memoir about the reeducation camps by a Uyghur woman I have written what I lived The atrocious reality Gulbahar Haitiwaji to Paris Match Since 2017 more than one million Uyghurs have been deported from their homes in the Xinjiang region of China to reeducation camps The brutal repression of the Uyghurs a Turkish speaking Muslim ethnic group has been denounced as genocide and reported widely in media around the world The Xinjiang Papers revealed by the New York Times in 2019 expose the brutal repression of the Uyghur ethnicity by means of forced mass detention the biggest since the time of Mao Her name is Gulbahar Haitiwaji and she is the first Uyghur woman to write a memoir about the reeducation camps For three years Haitiwaji endured hundreds of hours of interrogations torture hunger police violence brainwashing forced sterilization freezing cold and nights under blinding neon light in her prison cell These camps are to China what the Gulags were to the USSR The Chinese government denies that they are concentration camps seeking to legitimize their existence in the name of the total fight against Islamic terrorism infiltration and separatism and calls them schools But none of this is true Gulbahar only escaped thanks to the relentless efforts of her daughter Her courageous memoir is a terrifying portrait of the atrocities she endured in the Chinese gulag and how the treatment of the Uyghurs at the hands of the Chinese government is just the latest example of their oppression of independent minorities within Chinese borders The Xinjiang region where the Uyghurs live is where the Chinese government wishes there to be a new silk route connecting Asia to Europe considered to be the most important political project of president Xi Jinping

Grand Central Winter Lee Stringer, 2011-01-04 A New York Times Notable Book Whether Lee Stringer is describing God's corner as he calls 42nd Street or his friend Suzy a hooker and past due tourist whose infant child he sometimes babysits whether he is recounting his experiences at Street News where he began hawking the newspaper for a living wage then wrote articles and served for a time as muckraking senior editor whether it is his adventures in New York's infamous Tombs jail or performing community service or sleeping in the tunnels below Grand Central Station by night and collecting cans by day this is a book rich with small acts of kindness humor and even heroism alongside the expected violence and desperation of life on the street There is always room Stringer writes amid the costume jewel glitter for one more diamond in the rough Two events rise over Grand Central Winter like sentinels Stringer s discovery of crack cocaine and his catching the writing bug Between these two very different yet oddly similar activities Lee s life unwound itself during the 1980s and took the shape of an odyssey an epic struggle to find meaning and happiness in arid times He eventually beat the first addiction with help from a treatment program The second addiction writing has hold of him still Among the many accomplishments of this book is that Stringer is able to convey something of the vitality and complexity of a down and out life The reader walks away from it humming its melody one that is more wise than despairing less about the shame we feel when confronted with a picture of those less fortunate and more about the joy we feel when we experience our shared humanity
