School Development, Teacher Training, and Digital Learning Contexts Hermann Astleitner, 2024 This book summarizes the results of a multimethod project on school development performed during the COVID 19 pandemic It combines innovative theoretical approaches and findings as well as long term online research activities in which student assessments delivered the bases for adaptive teacher trainings The theoretical foundations relate to sustainable conditions of classroom and school development an approach to personality development and a focus on instructional coherence Empirical findings concern the development of learning strategy use and classroom needs over time as well as a model for effective teacher education and related course evaluations A further research area concerns advanced perspectives from digital learning research such as the effects of social media in classrooms mixed and virtual learning materials computer based collaborative learning and innovative interventions in media research The book is aimed at researchers teacher trainers instructional designers and practitioners in the field of school development as well as teacher education

Robust Reality George Englebretsen, 2013-05-02 Contemporary analytic philosophy can generally be characterized by the following tendencies commitment to first order predicate logic as the only viable formal logic rejection of correspondence theories of truth a view of existence as something expressed by the existential quantifier a metaphysics that doesn't give the world as a whole its due This book seeks to offer an alternative analytic theory one that provides a unified account of what there is how we speak about it the underlying logic of our language how the truth of what we say is determined and the central role of the real world in all of this The result is a robust account of reality The inspiration for many of the ideas that constitute this overall theory comes from such sources as Aristotle Leibniz Ryle and Sommers

The Projected and Prophetic: Humanity in Cyberculture, Cyberspace, and Science Fiction Jordan J. Copeland, 2020-03-31 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2011 The papers collected in this volume document the exchange and development of ideas that comprised the 5th Global Conference on Visions of Humanity in Cyberculture Cyberspace and Science Fiction hosted at Mansfield College Oxford United Kingdom in July 2010 As in the past the conference was driven by questions related to how cyberculture cyberspace and science fiction can provide new insights into the nature of what it is to be human and the understanding of what it means for human beings to live in communities In addition to these recurring themes there is just as importantly a disposition that is shared by those participating in this volume The authors as well the writers thinkers and filmmakers they consider in their essays demonstrate an intrepid and inquisitive approach that tests age old questions within the rapidly expanding but still vaguely defined spaces that new technologies have afforded us Moreover in many ways the conference and present volume reflect their subject which has always been situated self consciously and comfortably between the receding boundaries that have traditionally served both to delineate various academic disciplines and to distinguish real scholarship from popular discourse Thus as evidenced in the chapters of this volume the conference benefited from the participation of delegates who represented a variety of fields methodologies and perspectives

Augmented Images Lars C. Grabbe,Patrick Rupert-Kruse,Norbert M. Schmitz,2022-09-07 Common boundaries between the physical reality and rising digital media technologies are fading The age of hyper reality becomes an age of hyper aesthetics Immersive media and image technologies like augmented reality enable a completely novel form of interaction and corporeal relation to and with the virtual image structures and the different screen technologies Augmented Images contributes to the wide range of the hyper aesthetic image discourse to connect the concept of dynamic augmented images with the approaches in modern media theory philosophy perceptual theory aesthetics computer graphics and art theory as well as the complex range of image science This volume monitors and discusses the relation of images and technological evolution in the context of augmented reality within the perspective of an autonomous image science

Experimental Design Douglas W. Cunningham,Christian Wallraven,2011-11-17 As computers proliferate and as the field of computer graphics matures it has become increasingly important for computer scientists to understand how users perceive and interpret computer graphics Experimental Design From User Studies to Psychophysics is an accessible introduction to psychological experiments and experimental design covering the major components in the design execution and analysis of perceptual studies The book begins with an introduction to the concepts central to designing and understanding experiments including developing a research question setting conditions and controls and balancing specificity with generality The book then explores in detail a number of types of experimental tasks free description rating scales forced choice specialized multiple choice and real world tasks as well as physiological studies It discusses the advantages and disadvantages of each type and provides examples of that type of experiment from the authors own work The book also covers stimulus related issues including popular stimulus resources It concludes with a thorough examination of statistical techniques for analyzing results including methods specific to individual tasks

Instructional Design with Emerging Technologies Heng Luo,2024-11-04 Bridging the gap between instructional design ID theory and practice in today s technology enhanced learning environments the book extends the current understanding of instructional science with an up to date perspective on emerging technologies and their affordances for teaching and learning Positioning ID as a systematic process informed by theoretical assumptions empirical evidence and pragmatic considerations this book provides an in depth description and reflective analysis of good practice in technology enhanced learning and design with a tripartite framework of pedagogy technology and evidence It covers well established ID theories and models with real life examples of their effective integration with technological innovations The book aims to advance the understanding of ID from both pedagogical and technological perspectives to improve educational practice and theory development in the information age The book will be of interest to students and academics in educational technology instructional science and instructional design as well as instructional designers and teachers
