Realization Anthropology Of Pastoral Care Liturgical Studies Liturgical Studies:

Realization Josef Goldbrunner, 1966 Realization means the actualization of faith a faith fully awakened and effective within man This is a meeting of seed and soil of God and human nature an encounter between the divine Person and the human person at the point where theology and anthropology touch each other The main emphasis of this book is therefore anthropological since this area is the primary concern of priests and educators whose task it is not only to sow the Word of God but also to prepare the soil for it And since the conditioning of the soil requires considerably more care than does the sowing of the seed our reflections the fruit of decades of striving to bring science and practical experience together are focused on a doctrine of the life of the human person The theory of this book should be of help in evaluating and intelligently articulating the manifold viewpoints of modern pastoral theology Foreword Liturgical Arts, 1966 Three Plays of Maureen Hunter Hunter, Maureen, 2003 Book is clean and tight No writing in text Like New A Theological Anthropology of Self-Realization Jennifer Slater O.P., 2012-07-31 The book addresses the intriguing problem of human self realization precisely because of the diverse uses of the term which ranges from abstract philosophical theological theories to practical psychological spiritual applications Jennifer Slater draws the concept from Karl Rahner the twentieth German theologian who uses the term self realization in his theology on freedom and symbolism relating it to the basic free choice which the human person makes to be for or against God Divine Jennifer Slater explores this fundamental free choice which is at the same time a basic choice about oneself She writes from the understanding that the human person is radically free to become the choices she or he makes and freedom is the capacity for definitive self realization In the book she shows that in the exercising of freedom humans precisely as historical beings are also transcendent beings Jennifer grapples with the perception that since human self realization involves the power to make decisions which in reality actualizes a persons own reality how then does this self realization come about and where does the Divine fit into the process If self realization is related to the human self and to the Divine Self she then questions what constitutes the self and self realization This struggle practically employs the woman in general and in particular the woman consecrated to a vowed life The pervasive question throughout is What constitutes the self realization of a human woman being Program Planning for Adult Christian Education James R.
