Radical

Pedagogies Beatriz Colomina, Ignacio G. Galán, Evangelos Kotsioris, Anna-Maria Meister, 2022-05-31 Experiments in architectural education in the post World War II era that challenged and transformed architectural discourse and practice In the decades after World War II new forms of learning transformed architectural education These radical experiments sought to upend disciplinary foundations and conventional assumptions about the nature of architecture as much as they challenged modernist and colonial norms decentered building imagined new roles for the architect and envisioned participatory forms of practice Although many of the experimental programs were subsequently abandoned terminated or assimilated they nevertheless helped shape and in some sense define architectural discourse and practice This book explores and documents these radical pedagogies and efforts to defy architecture's status quo The experiments include the adaptation of Bauhaus pedagogy as a means of unlearning under the conditions of decolonization in Africa a movement to design for every body including the disabled by architecture students and faculty at the University of California Berkeley the founding of a support network for women interested in the built environment regardless of their academic backgrounds and a design studio in the USSR that offered an alternative to the widespread functionalist approach in Soviet design Viewed through their dissolution and afterlife as well as through their founding stories these projects from the last century raise provocative questions about architecture's role in the new century

Geo-Narratives of a Filial Son Elizabeth Kindall, 2020-05-11 Huang Xiangjian a mid seventeenth century member of the Suzhou local elite journeyed on foot to southwest China and recorded its sublime scenery in site specific paintings Elizabeth Kindall's innovative analysis of the visual experiences and social functions Huang conveyed through his oeuvre reveals an unrecognized tradition of site paintings here labeled geo narratives that recount specific journeys and create meaning in the paintings Kindall shows how Huang created these geo narratives by drawing upon the Suzhou place painting tradition as well as the encoded experiences of southwestern sites discussed in historical gazetteers and personal travel records and the geography of the sites themselves Ultimately these works were intended to create personas and fulfill specific social purposes among the educated class during the Ming Qing transition Some of Huang's paintings of the southwest together with his travel records became part of a campaign to attain the socially generated title of Filial Son whereas others served private functions This definitive study elucidates the context for Huang Xiangjian's painting and identifies geo narrative as a distinct landscape painting tradition lauded for its naturalistic immediacy experiential topography and dramatic narratives of moral persuasion class identification and biographical commemoration

Art and Asia Pacific, 1998 Tragediia sovetskoi derevni, 1999 Mandate of Heaven Richard M. Barnhart, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Wen C. Fong, Maxwell K. Hearn, 1996 Ulrich's Periodicals Directory, 1983 A Magazine, 1992 Picturing the True Form Shih-shan Susan Huang, 2020-03-17 Picturing the True Form investigates the long neglected visual culture of Daoism China's primary indigenous religion from the tenth through thirteenth centuries with references to both earlier and later times In this richly illustrated book Shih-shan Susan Huang provides a comprehensive mapping of Daoist images in various media including Dunhuang manuscripts funerary artifacts and paintings as well as other charts illustrations and talismans preserved in the fifteenth century Daoist Canon True form zhenxing the key concept behind Daoist visuality is not static but entails an active journey of seeing underlying and secret phenomena This book s structure mirrors the two part Daoist journey from inner to outer Part I focuses on inner images associated with meditation and visualization practices for self cultivation and longevity Part II investigates the visual and material dimensions of Daoist ritual Interwoven through these discussions is the idea that the inner and outer mirror each other and the boundary demarcating the two is fluid Huang also reveals three central modes of Daoist symbolism aniconic immaterial and ephemeral and shows how Daoist image making goes beyond the traditional dichotomy of text and image to incorporate writings in image design It is these particular features that distinguish Daoist visual culture from its Buddhist counterpart
