Memoirs Of A Woman Doctor:

Memoirs of a Woman Doctor Nawaal Sadaawia, 2014-05-22 A young Egyptian woman clashes with her traditional family when she chooses a career in medicine Rather than submit to an arranged marriage and motherhood she cuts her hair short and works fiercely to realise her dreams At medical school she begins to understand the mysteries of the human body After years of denying her own desires the doctor begins a series of love affairs that allow her to explore her sexuality on her own terms Written in her twenties when Nawal El Saadawi was studying in Cairo Memoirs of a Woman Doctor is the searing coming of age story of a woman striving for freedom in a male dominated world This classic feminist novel remains as thought provoking today as when it was first published

Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2010-01-01 Authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers This process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography Do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why How do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world This book tackles these questions through a close examination of Arab women s autobiographical writings Nawar Al Hassan Golley applies a variety of western critical theories including Marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of Huda Shaarawi Fadwa Tuqan Nawal el Saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about Arab women s writing At the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures This two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of Arab women s autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts

Memoirs of a Woman Doctor Nawal El Saadawi, 1989-01-01 Rebelling against the constraints of family and society a young Egyptian woman decides to study medicine becoming the only woman in a class of men Her encounters with the other students as well as the male and female corpses in the autopsy room

Men, Women, and Gods Fedwa Malti-Douglas, 2024-06-12 Men Women and God s is a pioneering study of the Arab world s leading feminist and most controversial woman writer Nawal El Saadawi Author of plays memoirs and such novels as Woman at Point Zero and The Innocence of the Devil El Saadawi has become well known in the West as well as in the Arab community for her unforgettable female heroes and explosive narratives which boldly address sexual violence female circumcision theology and other politically charged themes Her outspoken feminism and critique of patriarchy have also earned her the wrath of repressive forces in the Middle East Imprisoned in her native Egypt under Sadat El Saadawi is now among those on the death lists of Islamic religious conservatives In Men Women and God s Fedwa Malti Douglas makes the work of this important but little understood writer truly accessible Contending that El Saadawi s texts cannot be read in isolation from their Islamic and Arabic heritage Malti Douglas draws upon a deep knowledge of classical and modern Arabic textual traditions and on extensive conversations with Nawal El Saadawi to place the writer within her cultural and historical context With this impassioned and radical exegesis of El Saadawi s prolific output Malti Douglas has written a crucial study of one of the most controversial and influential writers of our time This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995

Woman's Body, Woman's Word Fedwa Malti-Douglas, 2019-01-15 Woman s voice and body are closely entwined in the Arabo Islamic tradition argues Fedwa Malti Douglas in this pioneering book Spanning the ninth through twentieth centuries and covering a wide range of texts from courtly anecdote to mystical and philosophical treatises from works of geography to autobiography this study reveals how woman s access to literary speech has remained mediated through her body Malti Douglas first analyzes classical texts both well known works like The Thousand and One Nights and others still ignored in the West in which the female voice often associated with wit or trickery of a sexual nature is subordinated to the male scriptor Showing how early Arabo Islamic discourse continues to influence contemporary Arabic writing she maintains that today feminist writers of novels short stories and autobiography must work through this tradition even if they subvert or reject it in the end Whereas woman in the classical period speaks through the body woman in the modern period often turns corporeality into a literary weapon to achieve power over discourse Fedwa Malti Douglas is Professor of Arabic and Comparative Literature at the University of Texas Austin Her books include Structures of Avarice The Bukhala in Medieval Arabic Literature Leiden and Blindness and Autobiography Al Ayyam of Taha Husayn Princeton Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Postcolonial Arabic Novel Muhsin Al-Musawi, 2003-04-09 This is the first study of its kind to tackle the postcolonial in Arabic fiction In ten chapters a lengthy preface and an extensive bibliography the author discusses and questions a large number of novels that demonstrate cultural diversity and richness in the Arab World Using current methodologies and discourse analysis the author highlights engagements with postcolonial issues that relate to identity formation the modern nation state individualism nationalism gender and class demarcations and micro politics With this intention the book locates Arabic narrative in the mainstream of world literature and establishes the modern Arabic novel in the contemporary literary critical world of postcolonial studies The author s lucid style and thorough knowledge of the field should recommend the book to students and scholars alike as it comes in time to meet the needs of the academy for solid writing on Islam and the Arabs

Contemporary Arab Women Writers Anastasia Valassopoulos, 2008-03-10 This book engages with contemporary Arab women writers from Egypt Palestine Lebanon and Algeria In spite of Edward Said s groundbreaking reappraisal of the uneven relationship between the West and the Arab world in Orientalism there has been little postcolonial criticism of Arab writing Anastasia Valassopoulos raises the profile of Arab women writers by examining how they negotiate contexts and experiences that have come to be identified with postcoloniality such as the preoccupation with Western feminism political conflict and war the social effects of non conformity and female empowerment and the negotiation of influential cultural discourses such as orientalism Contemporary Arab Women Writers revitalizes theoretical concepts associated with feminism gender studies and cultural studies and explores how art history popular culture translation studies psychoanalysis and news media all offer productive ways to associate with Arab women s writing that work beyond a limiting socio historical context Discussing the writings of authors including Ahdaf Soueif Nawal El Saadawi Leila Sebbar Liana Badr and Hanan Al Shaykh this book represents a new direction in postcolonial literary criticism that transcends constrictive monothematic approaches

God Dies by the Nile and Other Novels Nawal El Saadawi, 2024-06-27 Three classic novels by renowned feminist writer and activist Nawal El Saadawi A peasant family is torn apart by a village mayor and his lackeys in God Dies by the Nile Saadawi s dark parable of poverty female exploitation injustice and religious hypocrisy in rural Egypt In Searching the disappearance of her lover causes Fouda to question everything Circling Song is a hypnotic meditation on gender class and state violence told through the story of two mysterious twins

Mothers and Daughters in Arab Women's Literature Dalya Abudi, 2010-11-11 This study explores the mother daughter relationship as the most fundamental and most intimate female relationship and as the cornerstone of Arab family life Drawing on autobiographical and semifictional works by women writers from across the Arab world the study offers a first hand account of how Arab women view and experience this primary bond The author uses both early and contemporary writings of Arab women to illuminate the traditional and evolving nature of mother daughter relationships in Arab families and how these family dynamics reflect and influence modern Arab life The compelling narratives demystify the institutions of family and motherhood and show the potential of mothers and daughters to transform the patriarchal family and thus the fabric of Arab society A groundbreaking work that fills a void in cross cultural studies it is of interest to scholars and students of Middle Eastern studies women's studies and family studies

Fictions of Dignity Elizabeth S. Anker, 2012-11-20 Over the past fifty years debates about human rights have assumed an increasingly prominent place in postcolonial literature and theory Writers from Salman Rushdie to Nawal El Saadawi have used the novel to explore both the possibilities and challenges of enacting and protecting human rights particularly in the Global South In Fictions of Dignity Elizabeth S Anker shows how the dual enabling fictions of human dignity and bodily integrity contribute to an anxiety about the body that helps to explain many of the contemporary and historical failures of human rights revealing why and how lives are excluded from human rights protections along the lines of race gender class disability and species membership In the process Anker examines the vital work performed by a particular kind of narrative imagination in fostering respect for human rights Drawing on phenomenology Anker suggests how an embodied politics of reading might restore a vital fleshiness to the overly abstract disembodied subject of liberal rights Each of the novels Anker examines approaches human rights in terms of limits and paradoxes Rushdie's Midnight's Children addresses the obstacles to incorporating rights into a formerly colonized nation's legal culture El Saadawi's Woman at Point Zero takes up controversies over women's freedoms in Islamic society In Disgrace J M Coetzee considers the disappointments of post apartheid reconciliation in South Africa And in The God of Small Things Arundhati Roy confronts an array of human rights abuses widespread in contemporary India Each of these literary case studies further demonstrates the relevance of embodiment to both comprehending and redressing the failures of human rights even while those narratives refuse simplistic ideals or solutions Female Circumcision and the Politics of Knowledge Obioma Nnaemeka, 2005-07-30 Heated debates about and insurgencies against female circumcision are symptoms of a disease emanating from a mindset that produced hierarchies of humans conquered colonies and built empires The loss of colonies and empires does not in any way mitigate the ideological underpinnings of empire building and the knowledge construction that subtends it The mindset finds its articulation at points of coalescence Female circumcision provided a point of coalescence and impetus for this articulation Insisting that the hierarchy on which the imperialist project rests is not bipolar but multi layered and more complex the contributions in this volume demonstrate how imperialist discourses complicate issues of gender race and history Nnaemeka gives voice to the silenced and marginalized and creates space for them to participate in knowledge construction and theory making The authors in this volume trace the travels of imperial and colonial discourses from antecedents in anthropology travel writings and missionary discourse to modern configurations in films literature and popular culture The contributors interrogate foreign or Western modus operandi and interventions in the so called Third World and show how the resistance they generate can impede development work and undermine the true collaboration and partnership necessary to promote a transnational feminist agenda With great clarity and in simple accessible language the contributors present complex ideas and arguments which hold significant implications for transnational feminism and development Arab Women Novelists Joseph T. Zeidan, 1995-01-01 This book assesses the contribution of women to the Arabic novel both in subject matter and form It begins by tracing the struggle over women's rights in the Arab world particularly the gradual improvement in women's access to education the first area in which women made significant gains Subsequent chapters discuss Arab women writers remarkable talents and determination to overcome the barriers of a male dominated culture survey the 1950s and 1960s during which women's writing gained momentum and more women writers emerged and address the shift in emphasis and attitude that women's literature underwent in the late 1960s especially following the 1967 Arab Israeli war when women novelists began to place more stress on international politics Zeidan adapts Western based feminist literary theory to a discussion of Arab women's literature but refrains from imposing that theory inappropriately on literature whose context differs significantly He compares the women's movements in Arab and Western cultures and the development of women's literature in those cultures and uses these comparisons to highlight similarities and differences between them as well as to consider how one affected the other His analysis culminates in the early 1980s the end of the formative years when women's writing had become a familiar part of Arabic literature in general and a positive reflection on the collective Arab consciousness Women's Rights in Islam Asmaa Shehata, 2023-11-20 The issue of Muslim women's rights never seems outdated and has become trendy in the post 9 11 environment That is the mainstream media and Western politicians often view Muslim women as victims of male patriarchy and frequently justify Western involvement in the Middle East and in other Muslim majority countries at least in part to rescue women Within this realm Nawal El Saadawi is a famous Egyptian writer whose writings focus on the struggle of Muslim women and are widely read in the Middle East and many Western societies as well Because of her bold feminist views on politics religions and gender she is described as the Simone de Beauvoir of the Arab world After the death of El Saadawi in 2021 a flurry of arguments and criticism in the Egyptian press and women s press around the world is created in which different social media platforms were filled with numerous comments and discussions of her writings and arguments Whereas some mourned El Saadawi and her dedication to women s issues others celebrated her death wishing her the worst punishment in the afterlife for what they described as her destructive thoughts This monograph genuinely analyzes her views on five controversial issues marriage polygamy divorce inheritance rights and veiling in light of Qur anic exegeses offered by two classical scholars i e Muhammad ibn Jarir Al Tabari and Ismail ibn Umar Ibn Kathir and two contemporary Muslim feminists i e Amina Wadud and Azizah Al Hibri By taking a critical look at her views the book contributes not only to this ongoing debate but adds value to assessing El Saadawi s work and helps readers gain a greater understanding of her writings as well It also enables readers to comprehend the current tension between feminism and Islam by understanding the perspectives of both sides Since El Saadawi s writings are available in the Western countries the book would appeal to academics researchers on Islam and gender and Middle Eastern women as well as to lay audiences interested in women and gender in Muslim societies

Diagnosing Empire Narin Hassan,2016-04-08 Examining the emerging figure of the woman doctor and her relationship to empire in Victorian culture Narin Hassan traces both amateur and professional doctoring by British women travelers in colonial India and the Middle East Hassan sets the scene by offering examples from Victorian novels that reveal the rise of the woman doctor as a fictional trope Similarly medical advice manuals by Victorian doctors aimed at families traveling overseas emphasized how women should maintain and manage healthy bodies in colonial locales For Lucie Duff Gordon Isabel Burton Anna Leonowens among others doctoring natives secured them access to their private lives and cultural traditions Medical texts and travel guides produced by practicing women doctors like Mary Scharlieb illustrate the relationship between medical progress and colonialism They also helped support women s medical education in Britain and the colonies of India and the Middle East Colonial subjects themselves produced texts in response to colonial and medical reform and Hassan shows that a number of New Indian women including Krupabai Satthianadhan participated actively in the public sphere through their involvement in health reform In her epilogue Hassan considers the continuing tradition of women s autobiographical narrative inspired by travel and medical knowledge showing that in the twentieth and twenty first century memoirs of South Asian and Middle Eastern women doctors the problem of the Woman Question as shaped by medical discourses endures

bookshop in a village in Tuscany Alba Donati was used to her hectic life working as a book publicist in Italy a life that made her happy and allowed her to meet prominent international authors but she was ready to make a change One day she decided to return to Lucignana the small village in the Tuscan hills where she was born There she opened a tiny but enchanting bookshop in a lovely little cottage on a hill surrounded by gardens filled with roses and peonies With fewer than 200 year round residents Alba s shop seemed unlikely to succeed but it soon sparked the enthusiasm of book lovers both nearby and across Italy After surviving a fire and pandemic restrictions the Bookshop on the Hill soon became a refuge and destination for an ever growing community The locals took pride in the bookshop from Alba s centenarian mother to her childhood friends and the many volunteers who help in the day to day running of the shop And in short time it has become a literary destination with many devoted readers coming from afar to browse enjoy a cup of tea and find comfort in the knowledge that Alba will find the perfect read for them Alba s lifelong love of literature shines on every page of this unique and uplifting book Formatted as diary entries with delightful lists of the books sold at the shop each day this inspirational story celebrates reading as well as book lovers and booksellers the unsung heroes of the literary world
