Privatizing The Police State The Case Of Poland:

Privatizing the Police-State M. Los, Andrzej Zybertowicz, 2016-01-22 This is the first book that documents and analyses the paramount role of secret services in the decomposition of the communist system and the conversion of its elites into new capitalists The surge of civil society in 1980s Poland prompted a parallel expansion of the police state apparatus The book traces the subsequent reconstruction and privatization of social political and material resources of the police state and shows how these covert operations shaped other more visible aspects of the East Central European transformation A Note from the Authors Since the publication of this book the events in Poland and elsewhere have demonstrated the extraordinary influence and longevity of the power networks spawned by the communist police state apparatus and its eventual privatization There is new evidence uncovered almost daily whose interpretation would not be feasible without the conceptual and historical framework elaborated first in this book Privatising Punishment in Europe? Tom Daems, Tom Vander Beken, 2018-01-29 In recent times the question of private sector involvement in public affairs has become framed in altogether new terms Across Europe there has been a growth in various forms of public private cooperation in building and maintaining new penal institutions and an increasing presence of private companies offering security services within penal institutions as well as delivering security goods such as electronic monitoring and other equipment to penal authorities Such developments are part of a wider trend towards privatising and marketising security Bringing together key scholars in criminology and penology from across Europe and beyond this book maps and describes trends of privatising punishment throughout Europe paying attention both to prisons and community sanctions In doing so it initiates a continent wide dialogue among academics and key public and private actors on the future of privatisation in Europe Debates on the privatisation of punishment in Europe are still underdeveloped and this book plays a pioneering and agenda setting role in developing this dialogue

Building Trust and Democracy Cynthia M. Horne, 2017-04-28 This volume explores the effects of transitional justice measures on trust building and democratization across twelve countries in Central and Eastern Europe and parts of the Former Soviet Union over the period 1989-2012 The author argues that transitional justice measures have a differentiated impact on political and social trust building supporting some aspects of political trust and undermining other aspects of social trust Moreover the structure scope timing and implementation of transitional justice measures condition outcomes More expansive and compulsory institutional change mechanisms register the largest effects with limited and voluntary change mechanisms having a diminished effect and more informal and largely symbolic measures having the most attenuated effect These differentiated and conditional effects are also evident with respect to transition goals like supporting democratic consolidation and reducing corruption since these goals respond differently to the mixtures of institutional and symbolic reforms found in transitional justice programs The author develops an original transitional justice typology in order to test hypotheses linking trust building and transitional justice across twelve cases in the post communist region The resulting new datasets allow for a quantitative examination of the relationship between different types of transitional justice programs and a range of possible state building and societal reconciliation goals including political trust building social trust building democratization the strengthening of civil society the promotion of government effectiveness and the reduction of corruption Comparative case studies of four transitional justice programs Hungary Romania Poland and Bulgariadraw on field work primary and historical documents and interview materials to explicate trust building dynamics with particular attention to regime complicity challenges historical memory issues and communist legacies Oxford Studies in Democratization is a series for scholars and students of comparative politics and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on the comparative study of the democratization process that accompanied the decline and termination of the cold war The geographical focus of the series is primarily Latin America the Caribbean Southern and Eastern Europe and relevant experiences in Africa and Asia The series editor is Laurence Whitehead Senior Research Fellow Nuffield College University of Oxford Degradation Rituals L. Romanienko, 2014-03-20 A candid exploration of sadomasochistic practices driving contemporary culture covering the demoralizing socioeconomic and political conditions that give rise to agonizing rituals of cruelty demonstrated at systemic transnational religious familial and even sexual spheres of human relations Liquid Society and Its Law Jiří Přibáň, 2016-05-06 This collection of essays brings together Zygmunt Bauman and a number of internationally distinguished legal scholars who examine the influence of Bauman's recent works on social theory of law and socio legal studies Contributors focus on the concept of liquid society and its adoption by legal scholars The volume opens with Bauman's analysis of fears and policing in liquid society and continues by examining the social and legal theoretical context and implications of Bauman's theory Security Entrepreneurs Alexandra Gheciu, 2018-05-10 Focusing on four East European polities Bosnia Serbia Bulgaria and Romania this book examines the dynamics and implications of processes of commercialization of security that have occurred following the collapse of communist regimes These processes have been central to post communist liberalization and have profoundly shaped those states and their integration into European institutional structures and global economic and political circuits They have also affected and been shaped by the behaviour and power of regional and global actors e.g. European institutions regional and global corporations in Eastern Europe By virtue of the fact that they combine in complex ways local national regional and global dynamics and actors processes of security commercialization in the former Eastern bloc can be seen as instances of glocalization Several aspects of security commercialization are particularly important To begin with private actors specifically private security companies PSCs have been reconstituted as partial agents of public power As such they have come to be systematically involved in performing security practices traditionally associated with the state In addition a potent commercial logic has come to permeate public security institutions This has led to redefinition of the relationship between the state and its population in ways that defy conventional wisdom about the role of the state and pose difficult normative challenges More broadly processes of security commercialization in Eastern Europe which involve important performative dimensions have led to the emergence of complex hybrid networks of security providers that transcend domestic international public private boundaries and behave in many ways as entrepreneurs

Justice and Memory After Dictatorship Raluca Grosescu, 2024 Justice and Memory after Dictatorship Latin America Eastern Europe and the Fragmentation of International Criminal Law provides a ground breaking socio historical account of the global transformation of international criminal law after the fall of dictatorships at the end of the 1980s

Building Democracy and Civil Society East of the Elbe Sven Eliaeson, 2006-04-18 This book explores the idea of civil society and how it is being implemented in Eastern Europe The implosion of the Russian empire fifteen years ago and the new wave of democratization opened a new field of inquiry The wide ranging debate on the transition became focused on a conceptual battle the question of how to define civil society Because totalitarian systems shun self organization real existing civil society barely existed East of the Elbe and the emergence of civil society took unusually complex and puzzling forms which varied with national culture and reflected the deep historical past of these societies This insightful text relates the concept of civil society and developments in Eastern Europe to wider sociological theories and makes international comparisons where appropriate It discusses particular aspects of civil society and examines the difficulties of establishing civil society It concludes by assessing the problems and prospects for civil society in Eastern Europe going forward IBSS Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science, 2001 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Communists and Their Victims Roman David, 2018-05-04 Did justice measures rectify the legacy of human rights abuses committed during the communist era in the Czech Republic Roman David weighs this question carefully to promote a transformative theory of justice that demonstrates that justice measures in order to be successful require a degree of reconciliation

Globalization and Development Don Kalb, Wil Pansters, Hans Siebers, 2007-05-08 This book is a collective effort on the part of researchers affiliated with the CERES Research School in Development Studies in the Netherlands to discuss a series of themes and concepts crucial to the overlapping fields of globalization and development research While development in the course of the 1980s and 1990s was becoming hinged onto globalization prior approaches to development were increasingly being criticized An impasse was announced by various actors in the field and renewed reflection on some of the basic concepts and methods became inevitable Much of the initial rethinking went under the sign of postmodernism and tended to give priority to micro and actor centered research Later with the emerging discussion on globalization new macro dimensions were added and efforts were launched to articulate local global approaches This book discusses a set of key themes and concepts that reflect these intellectual and historical developments Used by politicians and researchers they reflect the continuing concern about inequality and poverty by students and practitioners of development and contain crucial perspectives for a critical engagement of current globalization processes and their consequences The chapters in this book examine the notions and issues of globalization livelihood identity governance transnationalism and knowledge Handbook of Globalisation and Development Kenneth A. Reinert, 2017-03-31 Characterised by conceptual diversity the Handbook of Globalisation and Development presents contributions from prominent international researchers on all aspects of globalisation and carefully considers their role across a whole host of development processes The Handbook is structured around seven key areas international trade international production international finance migration foreign aid a broader view and challenges Adopting a multi disciplinary approach the section on a broader view delves into dimensions of globalisation and development that go beyond the mere economic such as culture technology health and poverty Carefully crafted the chapters herein offer a rigorous and comprehensive assessment of the available research to date and provide an assessment of policy options across all areas considered Security/Capital George S. Rigakos, 2016-03-18 What is security and what is its relationship to capitalism George S Rigakos explosive treatise charts the rise of the security industrial complex Starting from a critical appraisal of productive labour in the works of Karl Marx and Adam Smith Rigakos builds a conceptual model of pacification based on practices of dispossession exploitation and the fetish of security commodities Rigakos argues that a defining characteristic of the global economic system is its ability to productively sell in security to those it makes insecure Materially and ideologically the security industrial complex is the blast furnace of global capitalism fuelling the perpetuation of the system while feeding relentlessly on the surpluses it has exacted The Dangers of Dissent Ivan Greenberg, 2010-10-14 While most studies of the FBI focus on the long tenure of Director J Edgar Hoover 1924 1972 The Dangers of Dissent shifts the ground to the recent past The book examines FBI practices in the domestic security field through the prism of political policing The monitoring of dissent is exposed as are the Bureau s controversial counterintelligence operations designed to disrupt political activity This book reveals that attacks on civil liberties focus on a wide range of domestic critics on both the Left and the Right This book traces the evolution of FBI spying from 1965 to the present through the eyes of those under investigation as well as through numerous FBI documents never used before in scholarly writing that were recently declassified using the Freedom of Information Act or released during litigation Greenberg v FBI Ivan Greenberg considers the diverse ways that government spying has crossed the line between legal intelligence gathering to criminal action While a number of studies focus on government policies under George W Bush s War on Terror Greenberg is one of the few to situate the primary role of the FBI as it shaped and was reshaped by the historical context of the new American Surveillance Society Legal Institutions and Collective Memories Susanne Karstedt, 2009-08-03 In recent decades the debate among scholars lawyers politicians and others about how societies deal with their past has been constant and intensive Legal Institutions and Collective Memories situates the processes of transitional justice at the intersection between legal procedures and the production of collective and shared meanings of the past Building upon the work of Maurice Halbwachs this collection of essays emphasises the extended role and active involvement of contemporary law and legal institutions in public discourse about the past and explores their impact on the shape that collective memories take in the course of time The authors uncover a complex pattern of searching for truth negotiating the past and cultivating the art of forgetting Their contributions explore the ambiguous and intricate links between the production of justice truth and memory The essays cover a broad range of legal institutions countries and topics These include transitional trials as monumental spectacles as well as constitutional courts and the restitution of property rights in Central and Eastern Europe and Australia The authors explore the biographies of victims and how their voices were repressed as in the case of Korean Comfort Women They explore the role of law and legal institutions in linking individual and collective memories in the transitional period through processes of lustration and they analyse divided memories about the past and their impact on future reconciliation in South Africa The collection offers a genuinely comparative approach allied to cutting edge theory

The Transformation of Property Regimes and Transitional Justice in Central Eastern Europe Liviu Damşa,2017-01-03 This volume examines the property transformations in post communist Central Eastern Europe CEE and focuses on the role of restitution and privatisation in such transformations It argues that the theorisation of restitution in post communist CEE is incomplete in the transitional justice scholarship and in the literature on correction of historical wrongs The book also argues that for a more complete theorisation of post communist restitution the transformations of property in post communist societies ought to be studied in a more holistic way The main legal vehicles used for such transformations privatisation and restitution should not be studied separately and in abstract but in their reciprocal relationship and in connection to the dimension of justice which each could achieve Finally the book integrates privatisation in a theory of post communist transformation of property

Theorizing Surveillance David Lyon,2006-08 First published in 2006 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

The Third Enlightenment (or Globalizing Meritocracies) Sławomir Magala,2021-02-10 Arguing that political correctness cripples public debate limits growth of knowledge and threatens democracy this book will serve to make the reader aware of these threats In addition it shows that meritocracies have become contaminated by the radioactive dust from the propaganda of cultural wars Why are media professionals and fellow teachers still following the instructions issued by the masters of the Cold War universe in order to control damage

Political Finance and Corruption in Eastern Europe Jurij Toplak,Mr Daniel Smilov,2013-03-28 One characteristic of Central and Eastern European democracies in transition is the lack of stability in terms of accountability and transparency in practices of political party financing This key volume provides a thorough and well structured post communist study of political finance election campaign and party funding issues within this region focusing specifically on Central and Eastern European countries It outlines best practices for political party and election campaign financing discusses the shortcomings of political funding schemes and highlights the scandals that emerge under investigation Providing an illuminating analysis of how current regulations of political finance succeed in controlling the rise of political corruption the volume will be indispensable for anyone interested in the efficiency of regulation in party funding

Post-Communist Transitional Justice Lavinia Stan, Nadya Nedelsky, 2015-02-26 Taking stock of the twenty fifth anniversary of the collapse of the communist regimes of Central and Eastern Europe this volume explores how these societies have grappled with the serious human rights violations of past regimes It focuses on the most important factors that have shaped the nature speed and sequence of transitional justice programs in the period spanning the revolutions that brought about the collapse of the communist dictatorships and the consolidation of new democratic regimes Contributors explain why leaders made certain choices discuss the challenges they faced and explore the role of under studied actors and grassroots strategies Written by recognized experts with an unparalleled grasp of the region s communist and post communist reality this volume addresses far reaching reckoning redress and retribution policy choices It is an engaging carefully crafted volume which covers a wide variety of cases and discusses key transitional justice theories using both qualitative and quantitative research methods
