Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1926

Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1996

Alfred North Whitehead writes in the opening chapter of Religion in the Making it is my purpose to consider the type of justification which is available for belief in doctrines of religion This is a question which in some new form challenges each generation it s the peculiarity of religion that humanity is always shifting its attitude towards it This classic text in American philosophy by one of its foremost figures offers a concise analysis of the various factors in human nature which go toward forming a religion It exhibits the inevitable transformation of religion with the transformation of knowledge and directs attention to the foundation of religion on our apprehension of those permanent elements by reason of which there is a stable order in the world permanent elements apart from which there could be no changing world

Secularism and Religion-Making Markus Dressler,Arvind Mandair,2011-10-03 This book conceives of religion making broadly as the multiple ways in which social and cultural phenomena are configured and reconfigured within the matrix of a world religion discourse that is historically and semantically rooted in particular Western and predominantly Christian experiences knowledges and institutions It investigates how religion is universalized and certain ideas social formations and practices rendered religious are thus integrated in and subordinated to very particular mostly liberal secular assumptions about the relationship between history politics and religion The individual contributions written by a new generation of scholars with decisively interdisciplinary approaches examine the processes of translation and globalization of historically specific concepts and practices of religion and its dialectical counterpart the secular into new contexts This volume contributes to the relatively new field of thought that aspires to unravel the thoroughly intertwined relationships between religion and secularism as modern concepts

Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity Roy A. Rappaport,1999-03-25 Roy Rappaport argues that religion is central to the continuing evolution of life although it has been been displaced from its original position of intellectual authority by the rise of modern science His book which could be construed as in some degree religious as well as about religion insists that religion can and must be reconciled with science Combining adaptive and cognitive approaches to the study of humankind he mounts a comprehensive analysis of religion s evolutionary significance seeing it as co extensive with the invention of language and hence of culture as we know it At the same time he assembles the fullest study yet of religion s main component ritual which constructs the conceptions which we take to be religious and has been central in the making of humanity s adaptation The text amounts to a manual for effective ritual illustrated by examples drawn from anthropology history philosophy comparative religion and elsewhere

Katz,2014-04-01 Paul R Katz has composed a fascinating account of the fate of Chinese religions during the modern era by assessing mutations of communal religious life innovative forms of religious publishing and the religious practices of modern Chinese elites traditionally considered models of secular modernity The author offers a rare look at the monumental changes that have affected modern Chinese religions from the first all out assault on them during the 1898 reforms to the eve of the Communist takeover of the mainland Tracing the ways in which the vast religious resources texts expertise symbolic capital material wealth etc that circulated throughout Chinese society during the late imperial period were reconfigured during this later era Katz sheds new light on modern Chinese religious life and the understudied nexus between religion and modern political culture Religion in China and Its Modern Fate will appeal to a broad audience of religionists and historians of modern China Mapping the Academic Debate Johannes Duschka,Christoph Kleine,Monika Wohlrab-Sahr,Florian Zemmin,2024-12-16 This volume maps the international academic debate on secularity It places seminal contributions from within Western academia alongside less well known texts from various parts of the world in several cases this is the first time that they have been translated into English The volume demonstrates that the academic debate on secularity was and is a global debate with contributions from many regions The collected texts relate to each other either directly or indirectly by referring to similar arguments whether reinforcing or criticising them and thus create a discourse When speaking of global secularity we therefore do not insinuate a uniform world secularity resulting from the alleged global diffusion of Western norms ideas and concepts It is rather a web of relations that is constituted via various different references These references are not evenly distributed the development in the West is often the point of reference to which positions from other regions relate to which they connect or from which they distance themselves But the references are not completely unidirectional We also present texts from Europe that underline the multidirectionality of the process even early on Thereby the volume offers the reader the material with which to trace these global exchanges and references

Asia and the Secular Pascal Bourdeaux,Eddy Dufourmont,André Laliberté,Rémy Madinier,2022-09-20 This volume looks at the secular state in the context of contemporary Asia and investigates whether there existed before modernity antecedents to the condition of secularity understood as the differentiation of the sphere of the religious from other spheres of social life The chapters presented in this book examine this issue in national contexts by looking at the historical formation of lexicons that defined the secular the secular state and secularism This approach requires paying attention to modern vernacular languages and their precedents in written traditions with often a very long tradition This book presents three interpretive frameworks multiple modernities variety of secularisms and typologies of post colonial secular states

Living with Religious Diversity Sonia Sikka,Bindu Puri,Lori G. Beaman,2015-08-11 Looking beyond exclusively state oriented solutions to the management of religious diversity this book explores ways of fostering respectful non violent and welcoming social relations among religious communities It examines the question of how to balance religious diversity individual rights and freedoms with a common national identity and moral consensus The essays discuss the interface between state and civil society in secular countries and look at case studies from the the West and India They study themes such as religious education religious diversity pluralism inter religious relations and exchanges dalits and religion and issues arising from the lived experience of religious diversity in various countries The volume asserts that if religious violence crosses borders so do ideas about how to live together peacefully theological reflection on pluralism and lived practices of friendship across the boundaries of religious identity groupings Bringing together interdisciplinary scholarship from across the world the book will interest scholars and students of philosophy religious studies political science sociology and history

Social Scientific Studies of Religion in China Fenggang Yang,Graeme Lang,2011-01-27 This book provides a sampling of recent field studies of religions in China along with theoretical reflections by sociologists anthropologists and religious studies scholars both inside and outside China on the revival of the social scientific study of religion in Chinese societies

Historicizing Secular-Religious Demarcations Monika Wohlrab-Sahr,Daniel Witte,Christoph

Kleine,2024-07-01 This volume aims to revitalize the exchange between sociological differentiation theory and the sociology of religion which previously held center stage among the sociological classics It brings together contributions from different disciplines as well as various forms of regional and historical expertise which are indispensable in forming a globally oriented sociological perspective today Secularization is understood as a process of boundary demarcation that is as the enactment of semantic practical and institutional distinctions between religion and other spheres of activity and knowledge These distinctions may emerge from within the religious field itself or may be absorbed into the field having originally emerged elsewhere They may even be directly imposed upon religion by external forces The volume is therefore based on the premise that societal differentiation and secularity as a specific expression of it is a widespread structural feature that nonetheless takes on various forms depending on its historical and cultural context In order to make this diversity visible the volume adopts a global comparative perspective and examines historical distinctions and differentiations in the West and beyond By examining different forms and modes of secularity in statu nascendi the volume contributes to developing a better understanding of the diversity of secularities even of those found in the present day in terms of their historicity and their specific path dependencies With this shift in perspective this special volume initiates a global and historical turn in the theory of differentiation as well as in the study of secularity
