints and their veneration 115 cults in Perugia This book focuses upon particular thirteenth century revivals and popular crusades but does so in order to illuminate the nature of medieval western religious enthusiasm by exploring such topics as crowds penitential self laceration charismatic leaders prophecy runaway youths popular crusading fervour dreams and sanctity male and female A previously unpublished essay introduces the book initiating a discussion of religious enthusiasm in the medieval West and the second conversion of Europe

Commercial Exchange Across the Mediterranean David Jacoby, 2023-07-07 The customary treatment of Mediterranean trade from the 11th to the mid 15th century emphasizes the predominance of western merchants and the commercial exchange of spices and eastern raw materials for western woollens and other finished products The studies in this collection the sixth by David Jacoby to be published in the Variorum series adopt a different perspective They underscore the economic vitality of various countries bordering the eastern Mediterranean their industrial capacity the importance of exchanges between them and the important contribution of the merchants based in that region to trans Mediterranean trade They also illustrate the role of hitherto neglected commodities such as timber iron silk and cheese in that trade Medieval Rural Settlements in the Syrian Coastal Region (12th and 13th Centuries) Balázs Major,2016-03-31 This book is the result of more than a dozen years of research in the field of the hitherto unstudied medieval settlement pattern of the Syrian coastal region in the 12th and 13th centuries Italian Humanism and Medieval Rhetoric Ronald G. Witt,2024-10-28 These essays are concerned with the nature of early renaissance political thought and the relationship between humanism and medieval rhetoric One group traces the influence of medieval political thought on the rise of the modern conception of republicanism others focus on the medieval art of letter writing and its place in the medieval cultural context while still others analyse the often contradictory thought of the early humanist Coluccio Salutati 1331 1406 who struggled to reconcile his classical learning with his medieval allegiances In the collection as a whole humanism emerges as a literary movement drawing as heavily on patristic and medieval culture as on antiquity Awareness of its various debts permits recognition of what humanism itself contributed to the development of western thought and ethics The Crusades, The Kingdom of Sicily, and the Mediterranean James M. Powell,2023-05-09 In this collection of studies by James M Powell two related centres of attention can be seen One is the campaigns undertaken by western Europeans in the eastern Mediterranean chiefly in the late twelfth and thirteenth centuries the Crusades the reasons for them and manner in which they were organized and promoted The other is the Kingdom of Sicily under Frederick II himself a Crusader and its society and economy including its Muslim population A characteristic feature is the author's interest in ordinary participants and the attempt to get behind the generalizations of macro historians to the extent that may be possible The Crusader World Adrian Boas,2015-10-14 The Crusader World is a multidisciplinary survey of the current state of research in the field of crusader studies an area of study which has become increasingly popular in recent years In this volume Adrian Boas draws together an impressive range of academics including work from renowned scholars as well as a number of though provoking pieces from emerging researchers in order to provide broad coverage of the major aspects of the period This authoritative work will play an important role in the future direction of crusading studies This volume enriches present knowledge of the crusades addressing such wide ranging subjects as intelligence and espionage gender issues religious celebrations in crusader Jerusalem political struggles in crusader Antioch the archaeological study of battle sites and fortifications diseases suffered by the crusaders crusading in northern Europe and Spain and the impact of Crusader art The relationship between Crusaders and Muslims two distinct and in many way opposing cultures is also examined in depth including a discussion of how the Franks perceived their enemies Arranged into eight thematic sections The Crusader World considers many central issues as well as a large number of less familiar topics of the crusades crusader society history and culture With over 100 photographs line drawings and maps this impressive collection of essays is a key resource for students and scholars alike Peiresc's

Orient Peter N. Miller, 2017-09-29 The ten essays published in this volume were written over the space of a decade but they were conceived from the start as a coherent whole presenting Peiresc's study of discrete languages and literatures of the Near East and North Africa For Peiresc the student of the Classical past this described the eastern and southern space in which the Greeks and Romans lived and strove For Peiresc the Christian this was the world of the Bible that impacted upon the Greeks and Romans And for Peiresc of the Mediterranean for he was born in Aix spent much time in Marseille and lived outside of the region for only 6 of his 57 years this was the territory that his friends and colleagues sailed to lived in and usually came back from The convergence of these axes in the life of one man and a man of singular intellectual power and charm whose vast personal paper arsenal had survived makes this such a compelling project The essays are arranged in a roughly chronological order They follow the course of Peiresc's own projects from his early encounter with the ancient Near East in Greek and Roman literature through his engagement with Arabic to his deepening knowledge of rabbinic texts to the wider world of the new oriental studies of the seventeenth century which he helped create Samaritan Coptic and Ethiopic
