Mein Langer Lauf Zu Mir Selbst:

Literature and Politics Peter Marks, 2011-12-08 George Orwell argued that one of the four great motives for a prose writer was the desire to push the world in a certain direction to alter other people's idea of the kind of society that they should strive after. This book contains exciting new work by established and emerging scholars that explores political literature over the last century and a half. It shows how from The Communist Manifesto to the dystopian future of Margaret Atwood's Oryx and Crake writers have attempted to alter people's ideas, not always successfully. Eighteen chapters deal with a global array of writers and topics from 1890s Australian bohemians and the anti-Peronism of Argentina's Julio Cortázar to Aris Alexandrou's Greek utopia and the harsh modern Zimbabwe of Yvonne Vera's The Stone Virgins. Other contributors critically examine the sexual politics of nineteenth-century aestheticism, Theodor Adorno and Cultural Studies, Paul Auster and the altermodern, Yeats's poetry, Celan and the Holocaust, the postmodernism of former Yugoslavia's Dubravka Ugrešić or the socialism of Australian Jean Devanny. Whether through informed studies of poetry and politics in Heidegger, Richard Marsh's gothic novel The Beetle, how Thomas Pynchon and Don DeLillo deal with 9/11, the cultural politics of child abuse in Christos Tsiolkas's The Slap or how the German politician Joschka Fischer lost weight, readers will be stimulated by a collection that shows political literature's continuing ability to inform, enrage and engage readers from around the world.

After the Red Army Faction Charity Scribner, 2014-12-16 Masterminded by women, the Red Army Faction (RAF) terrorized West Germany from the 1970s to the 1990s. Afterimages of its leaders persist in the works of pivotal artists and writers including Gerhard Richter, Elfriede Jelinek and Slavoj Žižek. Why were women so prominent in the RAF? What does the continuing cultural response to the German armed struggle tell us about the representation of violence, power and gender today? Engaging critical theory, Charity Scribner addresses these questions and analyzes signal works that point beyond militancy and terrorism. This literature and art discloses the failures of the Far Left and registers the radical potential that RAF women actually forfeited. After the Red Army Faction maps out a cultural history of militancy and introduces postmilitancy as a new critical term. As Scribner demonstrates, the most compelling examples of postmilitant culture don't just repudiate militancy; these works investigate its horizons of possibility, particularly on the front of sexual politics. Objects of analysis include as yet untranslated essays by Theodor Adorno and Jürgen Habermas as well as novels by Friedrich Dürrenmatt and Judith Kuckart. Johann Kresnik's Tanztheaterstück, Ulrike Meinhof and the blockbuster exhibition Regarding Terror at the Berlin Kunstwerke. Scribner focuses on German cinema, offering incisive interpretations of films by Margarethe von Trotta, Volker Schlöndorff and Fatih Akin as well as the international box office success The Baader Meinhof Complex. These readings disclose dynamic junctures among several fields of inquiry: national and sexual identity, the disciplining of the militant body and the relationship between mass media and the arts.

Christoph Schlingensief Anna Teresa Scheer, 2018-02-22 The first book to focus specifically on the late German artist Christoph Schlingensief s theatre work it subversively merges art politics and everyday life to imbue his productions both inside and outside the theatre with a re energized concept of the political in art Scheer traces Schlingensief s artistic lineage as a filmmaker with no formal training in theatre whose work does not correspond to theoretical frameworks such as postdramatic theatre Regietheater or established categories of political theatre such as Brechtian community and agit prop theatre She explores how his work instead draws upon the highly performative gestures of the historical and post Cold War avant gardes as well the happenings and event based practices of the sixties Comprehensive case studies of six diverse theatrical and activist events are offered to demonstrate both the immediacy of Schlingensief s response to contemporary social and political events and his use of a range of artistic influences and different genres Rocky Dutschke 68 1996 Save Capitalism Throw the Money Away 1999 The Berlin Republic or the Ring in Africa 1999 Hamlet 2001 Atta Atta Art Has Broken Out 2003 and the Church of Fear 2003 Key questions such as how his theatre functions as a provocation and how an artist can insert themselves into the powerful flows of imagery produced by the perpetual global news cycle form a coherent line of enquiry throughout each of the chapters The significance of Schlingensief s artistic legacy of politicized theatre making that pioneers new modes of active aesthetic and public engagement in the political realm remains pertinent to topical socio political debates and is of relevance to an international audience across a diversity of disciplines

The Age of Fitness Jürgen Martschukat, 2021-01-22 We live in the age of fitness Hundreds of thousands of people run marathons and millions go jogging in local parks work out in gyms cycle swim or practice yoga The vast majority are not engaged in competitive sport and are not trying to win any medals They just want to get fit Why this modern preoccupation with fitness

In this new book Jürgen Martschukat traces the roots of our modern preoccupation with fitness back to the birth of modern societies in the eighteenth century showing how the idea of fitness was interwoven with modernity's emphasis on perpetual optimization and renewal. But it is only in the period since the 1970s he argues that the age of fitness truly emerged as part and parcel of our contemporary neoliberal era. Neoliberalism enjoins individuals to work on themselves to cultivate themselves in body and mind. Fitness becomes a guiding principle of social life, an era-defining network of discourses and practices that shape individuals' actions and self-conceptions. The pursuit of fitness becomes a cultural repertoire that is deeply ingrained in our institutions and way of life. This wide-ranging book shows how deeply fitness is inscribed in modern societies and how important fitness has become to success or failure, recognition or exclusion in a society that sets great store by self-responsibility, performance, market and competition. It will be of great value not only to those interested in sport and fitness but also to anyone concerned with the conditions of success and failure in our societies today. Mein langer

Lauf zu mir selbst Joschka Fischer, 2018-01-22 Easier Fatherland Steve Crawshaw, 2004-06-14 Germany is the most important and powerful country in Europe. And yet it remains strangely little understood by itself as much as by the rest of the world. It is in a state of remarkable flux, confronting the demons of the past whilst also seeking to make the West and the East into one country, a much greater challenge than it seemed. The coming enlargement of the European Union, which will bring much of formerly communist Eastern Europe into the EU, will make Germany more pivotal than ever. So what makes this country tick? For decades after the Second World War the country remained strongly polluted by the Nazi legacy; there was little attempt to confront the past. For today's younger generation, by contrast, Nazism was a weird aberration that they themselves have difficulty in understanding. The book will explore those changes and how German society itself is still in the midst of enormous change. The story takes us through three periods: Before the Poison, pre-1933; The Poison, 1933-45; and the heart of the book, the period of Coming to Terms, and the changes that this period has brought to the shape of the country. The coming to terms with the past overlaps from 1990 onwards with the East-West story, where mutual misunderstanding has been rife.
