Mein Jahrhundert:

Reinventions of the Novel, 2021-11-01 The history of the Novel is a story of perpetual change so that its identity still remains open to question The sixteen articles in Reinventions of the Novel investigate connections differences and similarities in the Novel around the world for the past three hundred years Rather than searching for the essence of the genre they look for the formal and thematic patterns on which the novel thrives considering such matters as tradition and modernity realism rhetoric and identity tableau and spatiality and wondering whether epic and avant garde are not quite contradictory terms Close readings combined with historical overviews and theoretical discussions open up new constellations in the history of the novel Untraditional cross readings are made between Rabelais and Jens Peter Jacobsen and between Balzac and Nicholson Baker Transformations of traditional modes of epic biography and Bildung are traced as far as Georges Perec and Günter Grass while canonical classics like Proust Joyce Richardson and Goethe are read in prosaic pragmatic and media specific contexts In the 1920s many people predicted the death of the novel now more than ever it seems to be the dominant literary form perhaps because it is the same yet always different Constructing Authorship in the Work of Günter Grass Rebecca Braun, 2008-06-26 A challenging new reading of Grass's literary work and political writings that examines how the author has reacted to sustained public interest in his person from the mid 1960s onwards Braun draws together an eclectic body of literary writing and suggests that questions of authorship lie at the heart of Grass's work The Communicative Event in the Works of Günter Grass Nicole A. Thesz, 2018 A major contribution to Grass scholarship that looks at his career as a whole and identifies four phases or stages of his writing in terms of communicative strategy and style Günter Grass and His Critics Siegfried Mews, 2008 A comprehensive narrative overview and analysis of the criticism of the controversial German author's works When the Swedish Academy announced that Günter Grass had been awarded the 1999 Nobel Prize for Literature it singled out his first novel The Tin Drum 1959 English translation 1963 as a seminal work that had signaled the postwar rebirth of German letters auguring a new beginning after decades of linguistic and moral destruction Nearly fifty years after its publication the novel's significance has been generally acknowledged it is the uncontested favorite among Grass's works of fiction on the part of reading public and critics alike yet its canonical status tends to obscure the decidedly mixed and even hostile reactions it initially elicited Along with The Tin Drum Grass's impressive body of literary work since the 1950s has spawned a cottage industry of Grass criticism making a reliable guide through the thicket of sometimes contradictory readings a definite desideratum Siegfried Mews fills this lacuna in Grass scholarship by way of a detailed but succinct descriptive as well as analytical and evaluative overview of the scholarship from 1959 to 2005 Grass's politically motivated interventions in public discourse have kept him highly visible blurring the boundaries between politics and aesthetics Mews therefore examines not only academic criticism but also the daily and weekly press and other news media providing additional insight into the reception of Grass's works Siegfried Mews is

German Culture and the Uncomfortable Past

Helmut Schmitz, 2017-07-05 Beginning with the question of the role of the past in the shaping of a contemporary identity this volume spans three generations of German and Austrian writers and explores changes and shifts in the aesthetics of Vergangenheitsbewältigung coming to terms with the past The purpose of the book is to assess contemporary German literary representations of National Socialism in a wider context of these current debates The contributors address questions arising from a shift over the last decade triggered by a generation change questions of personal and national identity in Germany and Austria and the aesthetics of memory One of the central questions that emerges in relation to the Hitler youth generation is that of biography as examined through Günter Grass and Martin Walser's conflicting views on the subject of National Socialism Other themes explored here are the conflict between the post war generations and the contributions of that conflict to West German mentality and the growing historical distance and its influence on the aesthetics of representation

Günter Grass and the Genders of German Memory Timothy Bruce Malchow, 2021 The first book to examine the connection between gender and memory in Grass's oeuvre which is especially timely in light of current concerns about male privilege Günter Grass 1927-2015 was a fixture at the heart of German cultural life a self-styled spokesman of the Kulturnation cultural nation who imagined it linking him to canonical male literary figures and their authority He was also the object of valid feminist criticism a rigid conception of gender permeates his works belying his professed skepticism toward ideologies A heterosexual male Grass lent his representative persona a natural veneer by appropriating his era's gendered discursive constructs including Heimat the Bildungsroman and narratives about German wartime victims and perpetrators Such appropriation elevated his remembering artist's masculinity above that of the status quo's defenders and exploiters of memory This book is the first to evaluate the connection between gender and memory in Grass's oeuvre and its legacy in light of current concerns about male privilege It highlights his breakthrough novel The Tin Drum 1959 and his memoir Peeling the Onion 2006 The former establishes the gendered persona that Grass would develop in subsequent decades to relate contemporary issues to Nazi era memories The latter reclaims the novel's autobiographical material but fails to account for his decades-long silence about having served in the Nazi Waffen SS Instead it foregrounds his mourning for his mother allowing for a more personal reading of his oeuvre and its gendered imagery of current concerns about male privilege It highlights his breakthrough novel The Tin Drum 1959 and his memoir Peeling the Onion 2006 The former establishes the gendered persona that Grass would develop in subsequent decades to relate contemporary issues to Nazi era memories The latter reclaims the novel's autobiographical material but fails to account for his decades-long silence about having served in the Nazi Waffen SS Instead it foregrounds his mourning for his mother allowing for a more personal reading of his oeuvre and its gendered imagery of current concerns

Historical Dictionary of Postwar German Literature William Grange, 2009-07-09 Some authors strongly criticized attempts to rebuild a German literary culture in the aftermath of World War II while others actively committed themselves to dealing with the German past There are writers in Austria and Switzerland that find other contradictions of contemporary life troubling while some find them funny or even worth celebrating German postwar literature has in the minds of some observers developed a kind of split personality In view of the traumatic monstrosities of the previous century that development may seem logical to some The Historical Dictionary of Postwar German Literature is devoted to modern literature produced in the German language whether from Germany Austria Switzerland or writers using German in other countries This volume covers an extensive period of time beginning in 1945 at what was called zero hour for German literature and proceeds into the 21st century concluding in 2008 This is done through a list of acronyms and abbreviations a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on writers such as Nobel Prize winners Heinrich Böll Günter Grass Elias Canetti Elfriede Jelinek and W G Sebald There are also entries on individual works genres movements literary
