

READING, WRITING AND REMEMBERING

A LITERARY RECORD
BY
E. V. LUCAS

THE author calls this 'a literary record' and by strictly complying with that description eliminates complete autobiographical treatment. It is an account of what books a confirmed reader has read; what writers he first saw and knew; what his own writing beginnings were, and how he progressed from those to the present time. Many well-known men not seen again, not least, among them no longer living, Conrad, Arnold Bennett, and Maurice Hewlett. Present-day authors will be found too, and the book is probably unique in the number and variety of its illustrations, among them being many by Mr. George Morant at his most amusing.

Griffiths, 2017-05-15 From the Truth and Reconciliation Commission in South Africa to the United Nations Permanent Memorial to the Victims of Slavery and the Transatlantic Slave Trade many worthwhile processes of public memory have been enacted on the national and international levels But how do these extant practices of memory function to precipitate justice and recompense Are there moments when such techniques performances and displays of memory serve to obscure and elide aspects of the history of colonial governmentality This collection addresses these and other questions in essays that take up the varied legacies continuities modes of memorialization and poetics of remaking that attend colonial governmentality in spaces as varied as the Maghreb and the Solomon Islands Highlighting the continued injustices arising from a process whose aftermath is far from settled the contributors examine works by twentieth century authors representing Asia Africa North America Latin America Australia and Europe Imperial practices throughout the world have fomented a veritable culture of memory The essays in this volume show how the legacy of colonialism s attempt to transform the mode of life of colonized peoples has been central to the largely unequal phenomenon of globalization
