Reel Power Marsha Sinetar, 1993-01-01 The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching Mary Banks Gregerson, 2009-12-12 Cinema both reflects life and contours life that is its psychological power And for decades clinicians and educators have recognized the value of this power using it to respectively heal in therapy and educate in the classroom The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching mines the illustrative value of cinema offering therapists and life coaches access to ideas that can motivate and enlighten clients Although many movie guides exist this volume complements the available literature by adding positive psychology mental health and wellness perspectives to the clinical educational coaching mix The serious intent to cull from cinema its underlying psychological value has motivated noted clinicians life coaches and cultural critics to offer science based analysis and intervention strategies Readers may add their own movie insights and professional expertise to this rich foundation The volume covers international as well as domestic cinema in a variety of genres providing a range of film choices relevant to clients lives Beyond this it expands on universal concepts of strengths capabilities and coping methods Chapters in The Cinematic Mirror analyze how movies can create and relieve trauma challenge Hollywood's portrayal of the American family overview the use of movies to examine relationships in therapy explore the acclaimed Up television cinema verite series as studies in personal growth and social change reinterprets images of disability in terms of positive psychology examines models or the lack thereof for the American adolescent rite of passage traces the history of mental illness stereotypes in film The collective wisdom found in The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching will bring professionals involved in healing coaching counseling education and mentoring not only new applications but new appreciation for the transformative power of film That power already exists Readers just have to SEE it E-motion Picture Magic Birgit Wolz, 2005 Like no other medium before it the popular movie presents the potential of a new power for illuminating the depth of human experience E Motion Picture Magic employs that power as a tool to increase consciousness Cinema therapy offers more perspective on life prompting the viewer to step back from his or her problems in order to feel less insecure worried or discontented Using films for self improvement allows a shift in perspective when viewed with conscious awareness The use of movies for personal growth and healing carries forward a long standing connection between storytelling and self reflection that may date back to the beginnings of spoken language The movie experience used in very specific ways can have significant benefits for those who are willing to apply themselves using E Motion Picture Magic that can be both beneficial as well as enjoyable Film, Lacan and the Subject of Religion Steve Nolan, 2011-10-20 In their study of religion and film religious film analysts have tended to privilege religion Uniquely this study treats the two disciplines as genuine equals by regarding both liturgy and film as representational media Steve Nolan argues that in each case subjects identify with a represented other which joins them into a narrative where they become participants in an ideological reality Finding many current approaches to religious film analysis lacking Film Lacan and the Subject of Religion explores the film theory other writers ignore particularly that mix of psychoanalysis Marxism and semiotics often termed Screen theory that attempts to understand how cinematic representation shapes spectator identity Using translations and commentary on Lacan not originally available to Screen theorists Nolan returns to Lacan s contribution to psychoanalytic film theory and offers a sustained application to religious practice examining several priest films and real life case study to expose the way liturgical representation shapes religious identity Film Lacan and the Subject of Religion proposes an interpretive strategy by which religious film analysts can develop the kind of analysis that engages with and critiques both cultural and religious practice

The Feature Film Distribution Deal John W. Cones,1997 John W Cones whose real goal is to stimulate a long term film industry reform movement shows how the financial control of the film industry in the hands of the major studios and distributors actually translates into creative control of the industry Cones discusses the pros and cons of the debate relating to the industry's so called net profit problem and the way in which the distribution deal plays an integral part in that problem He then breaks down five major film finance distribution scenarios explaining various distribution deals and suggesting ways of negotiating distribution Critically examining the specific terms of the distribution deal itself Cones covers gross receipts exclusions distributor fees and distribution expenses He also investigates the various forms of interest issues of production costs matters of creative control and general contractual provisions For handy reference Cones includes an extensive checklist for negotiating any feature film distribution deal The list deals with distribution fees distribution expenses interest production costs creative control issues general contractual provisions distributor commitments and the limits of negotiating His nine appendixes present a Motion Picture Industry Overview Profit Participation Audit Firms ADI Top 50 Market Rankings an AFMA Member List 1992 1993 a Production Financing Distribution Agreement a Negative Pickup Distribution Agreement a Distribution Rights Acquisition Agreement a Distribution Agreement Rent a Distributor Deal and a Foreign Distribution Agreement Cones wrote this book for independent producers executive and associate producers and their representatives directors actors screenwriters members of talent guilds distributors and entertainment antitrust and securities attorneys Securities issuers and dealers investment bankers and money finders investors and financiers of every sort also will be interested In addition Cones suggests and hopes that the book will interest Congress their research staff government regulators at the Internal Revenue Service the Securities and Exchange Commission the Federal Trade Commission and law enforcement officials such as the Los Angeles District Attorney and the U S Justice Department

Patterns of Bias in Hollywood Movies John W. Cones, 2012 It's pretty broadly recognized that Hollywood movies contain patterns of bias but it's not just people of color or women who are hurt by this Many groups within America's multicultural society have complained over the years about negative and stereotypical portrayals of their own group members in motion pictures produced or released through the Hollywood based studios Yet as an expert on the U S film industry points out such complaints have had little impact on consistent patterns of bias in movies This book takes a broader look at the nature of negative and stereotypical movie portrayals and tracks patterns of such one sided depictions over a longer period time As a result the patterns of bias and the source the problem become more clear The problem appears to be that most of the people who have green light authority in the U S film industry for either the production and or distribution of a motion picture share a common ethnic religious cultural background Thus the stories of their cohort and those of all other ethnic religious and or cultural groups whose members seldom achieve positions of power Hollywood are being filtered through the cultural sensibilities of a single group John Cones suggests that the solution could lie in increasing diversity at the highest levels in the U S film industry This work grew out of the observed frustration of film industry critics who have pointed out examples of bias and stereotyping in specific movies over the years only to be rebuffed by the simplistic studio arguments that such films reflect the real world and that moviegoers vote with their pocket books It can be shown that there is a consistent pattern to the choices Hollywood studio executives make with respect to the movies produced and released and the specific content of those movies and it becomes obvious that Hollywood is selectively portraying reality Movie goers only have limited options among all of the possibilities that could be portrayed on the silver screen This book differs from other studies touching on bias in motion pictures Most such books focus on the treatment of a single ethnic religious cultural racial or other readily identifiable interest group but this study attempts to provide an overview and to identify patterns over time When the patterns of bias in motion picture content are sufficiently demonstrated and documented it becomes easier to identify the source of the bias and to explain why such bias exists

Across the Threshold, Into the Questions Caren Goldman, Ted Voorhees, 2008-10-01 Offers reflections on how the words of a first century Jew can offer meaning hope and wholeness to readers today Across the Threshold into the Questions includes new encounters with Jesus and his parables and teachings from the Gospel stories in Mark Matthew and Luke This volume continues to build the strong foundation needed for another volume that uses Goldman and William Dols method to explore the non canonical Gospel of Thomas
