

SONNET 18

Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely and more temperate:
Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease hath all too short a date,
Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
And often is his gold complexion dimm'd,
And every fair from fair sometime declines,
By chance or nature's changing course untrimm'd,
But thy eternal summer shall not fade,
Nor lose possession of that fair thou ow'st,
Nor shall death brag thou wander'st in his shade,
When in eternal lines to time thou grow'st:
So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.

Begin at Once Beth Joselow, 2007 Poetry The poems in BEGIN AT ONCE are truly investigations never simply statements of things the poet already claims to know They wander sometimes lightly sometimes darkly sometimes with a quiet but dark irony but always generously over all sorts of contrasting subjects with a startling insight that traces the swift and shocking changes of a life lived in a world that s genuinely right here right now Beth Joselow s poems discover and uncover keen truths that always surprise and unsettle and make us think again about things we believed we understood There s real wisdom in BEGIN AT ONCE and the world sure does need more of that Mark Wallace

Don't Read Poetry Stephanie Burt, 2019-05-21 An award winning poet offers a brilliant introduction to the joys and challenges of the genre In Don t Read Poetry award winning poet and literary critic Stephanie Burt offers an accessible introduction to the seemingly daunting task of reading understanding and appreciating poetry Burt dispels preconceptions about poetry and explains how poems speak to one another and how they can speak to our lives She shows readers how to find more poems once they have some poems they like and how to connect the poetry of the past to the poetry of the present

Burt moves seamlessly from Shakespeare and other classics to the contemporary poetry circulated on Tumblr and Twitter. She challenges the assumptions that many of us make about poetry whether we think we like it or think we don't in order to help us cherish and distinguish among individual poems. A masterful guide to a sometimes confounding genre. Disjunctive Poetics Peter Quartermain,1992-06-26 Disjunctive Poetics examines some of the experimental contemporary writers including Stein and Zukofsky whose work forms a counterpoint to the mainstream writing of our time Peter Quartermain suggests that the explosion of such modern writing is linked to the severe political social and economic dislocation of non English speaking immigrants who arriving in America at the turn of the century found themselves uprooted from their tradition and disassociated from their culture New Books on Women and Feminism ,2005 Forms of

Expansion Lynn Keller, 1997-08-04 Expanding the boundaries of both genre and gender contemporary American women are writing long poems in a variety of styles that repossess history reconceive female subjectivity and revitalize poetry itself In the first book devoted to long poems by women Lynn Keller explores this rich and evolving body of work offering revealing discussions of the diverse traditions and feminist concerns addressed by poets ranging from Rita Dove and Sharon Doubiago to Judy Grahn Marilyn Hacker and Susan Howe Arguing that women poets no longer feel intimidated by the traditional associations of long poems with the heroic public realm or with great artistic ambition Keller shows how the long poem's openness to sociological anthropological and historical material makes it an ideal mode for exploring women's roles in history and culture In addition the varied forms of long poems from sprawling free verse epics to regular sonnet sequences to highly disjunctive experimental collages make this hybrid genre easily adaptable to diverse visions of feminism and of contemporary poetics
