Clearinghouse Review ,1975

Nurturing Pillars of Society Francis Wing-lin Lee,2010-11-01 The younger generation those under the age of 25 account for more than a quarter of Hong Kong s population A much misunderstood group these people have special characteristics and needs and some are particularly vulnerable Substance abuse among young people is on the rise and juveniles make up a third of total arrests every year Extra effort and attention is required of policy makers educators and social workers to help this group make a positive contribution to society This book seeks to promote understanding of Hong Kong s younger generation and offers strategies for working with them and their families towards healthy and productive development Divided into three parts youth in general youth at risk and young offenders the book draws on international literature and empirical studies from within Hong Kong Its focus is on action always stressing the practical question of how to build a new model for working effectively with them This book will be essential reading for seasoned professionals as well as undergraduate students in criminology social policy and social work and postgraduates intending to practise in these areas Francis Wing lin Lee is an associate professor in the Department of Social Work and Social Administration in the University of Hong Kong The younger generation today has to face complex and diverse life challenges ranging from dysfunctional family systems unemployment hurdles of social mobility stressful school life and the bombardments of the new social media To help young people cope with these challenges they have to be given opportunities and choices for holistic growth and to acquire independent thinking and global vision This book provides thorough analysis and practical reference for youth workers that can enhance their understanding to work with our young people Christine Fang Chief Executive The Hong Kong Council of Social Service

Journal of Education for Social Work ,1977 MALE CRIME AND DEVIANCE Barri R.
