Readings in Precolonial Central Africa Théophile Obenga, 1995      Central Africa in the Caribbean Maureen Warner Lewis, Maureen Warner-Lewis, 2003 Maureen Warner Lewis's pioneering study analyses some of the main lineaments of the Central African cultural legacy in the Caribbean with fascinating transatlantic comparative data. She identifies Central African cultural forms in areas settled by the Kongo, Mbundu and Ovimbundu, the two present-day Congos and Angola, and illuminates Caribbean thought and customs through comparison with those cultures. Back cover      Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama. Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day, including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz, whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally, the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national, regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition, it includes substantial assessments of African, Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies      Encyclopedia of Blacks in European History and Culture Eric Martone, 2008-12-08 Blacks have played a significant part in European civilization since ancient times. This encyclopedia illuminates blacks in European history, literature and popular culture. It emphasizes the considerable scope of black influence in and contributions to European culture. The first blacks arrived in Europe as slaves and later as laborers and soldiers, and black immigrants today, along with others, are transforming Europe into multicultural states. This indispensable set expands our knowledge of blacks in Western civilization. More than 350 essay entries introduce students and other readers to the white European response to blacks in their countries, the black experiences and impact there, and the major interactions between Europe and Africa, the Caribbean and the United States that resulted in the settling of blacks in Europe. The range of information presented is impressive, with entries on noted European political, literary and cultural figures of black descent from ancient times to the present, major literary works that had a substantial impact on European perceptions of blacks, black holidays and festivals, the struggle for civil equality for blacks, the role and influence of blacks in contemporary European popular culture, black immigration to Europe, black European identity and much more. Offered as well are entries on organizations that contributed to the development of black political and social rights in Europe, representations of blacks in European art and cultural symbols, and European intellectual and scientific theories on blacks. Individual entries on Britain, Spain, Portugal, France, Italy, Germany, the Netherlands, Russia, Central Europe, Scandinavia and Eastern Europe include historical overviews of the presence and contributions of blacks and discussion of country's role in the African slave trade and abolition and its colonies in Africa and the Caribbean. Suggestions for further reading accompany each entry. A

Words and Songs of Bessie Smith, Billie Holiday, and Nina Simone Melanie E. Bratcher, 2007-11-21 This book explores the relationship between three African American women's dance art music sensibilities within the context of a Pan African aesthetic. Its purpose is three fold to show commonalities between Bessie Smith, Billie Holiday and Nina Simone's lives and original compositions to codify, examine and evaluate their selected song performances in accordance with the Pan African aesthetic. Nzuri theory model and to illuminate the vast sources of transformational values that aesthetic analysis of African American song performance can foster. Following concordant procedures and principles of Afrocentricity, the study focuses on Smith, Holiday and Simone's performances as part of a whole African artistic and cultural value system. The goal of the Afrocentric methodological structure is to locate relevant African dynamics in songs and to promote knowledge for cultural transformation and continuity. Its use in this study provides meta criteria for analyzing African American music which the author has used to uniquely argue connections between African cultural memory and African derived cultural expression.

Afrikology, Philosophy and Wholeness. An Epistemology W. Nabudere, 2011-04-11 How do we understand and create knowledge? Does scientific knowledge cover all knowledge? Afrikology tries to answer these questions by tracing the issue of epistemology to the Cradle of Humanity in Africa and through such a reflection, the Monograph establishes a basis for holistic and integrated ways of knowledge production that makes it possible to interface scientific knowledge with other forms of knowledge. In this way, Afrikology responds to the crisis created by the fragmentation of knowledge through existing academic disciplines. Afrikology therefore advances transdisciplinarity and hermeneutics to a level where they attain a coherent basis for interacting with Afrikology as an epistemology which returns wholeness to understanding and knowledge production.

Routledge Handbook of African Theatre and Performance Kene Igweonu, 2024-06-10 The Routledge Handbook of African Theatre and Performance brings together the very latest international research on the performing arts across the continent and the diaspora into one expansive and wide ranging collection. The book offers readers a compelling journey through the different ideas, people and practices that have shaped African theatre and performance from pre colonial and colonial times right through to the 20th and early 21st centuries. Resolutely Pan African and international in its coverage, the book draws on the expertise of a wide range of Africanist scholars and also showcases the voices of performers and theatre practitioners working on the cutting edge of African theatre and performance practice. Contributors aim to answer some of the big questions about the content, nature, form and context, processes, practice of theatre whilst also painting a pluralistic and complex picture of the diversity of cultural, political and artistic exigencies across the continent. Covering a broad range of themes including postcolonialism, transnationalism, interculturalism, Afropolitanism, development and the diaspora, the handbook concludes by projecting possible future directions for African theatre and performance as we continue to advance into the 21st century and beyond. This ground breaking new handbook will be essential reading for students and researchers studying theatre and performance.

Pre-Colonial Africa in Colonial African Narratives Donald R. Wehrs, 2016-04-08 In his study of the origins of political reflection in twentieth century African fiction Donald Wehrs examines a neglected but important body of African texts written in colonial English and French and indigenous Hausa and Yoruba languages He explores pioneering narrative representations of pre colonial African history and society in seven texts Casely Hayford's Ethiopia Unbound 1911 Alhaji Sir Abubaker Tafawa Balewa's Shaihu Umar 1934 Paul Hazoum's Doguicimi 1938 D O Fagunwa's Forest of a Thousand Daemons 1938 Amos Tutuola's The Palm Wine Drinkard 1952 and My Life in the Bush of Ghosts 1954 and Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart 1958 Wehrs highlights the role of pre colonial political economies and articulations of state power on colonial era considerations of ethical and political issues and is attentive to the gendered implications of texts and authorial choices By positioning Things Fall Apart as the culmination of a tradition rather than as its inaugural work he also reconfigures how we think of African fiction His book supplements recent work on the importance of indigenous contexts and discourses in situating colonial era narratives and will inspire fresh methodological strategies for studying the continent from a multiplicity of perspectives

Historical Dictionary of Pre-Colonial Africa, Robert O. Collins, 2001-07-17. This dictionary provides information about Africa before European colonial rule. It features details of African culture, history, rulers, migrations, wars, and contact between Africans and Arab, Asian, and European travelers. An introductory essay offers background information on Africa's past, and a chronology outlines the principal events of African history. An appendix traces the rise and fall of various African dynasties. Collins is an emeritus professor of history at the University of California, Santa Barbara. c. Book News Inc. Using RTI to Teach Literacy to Diverse Learners, K-8, Sheila Alber-Morgan, 2010-04-05. In a small volume, Sheila Alber Morgan addresses RTI in a much more comprehensive way than other texts. The book provides critical features of RTI across reading, writing, handwriting, and spelling, and is packed with practical information for each tier. Nancy L. Cooke, Associate Professor of Special Education, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, clearly and concisely articulates the theoretical and empirical bases of RTI, an important and worthy achievement. For the classroom teacher, her book provides numerous assessment and instructional strategies for turning the great promise of RTI into reality for students. William L. Heward, Professor Emeritus, The Ohio State University, Practical intervention strategies for diverse learners who struggle with literacy. Literacy is a critical foundational skill for success in school and throughout adulthood. Covering both reading and writing instruction, this book shows K-8 teachers how to build the literacy skills of diverse learners, including those with disabilities and those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds in inclusive classrooms. Sheila Alber Morgan discusses instruction and assessment within a Response to Intervention (RTI) framework and demonstrates how to provide targeted support to students struggling with literacy or those who may require special attention to achieve success. Providing specific interventions for tiers 1, 2, and 3, this book offers evidence-based practices such as guided note-taking, the use of response cards, peer-mediated instruction, self-monitoring, and direct instruction. Strategies for phonemic awareness, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension. Methods for teaching handwriting, spelling, keyboarding, and the writing process. A discussion on using thematic units to integrate reading and writing. With sample assessments, graphic organizers, and brief case studies of students, this timely volume assists teachers and literacy specialists in providing the support that diverse learners need to succeed.
