Ten Steps to Complex Learning Jeroen J. G. van Merriënboer, Paul A. Kirschner, 2017-10-23 Ten Steps to Complex Learning presents a path from an educational problem to a solution in a way that students practitioners and researchers can understand and easily use Students in the field of instructional design can use this book to broaden their knowledge of the design of training programs for complex learning Practitioners can use this book as a reference guide to support their design of courses curricula or environments for complex learning Now fully revised to incorporate the most current research in the field this third edition of Ten Steps to Complex Learning includes many references to recent research as well as two new chapters One new chapter deals with the training of 21st century skills in educational programs based on the Ten Steps The other deals with the design of assessment programs that are fully aligned with the Ten Steps In the closing chapter new directions for the further development of the Ten Steps are discussed

Evidence-Based Educational Methods Daniel J. Moran, Richard W. Malott, 2004-06-29 Evidence Based Educational Methods answers the challenge of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 by promoting evidence based educational methods designed to improve student learning Behavioral scientists have been refining these instructional methods for decades before the current call for evidence based education Precision Teaching Direct Instruction Computerized Teaching Personalized System of Instruction and other unique applications of behavior analysis are all informed by the scientific principles of learning have been tested in the laboratory and are often shown to have significant success in field applications This book details each of these approaches to education based on the principles of behavior analysis Individuals and agencies responsible for instruction that leaves no child behind will find this compendium an important resource for meeting that challenge and young educators will greatly benefit from this text as they will see a blueprint of the evidence based education systems being planned for the future The education literature is replete with fly by night ideas and unresearched opinions about how to teach children This book has none of that The reader is given researched educational methods In fact some methods draw on 3 or 4 decades of experimental data The whole book is cohesive not just a patchwork of different educators opinions All of the chapters are built on basic scientific principles of behavior and all of the methods can be used with one another This is a book by scientist practitioners but not for scientists only A parent can read many of these chapters see the merit in the methods and convey the need and the process for each of the methods No book stands alone but is connected to a greater literature base The reader is shown where other information can be found about these methods The only thing better than scientific data is scientific data supported by consumer testimonial

The Best of Corwin series showcases key chapters from critically acclaimed Corwin publications for a powerful compilation of perspectives on important education issues and topics. The Best of Corwin Inclusive Practices features a variety of stellar authors who advocate for students with special needs as integral learners who deserve a high quality education with their peers. This compilation offers proven inclusion strategies and seamlessly translates research into pragmatic classroom applications for general and special educators. Essential topics include: Strategies for creating standards based IEPs, Proven teaching practices for reaching all learners, Tools for effective co teaching, Ideas for curriculum and assessment accommodations, Ways to build successful home school partnerships. The authors provide strategies that span primary and secondary grades and apply across the disciplines to capitalize upon the strengths of teachers, leaders, students, and families. Inclusion is more than a possibility when professionals possess the knowledge, skills, positive attitudes, and professional resources to help all learners achieve success Crafting a Curriculum of Coherence Martyn Rawson, Kath Bransby, 2025-10-09 Crafting a Curriculum of Coherence is a transformative guide that equips educators with the knowledge and tools to create a new kind of educational journey for children and young people informed by the unique insights of Steiner Waldorf education. Drawing upon years of experience, expertise, and research, the authors present a step by step guide for curriculum renewal, design, and delivery to create meaningful, coherent learning experiences that inspire and empower learners. The chapters offer a new way of conceiving skills as knowledgeable action with purpose. They cover a potentialities and competencies approach which makes learning truly holistic and a layered curriculum model that moves from philosophy to classroom practice, enabling the development of coherent curriculum in any social or cultural setting. Featuring real life examples, case studies, and thought provoking exercises, the book encourages readers to think critically and creatively about education. Exploring the interplay between curriculum design, pedagogy, and assessment, this is an indispensable resource for educators who are dedicated to shaping a world where every child and young person can flourish Innovations in Instructional Technology J. Michael Spector, Celestia Ohrazda, Andrew Van Schaack, David A. Wiley, 2006-04-21 M. David Merrill has been active in the field of instructional technology for almost 40 years. His contributions range from basic instructional principles and instructional design theory to development and implementation of learning environments. Innovations in Instructional Technology is a collection of original essays written by leading scholars and practitioners who have worked with and been inspired by Professor Merrill. The chapters in this book represent a sampling of key innovations in the instructional technology field and include knowledge of how people learn, how people solve problems, how designers conceptualize learning spaces, how teachers implement learning activities, and how evaluators assess outcomes. This volume is divided into five basic areas of research in instructional technology, mirroring the diverse contributions of Dr. Merrill's work: four chapters on learning objects and the notion of reusable components; three chapters that discuss fundamental aspects of learning and the design of instruction; three chapters that address innovations in the area of assessment, evaluation, and model validation; three chapters that concern theories of learning and instruction; and three chapters on instructional design practice. The book concludes with a chapter outlining Dr. Merrill's responses to challenges, comments, and questions on the future of the field, ranging from the notion of initial passions with regard to instructional technology to connections between theory and practice to questions of conscience from an expert panel comprised of many of the contributors to the book. As Dr. Merrill's work will continue to be required reading for students of instructional technology, Innovations in Instructional Technology is a book that will appeal to students, researchers, and practitioners in the field.

Curriculum Development for Medical Education Patricia A. Thomas, David E. Kern, Mark T. Hughes, Belinda Y. Chen, 2016-01-29. The third edition of this invaluable text reflects significant changes driving curriculum development and renewal throughout medical education. Based on a proven six-step model and including examples and questions to guide application of those timeless principles, Curriculum Development for Medical Education is a practical guidebook for all faculty members and administrators responsible for the educational experiences of medical students, residents, fellows, and clinical practitioners. Incorporating revisions driven by calls for reform and innovations in medical education that challenge established teaching models, the third edition includes an awareness of new accreditation standards and regulatory guidelines. The authors have expanded their discussion of survey methodology for needs assessment and stress the importance of writing competency-based goals and objectives that incorporate milestones, entrustable professional activities, and observable practice activities. With updated examples focusing on interprofessional education, collaborative practice, and educational technology, they describe educational strategies that incorporate the new science of learning. A completely new chapter presents the unique challenges of curriculum development for large, long, and integrated curricula.
