Preservation Of Australias Aboriginal He:

The Preservation of Australia's Aboriginal Heritage Robert Edwards,1975 Legislation tourism sacred sites conservation seminar recommendations The Social Archaeology of Australian Indigenous Societies Bruno David,Bryce Barker,Ian J. McNiven,2006 The Social Archaeology of Indigenous Societies presents original and provocative views on the complex and dynamic social lives of Indigenous Australians from an historical perspective Building on the foundational work of Harry Lourandos the book critically examines and challenges traditional approaches which have presented Indigenous Australian past as static and tethered to ecological rationalism The book reveals the ancient past of Aboriginal Australians to be one of long term changes in social relationships and traditions as well as the active management and manipulation of the environment The book encourages a deeper appreciation of the ways Aboriginal peoples have engaged with and constructed their worlds It solicits a deeper understanding of the contemporary political and social context of research and the insidious impacts of colonialist philosophies In short it concerns people both past and present The Social Archaeology of Indigenous Societies looks beyond the stereo Religion and Non-Religion among Australian Aboriginal Peoples James L. Cox,Adam Possamai,2016-12-01 Offering a significant contribution to the emerging field of Non Religion Studies Religion and Non Religion among Australian Aboriginal Peoples draws on Australian 2011 Census statistics to ask whether the Indigenous Australian population like the wider Australian society is becoming increasingly secularised or whether there are other explanations for the surprisingly high percentage of Aboriginal people in Australia who state that they have no religion Contributors from a range of disciplines consider three central questions How do Aboriginal Australians understand or interpret what Westerners have called religion Do Aboriginal Australians distinguish being religious from being non religious How have modernity and Christianity affected Indigenous understandings of religion These questions re focus Western dominated concerns with the decline or revival of religion by incorporating how Indigenous Australians have responded to modernity how modernity has affected Indigenous peoples religious behaviours and perceptions and how variations of response can be found in rural and urban contexts Preservation of Cultural Heritage: Australia, China, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, New Zealand, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam Cultural and Social Centre for the Asian and Pacific Region,1971 Preserving Rural Australia A Robertson,R Watts,1999-01-01 Scientific knowledge alone will not help countries achieve sustainable management of land water and biota Everyone now realises that a partnership is needed between land and water users scientists managers and the community if countries are to achieve the goal of preserving rural resources This book deals with broad issues relating to resource decline and how different groups such as farmers rural town dwellers resource managers and government deal with these issues from social economic and ecological points of view Architectural Conservation in Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific Islands John Stubbs,William Chapman,Julia Gatley,Ross King,2023-12-22 The fourth in a series that documents architectural conservation in different parts of the world

Architectural Conservation in Australia New Zealand and the Pacific Islands National Experiences and Practice addresses cultural heritage protection in a region which comprises one third of the Earth's surface. In response to local needs Australia New Zealand and the Pacific Islands have developed some of the most important and influential techniques, legislation, doctrine and theories in cultural heritage management in the world. The evolution of the heritage protection ethos and contemporary architectural conservation practices in Australia and Oceania are discussed on a national and regional basis using ample illustrations and examples. Accomplishments in architectural conservation are discussed in their national and international contexts with an emphasis on original developments, solutions and contributions made to the overall field. Enriched with essays contributed from fifty-nine specialists and thought leaders in the field, this book contains an extraordinary breadth and depth of research and synthesis on the why's and how's of cultural heritage conservation. Its holistic approach provides an essential resource and reference for students, academics, researchers, policy makers, practitioners and all who are interested in conserving the built environment.

To Preserve and Protect Anastasia Dukova, 2020-09-02 Early Australian policing had its roots on the streets of Dublin and London where many of Australia's first law and order enforcers hailed from. Intrigued by this connection, historian Anastasia Dukova has researched and recreated the lives of colonial police officers and criminals in her adopted home city of Brisbane. Through exploring their personal stories, Dukova highlights how biography and history are inextricably linked and reveals the differences between metropolitan aspirations and colonial reality. To Preserve and Protect exposes political power abuse, corruption, mismanagement, professional burnout and gendered justice issues which continue to challenge police forces.

Histories of Australian Rock Art Research Jo McDonald, 2022-09-06 Australia has one of the largest inventories of rock art in the world with pictographs and petroglyphs found almost anywhere that has suitable rock surfaces in rock shelters and caves on boulders and rock platforms. First Nations people have been marking these places with figurative imagery, abstract designs, stencils and prints for tens of thousands of years, often engaging with earlier rock markings. The art reflects and expresses changing experiences within landscapes over time, spirituality, history, law and lore, as well as relationships between individuals and groups of people, plants, animals, land and Ancestral Beings that are said to have created the world, including some rock art. Since the late 1700s, people arriving in Australia have been fascinated with the rock art they encountered, with detailed studies commencing in the late 1800s. Through the 1900s, an impressive body of research on Australian rock art was undertaken with dedicated academic study using archaeological methods employed since the late 1940s. Since then, Australian rock art has been researched from various perspectives, including that of Traditional Owners, custodians and other community members. Through the 1900s, there was also growing interest in Australian rock art from researchers across the globe, leading many to visit or migrate to Australia to undertake rock art research. In this volume, the varied histories of Australian rock art research from different parts of the country are explored, not only in terms of key researchers developments and changes over time but also the crucial role of First Nations people themselves in investigations of this key component of their living heritage Aboriginal Placenames Luise Hercus, Harold Koch, 2009-10-01 Aboriginal approaches to the naming of places across Australia differ radically from the official introduced Anglo Australian system. However many of these earlier names have been incorporated into contemporary nomenclature with considerable reinterpretations of their function and form. Recently state jurisdictions have encouraged the adoption of a greater number of Indigenous names sometimes alongside the accepted Anglo Australian terms around Sydney Harbour for example. In some cases the use of an introduced name such as Gove has been contested by local Indigenous people. The 19 studies brought together in this book present an overview of current issues involving Indigenous placenames across the whole of Australia drawing on the disciplines of geography linguistics history and anthropology. They include meticulous studies of historical records and perspectives stemming from contemporary Indigenous communities. The book includes a wealth of documentary information on some 400 specific placenames including those of Sydney Harbour the Blue Mountains Canberra western Victoria the Lake Eyre district the Victoria River District and southwestern Cape York Peninsula

Big, Bold and Blue James Fitzsimons, Geoff Wescott, 2016-07-01 The world's oceans cover about 70% of our planet. To safeguard the delicate ecological and environmental functions of the oceans and their remarkable biodiversity networks of marine protected areas are being created. In some of these areas human activity is restricted to non exploitative activities and in others it is managed in a sustainable way. Australia is at the forefront of marine conservation with one of the largest systems of marine protected areas in the world. Big Bold and Blue Lessons from Australia's Marine Protected Areas captures Australia's experience sharing important lessons from the Great Barrier Reef and many other extraordinary marine protected areas. It presents real world examples leading academic research perspectives on government policy and information from indigenous sea country management non governmental organisations and commercial and recreational fishing sectors. The lessons learnt during the rapid expansion of Australia's marine protected areas both positive and negative will aid and advise other nations in their own marine conservation efforts. The book is ideal reading for marine planners and managers across the globe academic institutions where research on marine environments occur government agencies across the world implementing and creating policy around MPA development non government organisations involved in lobbying for MPA expansion and fisheries agencies and industry stakeholders

Governing natives Ben Silverstein, 2018-10-16 In the 1930s a series of crises transformed relationships between settlers and Aboriginal people in Australia's Northern Territory. By the late 1930s Australian settlers were coming to understand the Northern Territory as a colonial formation requiring a new form of government. Responding to crises of social reproduction public power and legitimacy they rethought the scope of settler colonial government by drawing on both the art of indirect rule and on a representational economy of Indigenous elimination to develop a new political dispensation that sought to incorporate and consume Indigenous production and sovereignties. This book locates Aboriginal history within imperial history situating the settler colonial politics of Indigeneity in a broader governmental context Year Book Australia, 1991 No. 74 ,2008 Records of the Australian Museum ,1993 The American Occupation of Australia, 1941-45 John McKerrow,2013-07-26 Over 120 000 American troops were stationed in Australia during the Second World War Hundreds of thousands more passed through the country between 1941 and 1945 Because of Japan s conquest of the Philippines in 1942 Australia was transformed into the principle base for the United States Army in the Southwest Pacific This American occupation of an allied country resulted in several areas of tension between friends The examination of these fault lines which have for the most part received little attention from historians is the purpose of this book Jurisdictional and policing disputes and problems between Australian workers and American authorities are examined American personnel committed thousands of crimes during the occupation many of which were notorious How Australians reacted to these crimes and how the American military sought to limit their negative effect on wartime relations is a major focus of this book How the US military tried to protect GIs from prosecution by spiriting them out of Australia is also explored Other areas of tension such as race and gender relations which have been looked at by other historians are examined in a new light this book provides novel insights and challenges the existing historiography with regard to relations between black Americans and Australian civilians How leaders on both sides in particular Douglas MacArthur and John Curtin managed crises and relations between civilians and GIs are studied Sexual relations an area of particular concern for authorities were directed towards short term flings and prostitution In contrast authorities did all they could to discourage long term relations i e marriage Authorities obsessed over interracial sexual relations and doubled efforts to discourage them Conflicts between American personnel and Australian civilians during the occupation did not threaten the alliance against Japan Nevertheless there were myriad problems between allies that led to friction and ill will These problems demanded management from above Biodiversity and the Law Charles R. McManis,2012 How do we promote global economic development while simultaneously preserving local biological and cultural diversity This authoritative volume written by leading legal experts and biological and social scientists from around the world addresses this question in all of its complexity The first part of the book focuses on biodiversity and examines what we are losing why and what is to be done The second part addresses biotechnology and looks at whether it is part of the solution or part of the problem or perhaps both The third section examines traditional knowledge explains what it is and how if at all it should be protected The fourth and final part looks at ethnobotany and bioprospecting and offers practical lessons from the vast and diverse experiences of the contributors The Making of Indigenous Australian Contemporary Art Marie Geissler,2021-01-06 This publication brings together existing research as well as new data to show how Arnhem Land bark painting was critical in the making of Indigenous Australian contemporary art and the self determination agendas of Indigenous Australians It identifies how when and what the shifts in the reception of the art were especially as they occurred within institutional exhibition displays Despite key studies already being published on the reception of Aboriginal art in this area the overall process is not well known or always considered while the focus has tended to be placed on Western Desert acrylic paintings This text however represents a refocus and addresses this more fully by integrating Arnhem Land bark painting into the contemporary history of Aboriginal art The trajectory moves from its understanding as a form of ethnographic art to seeing it as conceptual art and appreciating it for its cultural agency and contemporaneity A History of South Australia Paul Sendziuk,Robert Foster,2018-05-16 A History of South Australia investigates the state s history from before the arrival of the first European explorers to today Land of Sweeping Plains Nicholas S. G. Williams,Adrian Marshall,John Morgan,2015-04-22 Native temperate grasslands are Australia s most threatened ecosystems Grasslands have been eliminated from across much of their former extent and continue to be threatened by urban expansion agricultural intensification weed invasion and the uncertain impacts of climate change Research however is showing us new ways to manage grasslands and techniques for restoration are advancing The importance of ongoing stewardship also means it is vital to develop new strategies to encourage a broader cross section of society to understand and appreciate native grasslands and their ecology Land of Sweeping Plains synthesises the scientific literature in a readily accessible manner and includes a wealth of practical experience held by policy makers farmers community activists and on ground grassland managers It aims to provide all involved in grassland management and restoration with the technical information necessary to conserve and enhance native grasslands For readers without the responsibility of management such as students and those interested in biodiversity conservation it provides a detailed understanding of native grassland ecology management challenges and solutions and importantly inspiration to engage with this critically endangered ecosystem Practical easy to read and richly illustrated this book brings together the grassland knowledge of experts in ethnobotany ecology monitoring planning environmental psychology community engagement flora and fauna management environmental restoration agronomy landscape architecture and urban design Foundational Fictions in South Australian History Carolyn Collins,Paul Sendziuk,2018-10-15 In this lively provocative collection some of Australia s leading historians and a Miles Franklin shortlisted historical novelist challenge established myths narratives and beautiful lies about South Australia s past Some are unmasked as false stories that mask brutal realities like colonial violence while others are revealed as simplistic versions of more complex truths Each generation writes history that speaks to its own interests and concerns write historians Paul Ashton and Anna Clark In Foundational Fictions in South Australian History which grew out of a series of public lectures at the University of Adelaide an impressive range of contributors suggest different ways in which familiar narratives of South Australia can be interpreted These essays tap into wider debates too about the nature and purpose of history and the history wars first flamed by John Howard Stuart Macintyre highlights South Australia s central role in several national events Humphrey McQueen questions the origins and influence of the money behind South Australia s so called progressive founding Lucy Treloar suggests historians can learn from novelists when it comes to understanding the past Steven Anderson argues that Don Dunstan's achievement in abolishing capital punishment owed much to a historical movement And Carolyn Collins highlights the role of anti conscription group Save Our Sons SOS in not just ending the Vietnam War but broadening the appeal of the anti war movement The Habitat of Australia's Aboriginal Languages Gerhard Leitner, Ian G. Malcolm, 2007 The book looks at Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders and explores the changing habitat of languages from pre colonial times to the present The contributions treat the languages from a structural and functional linguistic perspective
