Body Dialectics in the Age of Goethe Marianne Henn, Holger Pausch, 2003 In opposition to an essentialist conceptualization the social construct of the human body in literature can be analyzed and described by means of effective methodologies that are based on Discourse Theory Theory of Cultural Transmission and Ecology System Theory and Media Theory In this perspective the body is perceived as a complex arrangement of substantiation substitution and omission depending on demands expectations and prohibitions of the dominant discourse network The term Body Dialectics stands for the attempt to decipher and for a moment freeze the web of such discursive arrangements that constitute the fictitious notion of the body in the framework of a specific historic environment here in the Age of Goethe previously unpublished letters which are reproduced here show Fritz Haber a Nobel prize winner spent his last lonely months seeking a dignified way to leave the country to which he had once felt the deepest attachment Although a prominent member of Germany's academic elite Julius Pokorny had to retire because of his Jewish ancestry in December 1935 and yet was allowed to continue publishing on ethnic themes until his exile in 1943 Albin Stuebs was forced to seek refuge in Prague and later England when his left wing political convictions made him a certain target for the Nazis Because of his marriage into a liberal Jewish family John Hennig had to renounce all hope of an academic career in Nazi Germany and after his exile to Ireland struggled in straitened circumstances to support his family while at the same time developing into an unusually prolific scholar Proof that exile may stimulate creative energy is provided by Josef Breitenbach whose remarkable biography appears to show that loss and uprootedness may release otherwise undeveloped creative potential Similarly the flight of Georg Kreisler from Vienna in 1938 was the start of a remarkable voyage of discovery which saw him grow into a major if consistently undervalued figure in the world of post war German cabaret

Ambiguous Subjects Jennifer Wawrzinek, 2008 In the history of ideas the aesthetic categories of the sublime and the grotesque have exerted a powerful force over the cultural imagination Ambiguous Subjects is one of the first studies to examine the relationship between these concepts Tracing the history of the sublime from the eighteenth century through Burke and Kant Wawrzinek illustrates the ways in which the sublime has traditionally been privileged as an inherently masculine and imperialist mode of experience that polices and abjects the grotesque to the margins of acceptable discourse and the way in which twentieth century reconfigurations of the sublime increasingly enable the productive situating of these concepts within a dialogic relation as a means of instating an ethical relation to others This book examines the articulations of both the sublime and the grotesque in three postmodern texts Looking at novels by Nicole Brossard and Morgan Yasbincek and the performance work of The Women s Circus Wawrzinek illuminates the ways in which these writers and performers restructure the spatial and temporal parameters of the sublime in order to allow various forms of highly contingent transcendence that always necessarily remain in relation to the grotesque body Ambiguous Subjects illustrates how the sublime and the grotesque can co exist in a manner where each depends on and is inflected through the other thus enabling a notion of individuality and of community as contingent but nevertheless very real moments in time Ambiguous Subjects is essential reading for anyone interested in aesthetics continental philosophy gender studies literary theory sociology and politics
