Reading as a Perceptual Process A. Kennedy, D. Heller, J. Pynte, Ralph Radach, 2000-08-04 This book is divided into five sections dealing with various fundamental issues in current research attention information processing and eye movement control the role of phonology in reading syntax and discourse processing and computational models and simulations Control and measurement of eye movements form a prominent theme in the book A full understanding of the where and when of eye movement control is a prerequisite of any complete theory of reading since it is precisely at this point that perceptual and cognitive processes interact Amongst the hot topics included are the relation between parafoveal and foveal visual processing of linguistic information the role of phonology in fluent reading and the emergence of statistical tuning approaches to sentence parsing Also discussed in the book are three attempts to develop quantitative models of reading which represent a significant departure in theory building and a quantum step in the maturation of reading research Much of the work reported in the book was first presented at the 5th European Workshop on Language Comprehension organised in April 1998 which was held at the CNRS Luminy Campus near Marseilles All contributions summarise the state of the art in the relevant areas of reading research

Reading Comprehension Strategies Danielle S. McNamara, 2007-05-24 First published in 2007 The focus of this book is on the cognitive processes involved in comprehension and moreover on techniques that help readers improve their ability to comprehend text and it is also on reading comprehension strategies Indeed the use of effective reading comprehension strategies is perhaps the most important means to helping readers improve comprehension and learning from text

Corporate Management of Diversified Companies - Information Demand and Information Processing Nicolas Rabener, 2005-08-18 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The ultimate management challenge is said to be the management of a conglomerate Diversified companies especially conglomerates are complex organisations that in the larger cases resemble full blown economies rather than firms They develop internal capital markets with billion dollar budgets enormous internal labour markets and often a decent amount of bureaucracy The International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation ITT owned more than 150 businesses in the 1960s ranging from electronics to insurance companies with operations across the globe The architect of ITT Harold Greener once acquired 20 unrelated business in a single month and was strongly convinced that sound management principles could be applied to any type of business He believed that information was key to good management During his reign earnings increased a 100 consecutive quarters and seemed to support this management belief In the late 1960s earnings did not increase any longer and the stock price lost significantly in value By the early 1980s the company was already heavily involved in deconglomeration and had divested more than a 100 businesses ITT was not the only diversified company in the 1980s that was on the search for focus The conglomerate strategy went out of fashion with investors due to poor performance associated with this strategy The result was a conglomerate discount of an average 15 percent on the stock market that persists until today Despite this investor aversion some companies continued the conglomerate path and managed to be highly successful at the same time General Electric has a broad product portfolio which contains electronics and insurance businesses too and is currently the most valuable company in the world in terms of market capitalisation Warren Buffet s Berkshire Hathaway Citigroup or Virgin are diversified as well and have created substantial value for their owners These and other successful diversifiers have mastered managing the diversified company Diversification has been studied in strategic management finance economics organisations theory and other subjects Each of these subjects views the duties of corporate management of a diversified company slightly different Combining the views yields an integrated approach for managing a diversified company First is the management of the corporate portfolio that includes a selection of businesses that are desired and a continuous

Motivating Reading Comprehension Allan Wigfield, 2004-05-20 Concept Oriented Reading Instruction CORI is a unique classroom tested model of reading instruction that breaks new ground by explicitly showing how content knowledge reading strategies and motivational support all merge in successful reading instruction A theoretical perspective engagement in reading frames the book and provides a backdrop for its linkage between hands on science activities and reading comprehension Currently funded by the Interagency Educational Research Initiative IERI this model has been extensively class tested and is receiving national attention that includes being featured on a PBS special on the teaching of reading Key features of this outstanding new volume include Theoretical Focus CORI s teaching framework revolves around the engagement perspective of reading how engaged reading develops and the classroom contexts and motivational supports that promote it Content Area Focus

Although science is the content area around which CORI has been developed its basic framework is applicable to other content areas Focus on Strategy Instruction CORI revolves around a specific set of reading strategies that the National Reading Panel 2000 found to be effective In some current CORI classrooms collaborating teachers implement all aspects of CORI and in other classrooms teachers implement just the strategy instruction component Illustrative Vignettes and Cases Throughout the book vignettes and mini case studies convey a situated view of instructional practices for reading comprehension and engagement A detailed case study of one teacher and of the reading progress of her students is featured in one chapter This book is appropriate for graduate and advanced undergraduate students in education and psychology for practicing teachers and for researchers in reading comprehension and motivation Handbook of Orthography and Literacy R. Malatesha Joshi,P.G. Aaron,2013-05-13 Until about two decades ago the study of writing systems and their relationship to literacy acquisition was sparse and generally modeled after studies of English language learners This situation is now changing As the worldwide demand for literacy continues to grow researchers from different countries with different language backgrounds have begun examining the connection between their writing systems and literacy acquisition This text which derives from a NATO sponsored conference on orthography and literacy brings together the research of 70 scholars from across the world the largest assemblage of such experts to date Their findings are grouped into three parts as follows Part I Literacy Acquisition in Different Writing Systems describes the relationship between orthography and literacy in twenty five orthographic systems This section serves as a handy reference source for understanding the orthographies of languages as diverse as Arabic Chinese English Icelandic Kannada and Kishwahili Part II Literacy Acquisition From a Cross Linguistic Perspective makes direct comparisons of literacy acquisition in English and other orthographic systems The overall conclusion that emerges from these eight chapters is that the depth of an orthographic system does influence literacy acquisition primarily by slowing down the acquisition of reading skills Even so studies show that dyslexic readers can be found across all orthographic systems whether shallow or deep which shows that dyslexia also has internal cognitive and biological components Part III Literacy Acquisition Instructional Perspectives explores literacy acquisition from developmental and instructional perspectives and ends with a look into the future of literacy research This Handbook is appropriate for scholars researchers and graduate students in such diverse fields as cognitive psychology psycholinguistics literacy education English as a second language and communication disorders PROFUNEDU 2019 Naufal Ishartono,Muhammad Syahriandi Adhantoro,Yasir Sidiq,Yunus Sulistyono,2019-08-06 The 4th Progressive and Fun Education The 4th Profunedu International Conference is a forum for researchers and lecturers within the ALPTK Muhammadiyah College to disseminate their best research results This conference aims to provide a platform for researchers and academics to share their research findings with others and meet lecturers and researchers from other institutions and to strengthen the collaboration and networking amongs the participants The 4th Profunedu was held on 6 8 August 2019 in Makassar
