Melancholy Of Rebirth Essays From Post Communist Central Europe 1989 1994:

The Melancholy of Rebirth György Konrád, 1995 After the Fall Noemi Marin, 2007 Noemi Marin analyzes famous writers from the area as critical intellectuals and exiles in order to explore the role of rhetoric and identity in writers own experiences during the long history of communism Along with examinations of discursive relationships among power culture and resistance in works by George Konrad Andrei Codrescu and Siavenka Drakulic before and after the fall of communism Marin proposes specific dimensions for a rhetoric of exile pertinent to communist Eastern and Central Europe After the Fall shows how critical works on identity culture and communist history by the writers studied aid in reconstituting a rhetoric of dissidence identity and legitimation in the public discourse of a changing Europe The book offers a unique perspective on the complex contexts of political transition in which competing public discourse on freedom and democracy intersect with totalitarian regimes unsettled societies and issues of resistance East Central Europe since 1989 Sabrina P. Ramet, Lavinia Stan, 2024-12-12 This groundbreaking treatment of post communist developments in East Central Europe examines politics economics media religious institutions transitional justice gender inequality and literature highlighting the overt functions latent functions and side effects associated with each sphere Communism in East Central Europe had cracks from the beginning as uprisings in East Germany in 1953 and Hungary in 1956 demonstrated But with the establishment of the Independent Trade Union Solidarity in Poland in the Summer of 1980 communism went into steady decline and between 1988 and 1991 crumbled What followed has been an unsteady transition to various forms of often corrupt pluralism with democracy doing best in the Czech Republic with the exception of the years 2017 2021 and Slovenia and worst in Hungary Albania Serbia and Bosnia Herzegovina Drawing on the functionalist theory of Robert K Merton the authors examine what policymakers communist and post communist were or are trying to accomplish the intended and unintended results of these policies and the side effects they have produced This volume will be of interest not only to specialists in East Central Europe but also to graduate and undergraduate students members of the diplomatic corps and general readers Writing Postcommunism D. Williams, 2013-08-16 Moving through the elegiac ruins of the Berlin Wall and the Yugoslav disintegration Writing Postcommunism explores literary evocations of the pervasive disappointment and mourning that have marked the postcommunist twilight Jews, Nazis and the Cinema of Hungary David Frey, 2017-02-28 Between 1929 and 1942 Hungary s motion picture industry experienced meteoric growth It leapt into Europe s top echelon trailing only Nazi Germany and Italy in feature output Yet by 1944 Hungary s cinema was in shambles internal and external forces having destroyed its unification experiments and productive capacity This original cultural and political history examines the birth unexpected ascendance and wartime collapse of Hungary s early sound cinema by placing it within a complex international nexus Detailing the interplay of Hungarian cultural and political elites Jewish film professionals and financiers Nazi officials and global film moguls David Frey demonstrates how the transnational process of forging an industry designed to define a national culture proved particularly contentious and surprisingly contradictory in the heyday of racial nationalism and antisemitism Writing Diaspora in the West P. McCarthy,2009-02-17 In this bold intervention into the understanding of the diasporic experience within cultural studies McCarthy challenges a critical position emergent over the last thirty years what he calls the new marginalism He confronts the liberal orthodoxies that prevail in this area exposing contradictions in the thinking of its major theorists Teaching Beauty in DeLillo, Woolf, and Merrill J. Green-Lewis,M. Soltan,2008-04-14

What happened to beauty How did the university literature classroom turn into a seminar on politics Focusing on such writers as Don DeLillo Virginia Woolf and James Merrill this book examines what has been lost to literature as a discipline and to literary criticism as a practice as a result of efforts to reduce the aesthetic to the ideological Green Lewis and Soltan celebrate the return of beauty as a subject in its own right to literary studies a return all the more urgent given beauty's ability to provide not merely consolation but a sense of order and control in the context of a threatening political world

The Columbia Guide to the Literatures of Eastern Europe Since 1945 Harold B. Segel,2003 The Iron Curtain concealed from western eyes a vital group of national and regional writers Marked by not only geographical proximity but also by the shared experience of communism and its collapse the countries of Eastern Europe Poland Hungary Albania Romania Bulgaria and the former states of Yugoslavia Czechoslovakia and East Germany share literatures that reveal many common themes when examined together Compiled by a leading scholar the guide includes an overview of literary trends in historical context a listing of some 700 authors by country and an A to Z section of articles on the most influential writers Cinema of Flames Dina Iordanova,2019-07-25 First study of cinema media and the Balkan wars Wide ranging view of politics and culture of the region The break up of Yugoslavia triggered a truly international film making project Underground Ulysses Gaze Before the Rain Pretty Village Pretty Flame and Welcome to Sarajevo were amongst a host of films created as the conflicts in the region unravelled These conflicts restored the Balkans as a centrepiece of Western imagery and the media especially cinema assumed a leading but ambiguous role in defining it for global consumption through a narrow range of selectively defined images Simultaneously a lot of the high quality cinematic and television work made in the region much of it discussed in this book remains relatively unknown Cinema of Flames attempts to go deeper than the imagery and address some of the general concerns of the cross cultural representation and self representation of the Balkans narrative strategies within the context of Balkan exclusion from the European cultural sphere the cosmopolitan image of Sarejevo diaspora and the representations of villains victims women and ethnic minorities all considered in the general context of Balkan cinema encyclopaedic in scope and brilliance making excellent use of the scholarly literature whilst interweaving analysis of films and other mass media The book will be a superb addition to the literatures on Bosnia and Yugoslavia It will also serve as a standard reference on Balkans film Robert Hayden University of Pittsburgh Fantasies of Salvation Vladimir Tismaneanu,2009-06-28 Eastern Europe has become an ideological battleground since the collapse of the Soviet Union with liberals and authoritarians struggling to seize the ground lost by Marxism In Fantasies of Salvation Vladimir Tismaneanu traces the intellectual history of this struggle and warns that authoritarian nationalists pose a serious threat to democratic forces A leading observer of the often baffling world of post Communist Europe Tismaneanu shows that extreme nationalistic and authoritarian thought has been influential in Eastern Europe for much of this century while liberalism has only shallow historical roots Despite democratic successes in places such as the Czech Republic and Poland he argues it would be a mistake for the West to assume that liberalism will always triumph He backs this argument by showing how nationalist intellectuals have encouraged ethnic hatred in such countries as Russia Romania and the former Yugoslavia by reviving patriotic myths of heroes scapegoats and historical injustices And he shows how enthusiastically these myths have been welcomed by people desperate for some form of salvation from political and economic uncertainty On a theoretical level Tismaneanu challenges the common ideas that the ideological struggle is between right and left or between nationalists and internationalists In a careful analysis of the conflict s ideological roots he argues that it is more useful and historically accurate to view the struggle as between those who embrace the individualist traditions of the Enlightenment and those who reject them Tismaneanu himself has been active in the intellectual battles he describes particularly in his native Romania and makes insightful use of interviews with key members of the dissident movements of the 1970s and 1980s He offers original observations of countries from the Baltic to the Black Sea and expresses his ideas in a vivid and forceful style Fantasies of Salvation is an indispensable book for both academic and nonacademic readers who wish to understand the forces shaping one of the world s most important and unpredictable regions North African Mosaic Nabil Boudraa, Joseph

Krause, 2009-03-26 This book s ambition is to offer the most recent scholarship on North African cultures at a time when the very notion of culture is being re evaluated in the shifting tides that both associate and divorce the forces of nationalism globalism and neo liberalism Another ambition is to be a readable document about the past and the potential of North African civilizations Those which have been crystallized into a polysemic voice from centuries of occupations exchanges and what is now commonly called hybridizations In this work the collective position of the authors with their different fields of experience is that the languages musics and the many expressions of common life in North Africa continue to flourish That they are a bridge between sub Saharan peoples and Europe That they are a necessary antidote to the anemic political discourses that have prevailed since decolonization That they are seminal for the future of the African continent as it begins its true voyage into democracy It is difficult at this juncture to measure the distance that in the decades to come will be achieved on that voyage It is however less difficult to evaluate the importance of North Africa on tomorrow s world If the past is an indicator it will be an important force in the cross flow of trade ideas and of global destinies In Defense of Globalization Jagdish Bhagwati, 2007-09-04 In the passionate debate that currently rages over globalization critics have been heard blaming it for a host of ills afflicting poorer nations everything from child labor to environmental degradation and cultural homogenization

Now Jagdish Bhagwati the internationally renowned economist takes on the critics revealing that globalization when properly governed is in fact the most powerful force for social good in the world today Drawing on his unparalleled knowledge of international and development economics Bhagwati explains why the gotcha examples of the critics are often not as compelling as they seem With the wit and wisdom for which he is renowned Bhagwati convincingly shows that globalization is part of the solution not part of the problem This edition features a new afterword by the author in which he counters recent writings by prominent journalist Thomas Friedman and the Nobel Laureate economist Paul Samuelson and argues that current anxieties about the economic implications of globalization are just as unfounded as were the concerns about its social effects

Central Europe Lonnie Johnson, 1996-10-31 Throughout the Cold War era the Iron Curtain divided Central Europe into a Communist East and a democratic West and we grew accustomed to looking at this part of the world in bipolar ideological terms Yet many people living on both sides of the Iron Curtain considered themselves Central Europeans and the idea of Central Europe was one of the driving forces behind the revolutionary year of 1989 as well as the deterioration of Yugoslavia and its ensuing wars Central Europe provides a broad overview and comparative analysis of key events in a historical region that encompasses contemporary Germany Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Austria Hungary Slovenia and Croatia Starting with the initial conversion of the pagan peoples of the region to Christianity around 1000 A D and concluding with the revolutions of 1989 and the problems of post Communist states today it illuminates the distinctive nature and peculiarities of the historical development of this region as a cohesive whole Lonnie R Johnson introduces readers to Central Europe s heritage of diversity the interplay of its cultures and the origins of its malicious ethnic and national conflicts History in Central Europe he shows has been epic and tragic Throughout the ages small nations struggled valiantly against a series of imperial powers Ottoman Turkey Habsburg Austria imperial Germany czarist Russia Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union and they lost regularly Johnson s account is present minded in the best sense in describing actual historical events he illustrates the ways they have been remembered and how they contribute to the national assumptions that still drive European politics today Indeed the constant interplay of reality and myth the processes of myth making and remembrance animates much of this history Since the fall of the Iron Curtain in 1989 the unanticipated problems of transforming post Communist states into democracies with market economies the wars in the former Yugoslavia and the challenges of European integration have all made Central Europe the most dynamic and troubled region in Europe In Central Europe Johnson combines a vivid and panoramic narrative of events a nuanced analysis of social economic and political developments and a thoughtful portrait of those myths and memories that have lives of their own and consequences for all of Europe

Culture and Technology in the New Europe Laura B. Lengel,2000-04-13 Culture and Technology in the New Europe presents the insights of an international group of academic researchers and media practitioners who examine the impact of technology on East Central Europe South Eastern Europe the Newly Independent States and the Russian Federation Drawing from the expertise of authors from and working in the region the book addresses concerns that the New Europe faces at the eve of the Third Millennium and a decade after the fall of communist rule Such concerns include access to information and communication technology and the culturally specific discourses articulated through media and technology While the book focuses on information and communication reforms and the development of a participatory democracy are examined The book is distinguished by diverse studies ranging from the problems of Cyber Hate from and about the New Europe to online activism in war torn Kosovo Bosnia Croatia and Yugoslavia to how digital media art articulates new cultural and creative freedoms once silenced by the Soviet regime Finally the book looks to the future of media technology and communication in the New Europe particularly the gaps between post socialist nations and those more technologically advantaged and how these gaps can be narrowed or eradicated in the Third Millennium

Imagining the Balkans Maria Todorova,2009-04-15 If the Balkans hadn t existed they would have been invented was the verdict of Count Hermann Keyserling in his famous 1928 publication Europe Over ten years ago Maria Todorova traced the relationship between the reality and the invention Based on a rich selection of travelogues diplomatic accounts academic surveys journalism and belles lettres in many languages Imagining the Balkans explored the ontology of the Balkans from the sixteenth century to the present day uncovering the ways in which an insidious intellectual tradition was constructed became mythologized and is still being transmitted as discourse Maria Todorova who was raised in the Balkans is in a unique position to bring both scholarship and sympathy to her subject and in a new afterword she reflects on recent developments in the study of the Balkans and political developments on the ground since the publication of Imagining the Balkans The afterword explores the controversy over Todorova's coining of the term Balkanism With this work Todorova offers a timely updated accessible study of how an innocent geographic appellation was transformed into one of the most powerful and widespread pejorative designations in modern history Imagining the Balkans Мария Николаева Тодорова, 1997 Starting in the 18th and 19th centuries and continuing up to the present Imagining the Balkans covers the Balkan's most formative years

From Old Times to New Europe Agata Fijalkowski, 2016-04-22 From Old Times to New Europe considers the post totalitarian legal framework in today's Europe arguing that the study of totalitarianism and post totalitarianism continues to be significant as ever Drawing mainly on the Polish experience this analysis focuses on the significant part played by history in the development of the region's identity and preferences concerning the role of the state in public and private life It examines the political socio economic and legal aspects of key events and draws comparisons with other CEE states whilst implementing key socio legal theories to explain trends and strains in this post Communist and post totalitarian period With the benefit of access to archival sources in Poland and Russia this book will be of interest to students and researchers of European law law and society and international criminal justice The Ghosts of Europe Anna Porter, 2011-01-18 In 1989 Adam Michnik said that Central Europe came as a messenger not only of freedom and tolerance but also of hatred and intolerance It is here in Central Europe that the last two wars began Nearing the twentieth anniversary of Communism's collapse acclaimed author Anna Porter traveled to Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia and Hungary to discover whether and how democracy has taken root in these former Iron Curtain countries The former borderlands of the long defunct Hapsburg Empire and the more recently dispersed Soviet Empire have attempted to invent their own forms of democracy and capitalism However disturbing signs of old attitudes have returned bringing into question Central Europe's ability to reform its elites and to effectively control public demonstrations of hatred the rise of racial tensions and the emergence of fascist parties Porter interviewed the young and the old the winners and the losers in this grand European transformation Porter walks Wenceslas Square with those who suffered the violence of the state police and helped to organize the 89 revolution She meets with revolutionary leaders such as Vclav Havel and Adam Michnik as well as custodians of the new regimes among them Radek Sikorski Michael Kocub and Ferenc Gyurcsany She takes us to Poland's Institute of National Remembrance and Budapest's House of Terror Museum fascinating if controversial attempts to reckon with dark periods of history She interviews the wealthiest man in Hungary the general who ordered martial law in Poland attends an ultraright rally and visits a Gypsy village where a newly burgeoning yet all too familiar racism has destroyed a family Gradually a portrait emerges of a Europe struggling under the weight of history and memory its peoples divided over half forgotten events old ethnic rivalries borders drawn and redrawn ghosts that had lurked unacknowledged under Communism's force fed stories of peaceful coexistence and a common front toward the Western enemy Now Central European rhetoric veers between historical reckoning revisionism and the politics of retribution Penetrating fascinating and powerfully observed The Ghosts of Europe illuminates themes of tyranny nationalism racism and denial in nations with a tumultuous history and a future very much in the balance
