Creating Africa in America Jacqueline Copeland-Carson,2012-03-13 With a booming economy that afforded numerous opportunities for immigrants throughout the 1990s the Twin Cities area has attracted people of African descent from throughout the United States and the world and is fast becoming a transnational metropolis Minnesota s largest urban area the region now also has the country s most diverse black population A closely drawn ethnography Creating Africa in America Translocal Identity in an Emerging World City seeks to understand and evaluate the process of identity formation in the context of globalization in a way that is also site specific Bringing to this study a rich and interesting professional history and expertise Jacqueline Copeland Carson focuses on a Minneapolis based nonprofit the Cultural Wellness Center which combines different ethnic approaches to bodily health and community well being as the basis for a shared translocal African culture The book explores how the body can become a surrogate locus for identity thus displacing territory as the key referent for organizing and experiencing African diasporan diversity Showing how alternatives are created to mainstream majority and Afrocentric approaches to identity she addresses the way that bridges can be built in the African diaspora among different African immigrant African American and other groups As this thoughtful and compassionate ethnographic study shows the fact that there is no simple and concrete way to define how one can be African in contemporary America reflects the tangled nature of cultural processes and social relations at large Copeland Carson demonstrates the cultural creativity and social dexterity of people living in an urban setting and suggests that anthropologists give more attention to the role of the nonprofit sector as a forum for creating community and identity throughout African diasporan history in the United States The Real Food Revolution Tim Ryan, 2015-10-13 We Americans love our food It s part of what has made this nation great Our fertile farmlands and the abundance and variety of our agricultural output are the envy of the world For most of our history we lived close to the land food was accessed locally and we processed it in our own kitchens But as our population and economy has boomed in the last century and we concentrated in cities we industrialized our food system with food coming far from home and processed multiple times As foods rich in natural taste declined we relied on high amounts of added sugar fat and salt to entice our palates And it has taken a toll our soil is polluted our practices are unsustainable and our health problems including everything from allergy related disease to obesity are on the rise This has all contributed to historic levels of heart disease stroke diabetes and other causes of preventable death The good news is that people are starting to find solutions They re voting with their pocketbooks for a new kind of food system family farm 21st century style Suburban and urban moms and dads want to know what s in their food and where it comes from No more snack packs Ding Dongs and soda for lunch This revolution is not only in how people eat but also in how they grow distribute shop for and prepare food And the food is better tasting better looking and better for you The Real Food Revolution by Congressman Tim Ryan is a manifesto for this new food movement In it readers will find information on The history and current state of our food systems Myriad negative impacts of our present food practices on our health and our planet Pros and cons of the current farm bill and what changes could help restore our nation What s happening both at the national and local levels How people can get involved with actionable steps at the end of each chapter This is a non partisan good news message that will inform inspire and help readers around the country get involved The era of the Twinkie and the hot dog stuffed crust pizza has been fun but now it s time for a change The Real Food Grocery Guide Maria Marlowe, 2017-06 The Real Food Grocery Guide provides actionable answers to the multitude of nutrition questions that arise during your trips to the grocery store and puts you on a path to a healthy diet and lifestyle Real Food, Healthy, Happy, Children Kath Megaw, 2015-08-01 In Real Food Healthy Happy Children Kath Megaw offers a research grounded yet easy to grasp guide on what to feed children at the different stages of their development A long term advocate of low carb eating her mission is to convert parents and children away from the processed nutrient poor foods that surround them in everyday life and to win them over to real natural food. Marrying practicality with warmth, science with common sense and the experience of a healthcare professional with the intuition of a mother, Kath's approach to how children should eat extends beyond the body-centred focus of nutrition. When meals incorporate taste, experiences, social interaction and emotional connections along with high nutritional impact, the result is altogether healthier, happier children.
