Mekeo Inequality And Ambivalence In A Village Society:

Mekeo Epeli Hau'ofa, 1981 Mekeo E. Hau'Ofa, 1981-01-01 Across the Great Divide Bronwen Douglas, 2013-12-19

Across the Great Divide tracks a Pacific historian's fruitful ambivalent engagements with History and Anthropology anticipating experiments in each discipline with the other's theories and praxis. The revised and new essays comprising this collection provide systematic critiques of aspects of received scholarly wisdom about Oceania and are linked by reflexive commentaries addressing recent postcolonial concerns. A varied but coherent set of ethnographic and historical narratives about colonial encounters in Island Melanesia is informed by particular critical focus on the paradoxes and politics of knowing indigenous pasts through colonial texts.

Dealing with Inequality Marilyn Strathern, 1987-12-10 This 1987 volume comprises ten essays by anthropologists who interrogate the nature of social inequality between the sexes in societies mostly in Melanesia.

Sharing the Earth, Dividing the Land Thomas Reuter, 2006-10-01 This collection of papers is the fifth in a series of volumes on the work of the Comparative Austronesian Project. Reflecting the unique experience of fourteen ethnographers in as many different societies, the papers in this volume explore how people in the Austronesian speaking societies of the Asia Pacific have traditionally constructed their relationship to land and specific territories. Focused on the nexus of local and global processes, the volume offers fresh perspectives to current debate in social theory on the conflicting human tendencies of mobility and emplacement.

State and Society in Papua New Guinea Ronald James May, 2004-05-01 This volume brings together a number of papers written by the author between 1971 and 2001 which address issues of political and economic development and social change in Papua New Guinea.

Antiliberal Internationalism in the Twentieth Century Matthijs Lok, Marjet Brolsma, Robin de Bruin, Stefan Couperus, Rachel McElroy White, 2025-05-21 This book shows how antiliberal discourse, thought and mobilization have in defiance of nationalist aims been significantly shaped and determined in the international sphere as new collaborations position themselves against the liberal order established after the fall of the Berlin Wall. Despite often drawing inspiration from nationalist movements and ideologies, antiliberalism is a phenomenon that transcends domestic contexts and settings in important ways. This collection of essays charts the many-sided aspects of twentieth-century internationalism and its contemporary developments across the globe. Without excluding well-known European sources of antiliberal internationalism, it decentres the European experience by exploring specific case studies from South and East Asia, the Middle East, the Americas, Africa and Oceania. Moreover, the volume abundantly demonstrates that liberalism and anti-liberalism cannot be considered as fixed entities as anti-liberalism was and is as much defined by its enemies as by its advocates. This book is intended for scholars and students of International Studies, Intellectual History, Political History, Political Science, European Studies and Global Studies as well as for journalists and policymakers interested in contemporary Europe, cosmopolitanism, political polarization and the traditions of the right and far right.

Lal,2004-04-30 Places matter We are shaped by them and in turn we shape them physically and imaginatively They connect us to time and locality perhaps even to life and death itself This is a book about places and how our engagement with them complex changing and varied forms and transforms our understanding of them of ourselves of the human condition itself Pacific Places Pacific Histories brings together leading Pacific Islands studies scholars and invites them to talk about the places they have inhabited and to contemplate the meaning of that experience The result is a veritable collage of reflections distinct and different from each other but moving in their collective impact Our engagement with places becomes daily more complicated with the transnational movement of peoples ideas technologies and cultures Global capitalism relentlessly alters established ethnographic assumptions about the meaning and importance of where we are and have been The essays presented here are about letting go learning and un learning transgressing physical emotional and intellectual boundaries They are about personal quests narrated in distinctive voices raising particular concerns Together they contribute significantly to our understanding of how small islands in a vast ocean enable us to see ourselves and the world around us

From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology Bruce Knaft,2025-10-01 What have anthropologists taught us about Melanesia one of anthropology s most important and intensively studied world regions In this book Professor Bruce Knaft draws together and critically reanalyzes what we know about major features of Melanesian cultural history warfare and politics gender bodily practices and spirituality as discerned from more than a century of academic study From Primitive to Postcolonial in Melanesia and Anthropology is arguably the most comprehensive single reassessment of Melanesia as an ethnographic world area to have been published in several decades Written for students as well as professional scholars this work further broadens our understanding by analyzing the history of Melanesian ethnography and relating this history to the larger relationship between Melanesia as a contemporary world area and anthropology as a field of contemporary human study Bruce M Knaft is Professor of Anthropology Emory University and the author of three previous books as well as some thirty journal articles and chapters Knauff's interests span a wide range of issues in the anthropology of Melanesia and he is articulate with general issues of cultural theory and anthropological history

Anthropological Approaches to Political Behavior Frank McGlynn, Arthur Tuden, 1991-07-15 Power is immanent in human affairs by definition human beings are political animals The only way to fully comprehend and analyze the complexities of power is to locate where material psychological and social dimensions of political power are ultimately and socially situated and reproduced This collection of essays highlights the theoretical concerns of political anthropology Initially published in the journal Ethnology the essays were classroom tested and collected on the basis of student comments An in depth introduction presents the intellectual traditions in political anthropology and focuses particularly on the manner in which various periods defined and dealt with the nature of social power It also places current works within the framework of critical but constantly revised theoretical problems Contributors Mart Bax Ernest Brandewie Karen J Brison Philip A Dennis Richard G Dillon Harvey E Goldberg James Howe Donald T Hughes Roger M Keesing Donald V Kurtz Charles Lindholm Robert F Maher Richard W Miller Sydel F Silverman L Lewis Wall Daniela Weinberg

Rethinking Judicial Power in Papua New Guinea Bal Kama, 2024-08-19 This book examines the role and nature of the judiciary in Papua New Guinea PNG the first comprehensive study since the country's independence in 1975 It challenges the traditional view of the judiciary as solely a legal entity arguing for its broader social and political functions Critiquing assumptions inherited from British and Australian colonial thinking it discusses how decolonisation has redefined judicial power enabling courts to have a more transformative role Introducing transformative constitutionalism into Australian Pacific legal thinking the book argues that PNG has a transformative constitution defined by its intent for reform extensive Charter of Rights and a liberal judiciary features not found in other Pacific constitutions Given the region's challenges such as corruption political instability and climate change the book advocates for a more proactive role for the judiciary It proposes a re evaluation of the classical tripartite doctrine of separation of powers advocating for a quadripartite model in PNG where the judiciary has a broader reformative function and the independent constitutional institutions constitute a fourth arm of government This work makes important contributions to understandings of judicial power and constitutional law as well as other fields including comparative constitutional studies legal history and decolonial scholarship

On the Order of Chaos Mark S. Mosko, Frederick H. Damon, 2005 The essays in this volume collectively transform perspectives previously experienced as divergent conflicting and inconsistent into a common and complex orientation to problems central to the natural and social sciences involving transitions between order and disorder Jacket

Embracing the Song of Term: An Mental Symphony within Mekeo Inequality And Ambivalence In A Village Society

In some sort of taken by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of quick interaction, the melodic splendor and mental symphony developed by the published word often disappear in to the background, eclipsed by the relentless sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. However, located within the pages of Mekeo Inequality And Ambivalence In A Village Society a charming fictional treasure overflowing with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an outstanding composer of language, that fascinating masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional journey, skillfully unraveling the hidden tunes and profound affect resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase. Within the depths with this poignant analysis, we can explore the book is central harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing style, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
