Quinn, 1996 The aim of Recharting the Thirties is to revitalize the awareness of the reading public with regard to eighteen writers whose books have been largely ignored by publishers and scholars since their major works first appeared in the thirties The selection is not based on a political agenda but encompasses a wide and divergent range of philosophies clearly the contrasts between Empson and Upward or between Powell and Slater indicated the wide ranging vision of the period Women writers of the period have largely been marginalized and the writings of Sackville West and Burdekin for example not only present distinct feminine voices of the period but also illuminate how much good literature has been forgotten

A Reader's Guide to the Twentieth-century Novel in Britain Randall Stevenson, 1993-01-01 The novel is the major literary phenomenon of the twentieth century and its development in Britain since 1900 has reflected the tumultuous changes that have characterized modern society Randall Stevenson now presents an accessible and authoritative guide to the work of the century's leading novelists as well as many of its lesser known writers In this stimulating and wide ranging account Stevenson locates the work of individual writers from Conrad to Jeanette Winterson within an evolving literary history and the wider context of social political and cultural change Included are British writers working in exile and writers with origins elsewhere such as James and Rushdie who have chosen to work in Britain Women novelists are accorded their rightful prominence This clear and lively survey deals with a broad range of movements including modernism and postmodernism as well as the influence of other world literatures and the impact of two world wars An ideal text this is a guide in the best sense concise and lucid well informed and perceptive Readers new to the field will appreciate Stevenson's clear direction while the experienced will be delighted by newly revealed connections and fresh perspectives

The Queer Cultures of 1930s Prose Charlotte Charteris, 2019-01-04 Offering a radical reassessment of 1930s British literature this volume questions the temporal limits of the literary decade and broadens the scope of queer literary studies to consider literary historical responses to a variety of behaviours encompassed by the term queer in its many senses Whilst it is informed by the history of sexuality in twentieth century Europe it is also profoundly concerned with what Christopher Isherwood termed the market value of the Odd Drawing for its methodology on the work of Raymond Williams it traces the impact of the Great War on the development of language examining the use of ten keywords in the prose of Christopher Isherwood Evelyn Waugh and Patrick Hamilton and that of their respective literary milieux in order to establish how queer lives and modern sub cultural identities were forged collaboratively within the fictional realm By utilizing contemporary perspectives on performativity in conjunction with detailed close readings it repositions these authors as self conscious agents actively producing their own queer masculinities through calculated acts of linguistic transgression The 1930s: A Decade of Modern British Fiction Nick Hubble, Luke Seaber, Elinor Taylor, 2021-01-14 With austerity biting hard and fascism on the march at home and abroad the Britain of the 1930s grappled with many problems familiar to us today Moving beyond the traditional focus on the Auden generation this book surveys the literature of the period in all its diversity from working class women queer and postcolonial writers to popular crime and thriller novels In this way the book explores the uneven processes of modernization and cultural democratization that characterized the decade A major critical re evaluation of the decade the book covers such writers as Eric Ambler Mulk Raj Anand Katharine Burdekin Agatha Christie Lewis Grassie Gibbon Christopher Isherwood Storm Jameson Ethel Mannin Naomi Mitchison George Orwell Christina Stead Evelyn Waugh and many others Louis MacNeice and the Poetry of the 1930s Richard Danson Brown, 2009 This study investigates Louis MacNeice in two major central strands exploring MacNeice's ambiguous positioning as an Irish poet and the self consciousness in his writing Men and Women Writers of the 1930s Janet Montefiore, 2003-09-02 Men and Women Writers of the 1930s is a searching critique of the issues of memory and gender during this dynamic decade Montefiore asks two principle questions what part does memory play in the political literature of and about 1930s Britain And what were the roles of women both as writers and as signifying objects in constructing that literature Montefiore's topical analysis of 1930s mass unemployment fascist uprising and appeasement is shockingly relevant in society today Issues of class anti fascist historical novels post war memoirs of Auden generation writers and neglected women poets are discussed at length Writers include George Orwell Virginia Woolf W H Auden Storm Jameson Jean Rhys Rebecca West Reading the Rabbit Kevin S. Sandler, 1998 On cartoon animation Modernist Literature Mary Ann Gillies, 2007-03-19 This engaging textbook provides a critical assessment of British modernist literature produced between 1900 and 1945 Each chapter focuses on a single decade a distinct genre and a specific theme the 1900s the short story gender and sexuality the 1910s poetry war technology and propaganda the 1920s the novel new modes of literary expression the 1930s the documentary political engagement A final chapter covers the 1940s and beyond looking at new literary and artistic movements and other modernisms Covering canonical texts and lesser known works Modernist Literature introduces students to current debates in Modernism and a range of literature in its historical and aesthetic contexts Features Examines four distinct genres the short story poetry novel and documentary decade by decade Combines close readings with cultural and political analyses of British modernism Includes a Chronology and Further Readings with each chapter Women of the Left Bank Shari Benstock, 1986 Offers

Loraine Saunders,2016-02-24 In a timely and radically new reappraisal of George Orwell s fiction Loraine Saunders reads Orwell s novels as tales of successful emancipation rather than as chronicles of failure Contending that Orwell s novels have been undervalued as works of art she offers extensive textual analysis to reveal an author who is in far more control of his prose than has been appreciated Persuasively demonstrating that Orwell s novels of the 1930s such as A Clergyman s Daughter and Keep the Aspidistra Flying are no less important as literature than Animal Farm and Nineteen Eighty Four Saunders argues they have been victims of a critical tradition whose practitioners have misunderstood Orwell s narrative style failed to appreciate Orwell s political stance and were predisposed to find little merit in Orwell s novels Saunders devotes significant attention to George Gissing s influence on Orwell particularly with regard to his representations of women She also examines Orwell s socialism in the context of the political climate of the 1930s finding that Orwell in his successful negotiation of the fine balance between art and propaganda had much more in common with Charlie Chaplin than with writers like Stephen Spender or W H Auden As a result of Saunders s detailed and accessible analysis which illuminates how Orwell harmonized allegory with documentary polyphonic voice with monophonic and elegy with comedy Orwell s contributions to the genre of political fiction are finally recognized      Modernism from the Margins Chris

Wigginton,2020-10-01 Modernism from the Margins is an accessible and challenging account of the 1930s writing of two of the most popular authors of the time Locating the work of Louis MacNeice and Dylan Thomas historically the book questions standard accounts of the period as Auden dominated and offers an inclusive and theoretical account of the engagement of both writers with the varieties of Modernism It is the first reading at length of either MacNeice s or Thomas s work in the light of literary theory and one of only a handful of texts to look at the writing of the 1930s in these terms This book is an important contribution to contemporary discussions of both of these writers and of the general issues of modernism postmodernism literary identity and cultural identity it raises      Journal of Rehabilitation Research and Development

,1983      English Fiction in the 1930s Chris Hopkins,2006-01-01 This study approaches the fiction of the 1930s through critical debates about genre language and history setting these in their original context and discussing the generic forms most favoured by novelists at the time Chris Hopkins uses a series of case studies of texts to draw on develop or explore the boundaries contemporary usefulness and complexities of particular prose genres Generic debates and the political aesthetic effects of different kinds of representation were live issues as discursive struggles and negotiations took place between modernist and realist modes between high middle and lowbrow categorisations of culture between literature and mass culture and between different conceptions of the role of the writer politics and nationality sexuality and gender identities Chris Hopkins draws both on well known texts and on novels which have only recently begun to be discussed by critics of the thirties particularly those by women writers whose work has still not been related very clearly to the literary and political debates of the period Organised in five sections each focusing on major genres he takes a wide range of novels as case studies and discusses their uses of generic forms relating them to other examples and to their historical political and cultural contexts

British Fiction in the 1930s James Gordin, 2016-07-27 British Fiction in the 1930s studies the literary climate of the British 1930s through a critical treatment of some of its influential and socially representative fiction The works depict in various ways a culture under the stress of seemingly insoluble economic and intensifying international dilemmas a culture that seems betrayed by the promise of its past and the paralysis of its present The fiction considers transforming solutions individual and sexual rebellions as well as the fears and attractions of social and political change
