Mallen,2021-03-12 Although Pablo Picasso spotted Dora Maar at a cafe in January 1936 it is highly likely that she had come to his attention prior As Brassa a Hungarian French photographer recalled It was at Les Deux Magots that one day in autumn 1935 he met Dora On an earlier day he had already noticed the grave drawn face of the young woman at a nearby table the attentive look in her light colored eyes sometimes disturbing in its fixity When Picasso saw her in the same cafe in the company of the surrealist poet Paul Iruard who knew her the poet introduced her to Picasso Brassa a k a Gyula Halasz Conversations with Picasso University of Chicago Press 1999 Tinged with a seductive mix of violence and dark eroticism this first meeting has attained mythical status in the story of the artist's life It reads like an unreal fantasy A mysterious and feline beauty which Man Ray had captured in the pictures he took of her a companion of Georges Bataille Dora was an accomplished photographer close to the Surrealists revolutionary aesthetics Picasso addressed her in French which he assumed to be her language she replied in Spanish which she knew to be his For the next decade the painter would translate not just his fascination with the woman who had seduced him on the spot but also his desire to escape the grip of someone who for the first time could intellectually aspire to be his equal Dora would appear in his works as a female Minotaur a Sphinx a lunar goddess and a muse Because of her intense artistic sensibility her poetic gifts and her ability to participate in suffering she was especially qualified to resonate Picasso's own inner torments during these troubled years Picasso

launch Picasso in America define MoMA as we know it and shift the focus of the art world from Paris to New York Picasso's War is the never before told story about how a single exhibition a decade in the making irrevocably changed American taste and in doing so saved dozens of the twentieth century's most enduring artworks from the Nazis Through a deft combination of new scholarship and vivid storytelling Hugh Eakin shows how two men and their obsession with Picasso changed the art world forever

Latin American Art at The Museum of Modern Art Miriam M. Basilio Gaztambide, 2025-06-13 This book sheds light on an as yet unstudied aspect of The Museum of Modern Art's MoMA preeminent role in establishing the definition of the problematic term Latin American art in the United States from the 1930s to the present through its collection displays In examining the shifting categorization of Latin American works according to stylistic and geographic taxonomies we gain a greater understanding of the organization of the Museum's collections as a whole during the 1940s and 1950s This book is the first to document these institutional precedents crucial for the understanding of the articulation of a Modernist canon and its contested legacy today The MoMA is widely recognized as the preeminent institution that defined 20th century art through its collection shaping our understandings of the history of art with its hierarchies and exclusions as they sediment over time MoMA's holdings of art from Latin America shed light on a key period when the stylistic categories that have since come to be accepted by many today as the Modernist canon developed MoMA's collection displays suggest ways in which artists from areas of the world formerly excluded can be incorporated within today's increasingly global museums MoMA's approach may be compared to initiatives adopted by several museums since the 2000s creating geographically defined curatorial positions as a way to redress gaps in collecting art from Latin America and other areas of the world In this book author Miriam M Basilio Gaztambide offers a closer study of the history of collection displays as a means to understand canon formation in modern art museums This work will be of interest to those researching Latin American American modern and contemporary art and curatorial and museum studies
