Memoir of an Art Gallery Julien Levy, 2003 Introduction by Ingrid Schaffner
Kachur, 2001 How the exhibition spaces of Surrealism anticipated installation art
Perl, 2017-10-24 The first biography of America's greatest twentieth century sculptor Alexander Calder an authoritative and revelatory achievement based on a wealth of letters and papers never before available and written by one of our most renowned art critics Alexander Calder is one of the most beloved and widely admired artists of the twentieth century Anybody who has ever set foot in a museum knows him as the inventor of the mobile America's unique contribution to modern art But only now forty years after the artist's death is the full story of his life being told in this biography which is based on unprecedented access to Calder's letters and papers as well as scores of interviews Jed Perl shows us why Calder was and remains a barrier breaker an avant garde artist with mass appeal This beautifully written deeply researched book opens with Calder's wonderfully peripatetic upbringing in Philadelphia California and New York Born in 1898 into a family of artists his father was a well known sculptor his mother a painter and a pioneering feminist Calder went on as an adult to forge important friendships with a who's who of twentieth century artists including Joan Mir Marcel Duchamp Georges Braque and Piet Mondrian We move through Calder's early years studying engineering to his first artistic triumphs in Paris in the late 1920s and to his emergence as a leader in the international abstract avant garde His marriage in 1931 to the free spirited Louisa James she was a great niece of Henry James is a richly romantic story related here with a wealth of detail and nuance Calder's life takes on a transatlantic richness from New York's Greenwich Village in the Roaring Twenties to the Left Bank of Paris during the Depression and then back to the United States where the Calders bought a run down old farmhouse in western Connecticut New light is shed on Calder's lifelong interest in dance theater and performance ranging from the Cirque Calder the theatrical event that became his calling card in bohemian Paris to collaborations with the choreographer Martha Graham and the composer Virgil Thomson More than 350 illustrations in color and black and white including little known works and many archival photographs that have never before been seen further enrich the story John McAndrew's Modernist Vision Mardges Bacon, 2018-11-06 John McAndrew's Modernist Vision tells the compelling story of the architect scholar and curator John McAndrew who played a key role in redefining modernism in the United States from the 1930s onward The designer of the Vassar College Art Library arguably the first modern interior on a college campus and the curator of architecture at the Museum of Modern Art in New York from 1937 to 1941 McAndrew was instrumental in creating a distinct and innovative aesthetic that bridged the European modernist lineage and American regional vernacular Providing a fascinating glimpse into McAndrew's life his associations with important architects and artists and the historical context that shaped his work this book is a thoroughly researched testament to a man who left a powerful mark on the evolution of American architecture Confessions of an Art Dealer John Howard Swanson, 1995 Jack Swanson's autobiographical fast paced book that powerfully captures the art fever that enthralled the American public over the past two decades Swanson a colorful entrepreneur FAX 415 433 1030 Hollywood and the Culture Elite Peter

Decherney,2005-04-06 As Americans flocked to the movies during the first part of the twentieth century the guardians of culture grew worried about their diminishing influence on American art education and American identity itself Meanwhile Hollywood studio heads were eager to stabilize their industry solidify their place in mainstream society and expand their new but tenuous hold on American popular culture Peter Decherney explores how these needs coalesced and led to the development of a symbiotic relationship between the film industry and America s stewards of high culture Formed during Hollywood s Golden Age 1915 1960 this unlikely partnership ultimately insured prominent places in American culture for both the movie industry and elite cultural institutions It redefined Hollywood as an ideal American industry it made movies an art form instead of simply entertainment for the masses and it made moviegoing a vital civic institution For their part museums and universities used films to maintain their position as quintessential American institutions As the book delves into the ties between Hollywood bigwigs and various cultural leaders an intriguing cast of characters emerges including the poet Vachel Lindsay film producers Adolph Zukor and Joseph Kennedy Hollywood flak and censor extraordinaire Will Hays and philanthropist turned politician Nelson Rockefeller Decherney considers how Columbia University s film studies program helped integrate Jewish students into American culture while also professionalizing screenwriting He examines MoMA s career savvy film curator Iris Barry a British feminist once dedicated to stemming the tide of U S cultural imperialism who ultimately worked with Hollywood and the U S government to fight fascism and communism and promote American values abroad Other chapters explore Vachel Lindsay s progressive vision of movies as reinvigorating the public sphere through film libraries and museums the promotion of movie connoisseurship at Harvard and other universities and how the heir of a railroad magnate bankrolled the American avant garde film movement Amid ethnic diversity the rise of mass entertainment world war and the global spread of American culture Hollywood and cultural institutions worked together to insure their own survival and profitability and to provide a coherent though shifting American identity From Paris to Tlön Delia

Black Angel Nouritza Matossian, 2002-08-01. A biography of the Armenian painter that adds immeasurably to the interest of his art. Carefully researched, well written and enlightening. The New York Review of Books. In this first full scale biography Nouritza Matossian charts the mysterious and tragic life of Arshile Gorky, one of the most influential painters of the twentieth century. Born Manoug Adoian in Armenia, he survived the Turkish genocide of 1915 before coming to America where he posed as a cousin of the famous Russian author Maxim Gorky. One of the first abstract expressionists, Gorky became a major figure of the New York School which included de Kooning, Rothko, Pollock and others. But after a devastating series of illnesses, injuries and personal setbacks, he committed suicide at the age of forty-six. In Black Angel, arts journalist Matossian analyzes Gorky's personal letters as well as other new source material. She writes with authority, insight and compassion about the powerful influence Gorky's life and Armenian heritage had upon his painting.

Landscape with Figures Malcolm Goldstein, 2000-11-30. How did the United States become not only the leading contemporary art scene in the world but also the leading market for art? The answer has to do not only with the talents of American artists or even the size of the American economy but also and especially the skills and entrepreneurship of American art dealers. Their story has not been told until now. Landscape with Figures is the first history of art dealing in the United States following the profession from eighteenth century portrait and picture salesmen in the colonies to the high profile, jet set gallery owners of today. Providing anecdotal and carefully researched biographies of the prominent dealers from more than two centuries of trade, author Malcolm Goldstein shows how magnanimous personalities and social networking helped to shape the way Americans have bought and valued art. These dealers range from Michael Paff, whose enthusiasm often overshadowed his expertise but nonetheless helped him sell faux Old Master paintings to major collectors in the early nineteenth century, to the imperious Joseph Duveen dealer, to magnates like Henry Clay Frick, to visionary Leo

Castelli who helped to usher in a revolution in modern art during the 1960s by showing such avant garde artists as Jasper Johns Robert Rauschenberg and Andy Warhol Goldstein also shows that the American art trade while male dominated has been galvanized by female dealers including the inimitable Edith Gregor Halpert Peggy Guggenheim and Mary Boone Their fascinating stories unfold in the context of world art history the rise of major art institutions like the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney Museum and the growing zeal of art collectors who would eventually pay millions for individual works of art Unprecedented and critical to understanding today s art world Landscape with Figures is a must for artists art history students and art lovers

National Camera Roberto Tejada, 2009 The author offers a comprehensive study of Mexican photography from the early twentieth century to today demonstrating how images have shaped identities in Mexico the United States and in the borderlands where the two nations and cultures intersect the shared image environment Cross cultural episodes that are contradictory especially in terms of cultural and sexual difference are discussed Analyzing such topics as territory sexuality and social and ethnic relations in image making the author traces the connective thread that photography has provided between Mexican and U S American intellectual and cultural production and in doing so defines both nations Back cover
