Baltic Light Catherine Johnston, Helmut Borsch-Supan, Helmut R. Leppien, National Gallery of Canada, Kasper Monrad, 1999-01-01 During the first half of the nineteenth century Danish and German artists studying in Paris and Rome brought back the concept of plein air painting and began to paint out of doors on their native soil They introduced a whole new aesthetic that was sensitive to the light and atmospheric conditions peculiar to the north especially during the long summer days This beautiful book focuses on the painters and paintings of this period particularly Caspar David Friedrich who produced many fine works before he developed the romantic style for which he is better known The book presents topographical landscapes panoramas and some group and individual portraits that often include a window from which light emanates Essays by eminent authorities discuss various aspects of the Danish and North German open air movement They note for example that the paintings reflect a direct view of nature devoid of the intellectual and moral overtones of the neoclassical paintings that preceded them They also discuss the fact that Schleswig Holstein was closely allied with Denmark until 1848 and this favored many Hamburg and north German artists studying at the Academy in Copenhagen where painting out of doors was encouraged In addition to the essays the book presents 108 works by twenty three artists catalogue entries for each work and a biography of each artist to the general meaning and function of clothes in religion The garments of the Egyptian ascetics and monastics are important because they belong to a period of transition in the history of Christianity and very much represent this way of living This study combines a cognitive perspective on clothes with an attempt to grasp the embodied experiences of being clothed as well as viewing clothes as potential actors Using sources such as travelogues biographies letters contracts images and garments from monastic burials the role of clothes is brought into conversation with material religion more generally This unique study builds links between ancient and contemporary uses of religious clothing It will therefore be of interest to any scholar of religious studies religious history religion in antiquity and material religion      From Antiquities to Heritage

Anne Eriksen, 2014-05-01 Eighteenth century gentleman scholars collected antiquities Nineteenth century nation states built museums to preserve their historical monuments In the present world heritage is a global concern as well as an issue of identity politics What does it mean when runic stones or medieval churches are transformed from antiquities to monuments to heritage sites This book argues that the transformations concern more than words alone They reflect fundamental changes in the way we experience the past and the way historical objects are assigned meaning and value in the present This book presents a series of cases from Norwegian culture to explore how historical objects and sites have changed in meaning over time It contributes to the contemporary debates over collective memory and cultural heritage as well to our knowledge about early modern antiquarianism      Essays on Evolutions in the Study of Political Power Giulio M. Gallarotti, 2021-11-24 This book deals with the most important developments in the study of political power over the last four decades From the writings of the great Greek philosophers of antiquity to the present the idea of power has been the major subject in the study of politics Indeed some would say it defines the very field of politics itself as a social science Penned by the leading scholars in the field this collection gives a broad overview of the most important issues in the study of political power tracing the evolution of scholarly thinking about them and in doing so revealing crucial innovations therein This will be a major contribution in the understanding of the concepts and practices of how power manifests itself across social and political contexts This book will be of great interest to scholars students and individuals who wish to understand the very foundations of social and political life The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Political Power volume 14 issue 1 2021      Moving Out of Poverty Deepa Narayan, Lant Pritchett, Soumya Kapoor, 2009-03-25 No matter if I fall I get up again If I fall 5 000 times I will stand up another 5 000 times William a 37 year old from El Gorri n Colombia Why and how do some people move out of poverty and stay out while others remain trapped Most books on growth and poverty reduction are dominated by the perspectives of policy makers and academic experts In contrast Moving Out of Poverty Success from the Bottom Up presents the experiences of poor people who have made it out of poverty The book s findings draw from the Moving Out of Poverty research conducted in communities in 15 countries in Africa East Asia Latin America and South Asia The authors synthesize the results of qualitative and quantitative research based on discussions with over 60 000 people in rural areas They offer bottom up perspectives on the processes and local institutions that play key roles in escapes from poverty The study finds that there are no differences in the initiatives taken by the poor the rich and the upwardly mobile What then explains the difference in outcomes The authors demonstrate how in the face of deep social inequalities that block access to economic opportunities and local democracies individual initiative and empowerment by themselves are often not enough to escape poverty This book will be of interest to all concerned with equity in an increasingly unequal world
